

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

ANNALES OF SCOTLAND.

Some shorte Memories and Passages of Staite this yeire, 1650.

From the 1 of Jarrij: to the 5 day of Julij, in this same zeire.

In Jarrij: 1650, Johne, Earle of Craufurd and Lindesay, subscriued the band for the peace of the country.

In Februarij, this same zeire, the Lord Ogiluey gaue satisfaction to the Commissione of the Kirke, and subscriued ther papers.

Anna Ker, widow of Johne, Lord Balmerinoche,
2d sister to Robert, Earle of Somersett, Viscount Rochester, departed this lyffe at Leithe, 15 day of Februarij, 1650, and was solemnly interrid at Rastalrige by her husband.

Mr George Winrame of Libertone, one of the Senators of the Colledge of Justice, quho was sent to Jersey to the King, in Nouember, 1649, with letters from the Committee of Estaits, came home in a waighter, and arriued at Leithe one Saterday the second of Februarij this zeire, 1650; and brought with him ane letter direeted from his Ma^{tis} to the Committee of the Estaits of the Parliament of the kingdome of Scotland, and ane other to the Commissioners of the Generall Assembly of the churche of the said kingdome.

12 Febrij: 1650. After Libertons home coming, it was wotted in the Committee of Estaits, whether or no they should send commissioners to treat with the King (as he desyred in his letters) at Breda, in the Netherlands, the 15 of Marche, or not. Argyle and the Chanceler, with the grate pairt, was for sending of commissioners; Cassiles, Varriston, Suentone, younger, and some churchedmen, (quhom they had sent for to assist at that meitting) was against it. Bot at last, after much debait, by plurality of woyces it was carried, that commissioners shold be sent to treat with his Ma^{tis}.

This mounthe manney basse and eiuell rumors wer wanted abroad of the Lord Chanceler; amongst maney, ther was one anent a woman that had borne him a chylde, and was conwayed to the Englishe border, and was a missing, and thought to be killed. Some ministers went to him, to show him of thesse foule aspertions wich wer wented off him ; he mentained his auen innocency, and shew them that thesse wer bot calumnies forged by his enimies, and some others that affected independencey, to make him vngratioust to the churche and people ; bot God wold in his auen tyme cleire his innocency, and discouer ther malice.

In Febrif: one Mr Johne Lawsone wes sentenced by the Lordes of Sessione to haue hes toung perced with a bodkin by the hangman, at the tron of Edinburghe, for periurey and falsett ; and hes 2 associates had ther eares nailed to the trone that same day, for bearing falls wittnes ; wich, conforme to the sentence, wes put to executione.

In this same monthe of Febrif: 25 day, wther 3 persons for bearing falls wittnes, wer lykwayes sentenced by the Lordes of Session to haue ther eares nailed to the trone of Edinburghe by the hangman, ther dittay being wrettin one a shedule one ther faces, and they thereafter to be banished the kingdome for euer ; to wich, if euer heirafter they returned, and wer apprehendit, they shuld be hanged ; wich sentence was accordinglie put to executione.

The commissioners had a warrand with them, under the grate seall of Scotland, to borrow 3 hunder-eth thousand pound, to give the King, if so it wer he and they accorded; wtherwayes to give him no money at all.

Acte authorising the former Committee of Estates, and adding some thereto till the nixt sessione of parliament.

Acte declaring this parliament to be current, and adiorning the housse wntill the 15 day of Maij, in this instant zeire of God 1650.

Robert Ker, Earle of Roxbrughe, Lord Ker of Cesfurd, Lord Priuey Seall, quho departed this lyffe in Januarij, 18 day, 1650, at his house of the Flowris, neir Kelso, was solemnly interrid at Boudoun churche, the 20 of Marche this same zeire. He left no heires mailes to succeid him, bot entailed his estait one Sr William Drumond, 3d sone to Johne, Earle of Perth, and grand chylde to him by his eldest daughter, one conditione he should for euer carey the name and armes of Ker, and marey the eldest daughter of hes sone, the wnquhyle Lord Ker, &c.

10 Martij, being Sunday, 1650, Anna Halybrunton, Countesse of Ethay, eldest daughter to Sr James Halybrunton of Pitcurr, Knight, departed this lyffe at Ethay. She was first married to the Laird of Dun, Erakin, and by him had no heires mailes; and after his death shoe maried Johne, Earle of Ethay, and had sonnes and daughters.

In Appryle this zeire, 1650, the rebels from Orknay invadit Cathnes, and spoyled both it and Sutherland; they wer commandit by - - -. L. G. Dauid Lesley marched aganist them with 4000 horsse and footte; his randewous wes one Brechin Moore, the 25 day of the mounthe of Appryle, 1650.

26 of Appryle, this zeire, James Maxswoll, 1. Earle of Dirilton, departed this lyffe at Holyrudhousse.

The 27 of Appryle, this zeire, ther was a grate earthquake, all alonges from the head to the footte of the riuier Tueed; and in no place of this kingdome elsquhere felt, bot in thesse places neir adioyning to the said riuier.

27 of Appryle, 1650. Leuetenant Generall Ley hauing appoynted a randeszwouse of his forces at Brechin, 25 of Appryle, did make all possible haist aganist the enimy, marching 30 myles eurey day: and to put a stope to the enimies aduance, he sent Leuetenant Colonell Strauchan befor him, to command the troupes that wer laying about Rosse and Inernesse. Vpone Saterday, the 27 of Appryle, the enimy was quartered at Strathekell, in Rosse; L. Colonell Strachan, with hes auen troupe, Colonell Montgomerie, Colonell Kers, L. Colonell Hacketts, and the Irishe troupe, wer quartered about Kincardine. Ther number that were present being onlie about 230, the officers being conweined, and haueing considered the grāte scarsity of prowisions for horsse, and that it was werey probable, the enemis strenth being in footte, they wold take the hills vpone the aduance of more of our horsses; they concludit to feight that wicked crew with the force they had: bot the Lordes day approaching, and the enimey being 10 myles distant, they doubted wither to marche towardes them presently, or to delay wntill Monday, and so declyne the hazard of ingageing vpone the Lordes day; bot this doubt wes soune remowed, for notice was presently brought that the enimey was marched from Strachekell to Corbisdale, sex myles neirer wnto them, whervpone they fourth-with drew vpe in 3 pairties, the 1 consisting of neire a 100 horsse, to [be] led one by L. Colonell Straquhan; the 2d some more then 80, to be led one by L. Colonell Hackett; and the 3d about 40, to be led one by Capitane Hutcheson; and 36 musqueteires of Lawers regiment, (wich wer occassionaly vpone the place) to be led one by Quarter-master Shaw. After prayers, said by ther minister, they marched about 3 a clocke in the afternoone towardes the enimey, quho wer drawn vpe in a place neire a hill of Scrogie Wood, to wiche, vpone the aduance of our horsses, they quickly reteired; yet L. Colonell Strachan persewed them into the woode, and at the first charge, made them all to rune,

The Lord did stricke suche a terror into ther heartes, as ther most resolute commanders had not the courage to lifte a hand to defend themselues, and our forces, without oppositione, did executione one them for 5 or 6 myles, euen wntill sunne sett.

Ther wer killed 10 of ther best commanders, most of ther officers takin, and 386 comon souldiers. The nomber of the quhole (as the prisoners did informe) was not aboue 1200, of all wich ther did not escape one 100, bot wer ather takin prisoners, kill-ed, or drowned in a riuver that was neir the place. The cheiffe standard, called the Kinges, and four others, wer takin; the traitor, James Grhame, fled, bot was afterwards takin by the Laird of Assins people; his horsse was takin; his coate, with the stare and suord belt, wer found in the feild. L. Col: Strachan received a shotte vpon his belley, bot lighting vpone the double of his belte and buffe coate, did not pierce. One of our troopers haist-ing too forwardly after a boate, wich carried 2 or 3 of the enimey ouer the riuver, was drowned, and 2 wer woundit; and this was all the losse Straquhan and hes followers had. It is to be remembred, that Cap: William Rosse, and Cap: Johne Rosse, came vpe to the executione with 80 footte, chosen out off the countrey forces, and did good seruice.

Mr Robert Douglas preached.

The housse elects tuo committees this day, one for dispatches, the other for prisoners.

Thursday, 16 day. Sessio 1.

Papers from our conamissioners from Breda, in the Netherlands, read in the housse.

Neu instructions sent to them, with the parliaments exposition of the commissioners invitation of the King to come to Scotland, drauin, read and wotted.

Friday, 17 Maij. Sessio 1.

Acte ordaining James Grhame to be brought from the Watter Gate one a cairte, beare headit, the hangman in his liuerey, couered, ryding one the horsse that drawes the carte, (the prisoner to be bound to the carte with a rope,) to the tolbuith of Edinbrughe, and from thence to be brought to the parliament housse, and ther, in the place of delinquents, one his knees to receaue his sentence, viz. to be hanged one a gibbet at the crosse of Edinbrughe, with his booke and declaracione tay-ed in a rope aboue his necke, and ther to hing for the space of 3 houres, wntill he wer dead; and therafter to be cutt doune by the hangman; his head, hands and leges to be cutt offe, and destribute as followes, viz. his head to be affixed one an iron pine, and sett one the pinnackell one the west ga-nuell of the new prissone of Edinbrughe; one hand to be sett one the porte of Perth; the other one the porte of Stirling; one lyge and footte one the porte of Aberdeine; the other one the port of Glasgew. If he was at his deathe penitent, and relaxit from excomunication, then the truncke of his bodey to be interrid by pioners in the Gray Friars; wther-wayes to be interrid in the Borrowmure, by the hangmans men, wnder the gallowes.

Saterday, 18 Maij. Sessio 1.

Saterday, 18 of Maij, James Grhame entred Edin-brughe, according to the ordinance of parl: of the 17 of Maij, with 23 prisoners, all commanders, and Sr Johne Harvey, his Generall Maior, and wer all of them committed prisoners to the tolbuith of Edin-brughe.

The housse mett this same day, lykwayes, by aine especiall ordinance, at 6 a clocke at night, and sent Robert, Lord Burlie, Sr Ja: Hope of Hoptone, George Porterfeld of Glasgow, Mr James Durhame and Mr Ja: Hamilton, ministers, to James Grhame, to aske at him if he had aney thing to say; and to shew him, that he was to repaire to the housse to receaue his sentence. They wssed some interrogatotors to him, and brought his ansuers in wreath.

The housse delayes the execution of James Grhams sentence till Monday, at 10 houres, the 20 day. The housse ordaines the Lord Burlie, Sr James Hope, George Porterfeild, Sr Archbald Johnston, Clercke Register, Sr Thomas Nicolsone, K^t Aduocat, and Sr James Steuart, Prouest of Edinbrughe, to examine James Grhame one some poynts anent Ducke Hamilton, and others; and becaus he was desyrous to wnderstand of them formerlie, how it stood betuix the King and them, the parl: ordained them to shew him the truth, that ther commissioners and the Kings Maiestie wer aggreid, and that his Mat^e was coming heire to this countrie.

Acte anent excluding diuers persons from entring within the kingdome, from bezond seas, with his Maiestie, wntill they giue satisfacione to the churche and stait, wotted and past—viz.

Ducke Hamilton,	Lord Naper,
E. Launderdaill,	Sr Robert Dalzell,
E. Seaforte,	Sr Ja: Locarte,
E. Callendar,	La: of Empsfeild,
E. of Forth,	Tho: Dalzell of Binns,
E. of Drumfreis,	Sr George Monro,
Lord St Claire,	Colonell Jo: Cochrane, &c.

Monday, 20 Maij. Sess: 2.

The parl: mett about 10 a clocke, and immediatly after the doune sitting, James Grhame wes brought befor them, by the magistratts of Ed', and ascendit the place of delinquents; and after the Lord Chanceler had spokin to him, and in a large discoursse declared the progresse of all his rebellions; he shew him that the housse gaue him liue to speake for himselfe, wiche he did, in a long discoursse, with all reverence to the parliament, (as he said). Since the King and ther commissioners wer accordit, he pleaded his auen innocencey, by calling all his auen depredations, murthers and bloodshed, only diuersione of the Scotts natione from interrupting the coursse of his Maiesties affaires in England; and as for his last invasione from Orknay, from wiche (said he) he moued not one footte, bot by his Maties especiall direction and command; that, he called an acceleratting of the tretty betuix his Maiesty and this natione. To him the Lord Chanceler replayed, punctually prouing him, by his acts of hostility, to be a persone most infamous, periured, treacherous, and of all that euer this land brought fourth, the most creuell and inhumane butcher and murtherer of his natione, a suorne enimy to the couenant and peace of his countrey, and one quhosse boundlesse pryme and ambition had lost the father, and by his wicked counsells done quhat in him lay to distroy

the sone lykwayes. He made no replay; but was commandit to sitt doune one his knees, and receaue his sentence, wiche he did; Arch: Johnston, the Clerck Register, read it, and the Dempster gaue the doume; and immediatly arrising from off his knees, without speaking one word, he was remoued thense to the prisson. He behaued himselue all this tyme in the housse, with a grate deall of courage and modestie, vnmoued and vndanted, as appeired, only he sighed too seuerall tymes, and roulled his eyses alonges all the corners of the housse; and at the reiding of the sentence he lift vpe his face, without aney word speaking.

He presented himselue in a sutte of blacke clothe, and a scarlet coate to his knee, trimmed with siluer galouns, lined with crimpson tafta; one his head a beuer hate and siluer band; he looked somequhat pale, lancke faced and harrey.

Sess: 2da. Huius dies.

A letter wrettin in Latin from the Queine of Suedin, segned Cristina, directed to the Estaits of the Kingdome of Scotland, magnificis, nobilibus, generosis, et famatis Regni et Parliamenti, Regni Sootiae ordinibus, &c., shewing that shoe had receaued ther letter, anent ther desyre to hir to be ane intercessor betuix them and ther King, for wiche shoe randred them most hearty thankes; and shew them that shoe wold contribut her best endewors for that end, and that shoe had commandit hir ambassador, Laurentius - - - -, to attend the trety of Breda, and be assistant ther for that effecte; shoe said lykwayes, that shoe much reioyced with them, that they had protested aganist the bloody and trecherous murthering of their lait King, by that infamous and vilianous partiey of Engliahe rebels, sectaries, and regicids; as lykways, that they had, lyke a louing and honored natione, proclaimed his sone and heire, King; quhosse trety with them, shoe becheied the Lord of all peace to prosper and blisse.

Noblemen present in the housse this day:

Lord Chancelor, President;

Marques of Argyle,	Lord Torphichin,
E. of Eglintone,	Lord Balmerino,
E. of Roxbrughe,	Lord Burlie,
E. of Buckcleuch,	Lord Forrester,
E. of Tuedale,	Lord Balcarras.

Tuo letters from France wer also read in the housse this afternoone.

One from the young King, seigned Lewis, and the [other] from the Queine Regent, his mother, seigned Anna, in French, directed to the parliament and estaits of Scotland, in anssuer to thers in fauors of Sr Robert Murray; bothe did promisse for ther respecte and ther loue to the Scotts natione, that they wold see ther desyre performed, so far as possibly the conueniency of ther affaires could permitt;

and that he shold be payed of his artair; and as for the Scottis gaards, ther [was] nothing could be done for the present, during the lesse age and minority of his darrest sonne, the King.

The house, this afternoone, dispatched Arthur Erskynae of Scottesvraige, to the northe, with instructions to attend the Kings landing; and with him Mr James Dalrumpill, the Commissioners Secretary, with letters to them.

The house, this afternoone, appoints two committees:

1. For Witches;
2. For examining of prisoners.

One Eduard Gillespie, a merchant, is lykwayes sent to Holland, with letters and instructions to our commissioners, if so be they wer not parted from thence.

Tuesday, 21 Maij. Sess: 1.

This day the 281 wronen scoulders taken at Kerbester, that wer in the Canongait prisson, the house ordaines 40 of them, being forced from Orkney, and hauninge Wyffe and children, to be dismissed. The house gives 6 of them, being fishers, to the Lieutenant Generall; also wher 6 fishers of them given by the Parliament to the Marques of Argyle; and 6 of them, being zouting lastie fellowes, given to Sr James Hope, to his lead minnes. The remenant of them the house gives to the Lord Angus and Sr Robert Murray, to recreut ther Freache regiments with,

to be transpored out of the countrey to France.

Robert Grhame and one Grime, seruant to Sr
Johne Hendersone, both prisoners, also reserved
by the housse to be examined and punisht. Scott-craiges instructions read, wotted and past. He was to goe to Aberdeine, and ther to attend the Kings Maiestie, and prwyde for his accommadatione in thesse places.

The housse ordaines that his Maiestie should come from Aberdeine to Dunotter; from thence to Kynaird, the Earle of Southeskies housse; thence to Dundie; from it to St. Andrewes; and then to his auen housse at Falkland.

The housse ordaines the Commissioners of the Exchequer to deliver to Johne Rason, quho is to attend Scottscraigie, 250 lib. sterlinc, for defraying his Maiesties and his auen incident charges.

This afternoone, James Grhame was execuitt, conforme to the sentence of parliament, at 3 a clocke.

His last speich on the scaffold, at Edinbrughe crosse, 21 May, 1650.

I shold be sorie that this shold be a scandall to aney good Christian. It happins to the righteous according to the wayes of the wicked, and to the wicked according to the wayes of the righteous.
They that know me shold not condeme me for this;
maney grater then I haue beine delt with in this

Kynd; zet I must say that all Gods judgements are just, for my priuat sines. I acknouledge this to be just with God, and I submitt myselue to him; zet in regaird of man, I may say I am just. I blame no man, I complaine one no man for this judgement; I take it from the hand of God; they are bot instruments, I forgine them; God forgiue them. But to exonerat myselue, that I giue no scandell to the people of God, all that I did was the just commands of my King in his distresse; I know nothing bot to feare God and honer the King, according to the law of nature and nations. I hauē not sinned against men, bot against the Lord; and with him ther is mercey; and this is my ground of drawing neir him. I pray God this be not for farder judgement one this land; bot I will not enter on Gods secretts. That wch cheifflie can be said against me is amongst the Lordes people; that I am wnder the censure of the churche, it is not my fault, seing I bot obeyed my lawfull prince. Zet I am sorie that they excommunicatied me, and in that wch is according to Gods law, I desyre to be relaxit; and if they will not, according to my conscience, I appeale to God, quho is a righteous judge, that must be my judge. There is one thing much spokin aganist, that I lay all the blame one the King; God forbid! As for the lait King, he liued a saint, and deyed a martyre; I pray God I may end so: and if euer I wold wishe my soule in ane other mans soules steed, it is in his. And for this King, according to his zeires and capacity, wch is guid, no people might be happier then wnder him. All his commands to me wer most just; in nothing that he promisses will he faile; he dealles justlie with all. Thesse testimonies haue I giuen to the last King, and to this King; and I am faithfull to the lait Kings memorie, and to this Kings persohe; and all trew people that feare God are of my oppiniione.' It is not obdurdnes of heart that is in me, bot the light of my soule and conscience, and Gods spirit in me. I thank God I goe not to Heavens throne ingnorantly, though I haue not much knowledge; I desyre not to be presumptous; God suffers me not to fearre the terors of death. I haue that conscience and reasson in that measure that he giueth it me, therfor I goe with courage to death; and quhat-euer be my end, lett God be glorified, though it wer to my damnation. I say not this out of weekness and feare, bot out of my deutie to God, and loue to this people; ffor looking one you, I cannot bot morne; therefor I can say no more, bot remitts myselue to your charity, and I desyre your prayers. You that are scandalized at me, give me your charity; I shall pray for you all: I leauue my soule to God, my seruice to my prince, my good will to my frindes, and my name in charity to you all. I might say more, bot I have exonered mv conscience; the rest I leauue

to Gods mercey. Being desyred to pray, he said I haue alredey poured fourth my soule befor the Lord, quho knowes my harte; in his hands I haue committed my spirit. If you will not joyne with me in my prayer, then my being in priuat, will be a scandell to me and you bothe.

Cap: Johne Spotswoods Petitione to the Estates of Parl: before the pronouncing of his sentence, read:—

My Lordes,

My genious and educatione haue altogider made me a stranger to the lawes, especially of this kingdome, so that my ignorance may seime to haue involued me in other mens gyktines. Before I knew weill quhat was ther offence, and befor I had ather the leassur or discretione to haue second thoughts, I was so far ingaged, that a retrait grew almost als impossible as dangerous. Error is a labyrinth out of which eurey one hes not a thrid to lead him; zet it was not so much my reasone as my fortouns that ley intangled in thesse, snares. I could easaily fred that, had the other beine bot a litle more propitious vnto me. I saw my ruine, bot could not preuent it; I saw myselue and some other vnfortunat gentlemen made bot the bridges to passe ouer, and others ambitious deseinges, nor could wee (altho sensible aneuch both of the danger and disgrace) free ourselves for the tyme of that slaurie. I speike nather to flatter nor to meritte, since all thosse excusses comes now bot too lait; and I take God to wittnes, that wee wer not only weyrie of that seruice, bot wer to leaue it, so sounē as opportunitie could serue for our saue retrait. I was neuer ane enimey to my countrey, of sett nor purposed malice; only I haue takin vpe some oppinion vpone trust, I intressed myselue in thesse vnhappy diuisions wich fell ont betuix the King and parliament, befor the balance had inclyned to tell one quhos syde the right was; afterwards a vanitie, wich faine wold vsurpe the name of wertew, made me constantly adherre to that caus, quhilk had still the worsse. Bot quhosso oxe or quhois asse haue I takin? quhat one drope of bloode haue I spilt in the quarrell? If I haue then lett al myne be poured out for ane expiatione. As for that bussines of Philiphauche, and my escape, the capitulatione, the benefite quherof cannot be denayed me, bringes me offe. Quhay should ze seike waight te depresse one sunke low aneuche alredy in miserey? For thesse lait crymes quherof ze accusse me, I will say nothing bot this, If aney haue driuen one ther auen ends with the effusion of so muche blood, and trouing away of so maney poore soulis, they must giue me leue to say, it is rather a Matchiuilian then Christian politie. For my pairt, if that blocke quheron I may chance to lay doone my head, can make ane stepe to aduance this King to his fathers throne, lett him with my blissing tread vpon it. And now, my Lordes, I come to you, not so muche to plead for a despicable lyffe, as to tell you it will be no greate prope to the stait to haue bulded vpone our ruines. Ther wer neuer suche a companey of bedlames driuin vnto ane poyndfauld as wee. You had better give us helebor then hemlocke to drinke. Ther may be a litle honestie, bot bett ws in a mortar, you shall not find a dram of right vnderstanding, of poore, nay, of comon sence, amongst ws all. I wounder ze make ws not rather your sporte, your recreacione, then your bussiness. Thinke you that wee all could make ane attoinment for the sianes of this people? or that the destroying angell will passe by, quhen he sees our blood sprinkled vpon the posts of your doores? I am affrayed that that zeall wich wold seime to purge it, shall bring a grater guiltines vpon the land. God, (in quhois place ze now sitt) of all his attributts, delights most in his mercey towards the sinns of men; doe you so, and I am assurid it shall neuer repent you quhen our dusts are blendit togider, quhen my wormes shall be als grate and als happy as yours. The conforte, and the reuard of this, shall remaine with you. God of his mercey disposse your hartes to this mercey, or me to a constancy and patience in my suffring.

Jo: SPOTSWOOD.

periall croune of Brittane, with this motto, in gold letters, “ Nemo me impune lasset;” and one the other syde, as that of the Colonells.

For the Maiors standard, azure, a salteur, arg:
wiche is the badge of Scotland; with this motto, in gold letters wndernethe, "Pro Religione, Rege et Patria;" and one the other syde, as that of the Colonells.

For the standards of the other troupes of the regiment keeping the feild, blew, they may adorne the same with quhat impresse, rebus ore dewisse they best please, so that they tend to the defence of conuenant, religione, King and countrey.

Colonell,

Alex : Earle of Eglintone.

L. Colonell,

Ja : Levingstone, Vis : of Neubrughe.

Maior,

Lykwayes, this same 22 of Julij, at his Mat^{ies} command, I ordered thesse following deuices to be putt wpon the ensigns and colors of his Mat^{ies} footte regiment of his Lyffe Gaurdes.

For the Colonell, in the midle of a blew feild, his Maiesies coate of armes, viz. Scotland, England, France and Irland, quartered, without aney croune ouer them, in the midle of the enseinge ; and one the other syde of them, in grate gold letters, thesse wordes, "Conenant; for Religione, King and Kingdome."

L. Colonell, azure, ane vnicorne, arg.; the wther syde as of the first.

Maior, azure, in the midle a lyone rampant, or; the wther syde as of the first.

First Capitane, 3 floure de lices in a azure feild.

Second Capitane, or, a lyone rampant, guelettes, in the middle of ane azure enseinge.

Third Capitane, azure, 3 lioncells gradient, or.

Fourte Capitane, azure, a harpe, or, fringed, arg.

All the 4 Enseinges must haue one the other syde the wordes of the acte of parliament, in grate gold letters, "Couenant; for Religione, King and Kingdomes."

Archbald, Lord Lorne, eldest sone to the Marquesse of Argyle, Colonell.

His Maiestie came from Stirling the 29 of Julij, at the instigatione of the Earle of Eglintone, to the armey. His coming bred muche ioy to the souldiery, and courage, bot grate confusion and neglecte of deutie in the campe; the King lodged in the Lord Balmerinoches housse in Leithe.

His Maiestie stayed at Leith wntill Fryday the 3d of Aguste, 1650, and then, sore against his auen mynd, he wes moued by his counsell and the generall persons of the armey, to reteire himselfe to Dumfermlinge.

The toun of Edinbrughe gaue his Maiestie a banquett after he returned from the castle, in the vpper chequer housse, one Friday, 2d of Aguste; he stayed not ther aboue 2 hours.

The last of Julij, Sr James Hackett receavid a grate fryte at a skirmishe with the epimey; he should haue secondit the L. Generall, bot turnid and never lowsid a pistoll aganist the enimy, bot-tooke him to the speed of his horsse heiles.

The Earle of W. beinng commandit the nixt day in the morning to marche out one a partey, said he could not goe one vpone service wntill he had his brackefaste. The brackefaste was delayed aboue 4 houres in getting, wntill the L. Generall being priuily adwertissed by a secrett frind, that my Lord was peaceably myndit that morning, sent him exprease orders not to marche, to sauе his reputacione.
One this, the gallants of the armey raissed a pro-uerbe, "That they wold not goe out one a partey wntill they gate ther breackefaste."

One Wednesday, 31 of Julij, Gen: Maior Rob:
Montgomery, and Colonell Straquhane, led out a pairtey, against the enimy, of 2000 horsse and 500
foote, and beat him soundlie; and if he had had 1000 more, they had routted his quhole armey.
They killed to him 5 Colonells and L. Colomells;
mortly woundit L. Gen: Lambert, and aboue 500
souldiers, and returned with no grate losse.

One Monday the 29. of Julij, Cromwell, with all his armey, assaulted our trenches neir the Quarrell holles, bot wes valliantly beat offe and repulsed, and 2 of his canon takin; and hes footte partey routted
by Lawers regiment, quho doublett alone, mounted the hill at St. Leonards chapell, and dange them from ther canon, wich they had planted ther to shotte one our trenches at the Quarrell holles. The Englishe flange ther armes from them, and betooke them to ther heiles, wntill a brigad of horsse aduanced, and reganed their canon; bot with grate losse of men and horse, quhom Lawers men from the hedges and rockes played wncessantly with ther musketts.

Cromwell being soundly beattin one Vedeniday by our men, reteired backe to Muchellbrughe, Prestone and Inereske one Thursday, and ther begane to iintrinche himselfe; he made stables of all the churches for hes horsses quhersoeuer he came, and burned all the seatts and pewes in them; rifled the ministers housses, and distrayed ther cornes.

Cromwell sent a trumpte, on Thursday the 1 of Aguste, to L. Generall Lesley, with a liste of suche prisoners of ours as he had takin since his inwading the countrey, wiche amounted to the nomber of 80, and desyred that he might haue them exchanged.

The L. Generall, with the adwyssse of the Committee, did returne the blasphemer this ansauer, that he had giuen strict order and command to all the countrey, not to take or moleste aney of his horsse ore footte souldiers in ther peceable retrait home to ther auen countrey, bot to intertwane them kyndly, and assure them a saffe passage to ther homes.

3d of Aguste, Sr James Hackett and Colonell

Scotte, cleird by the committee, zet that did little salue ther honor amongst honest men and souldiours of worthe and reputacione.

The Committee of Parliament for purging the armeys, did meitt this 2, 3 and 5 dayes of Agust; they acted nothing against the enimy, bot purged out of the armey aboue 80 commanders. The ministers in all places preached incessantly for this purging, shewing, if that committe did not proeid, the consequences that wold follow wold certanly proue lamentable and destructive, and wold vndoubtedly multiplie Gods judgments vpone the land and armey.

One Monday the 5 day of Aguste, Cromwell reteirred backe with his armey from Mussilbrughe and Inneresacke to Dumbar, after he had sent the day befor, a letter, most ridiculus and blasphemous to the Comission of the Generall Assembly, and a replay to the Committee of Estaits anssuer to his foolishe declaracione, being in effecte nothing bot a rapsodey of bosting and hyperbolick nonsense.

One Friday, the 9 of this mounth of Agust, ther came from the Committee of the Armeys and Kirk to his Maiesty, to Dumfermling, commissioners, viz. the Earle of Lothean, Secretarey; Sr Archhald Jhonston, Register; Mr Robert Douglas, Mr James Guthrie, Ministers; and Mr Robert Barclay, Pronest of Irwing, to intreat him that he wold be gra-

tiously pleased to subscribe that declaratione, wiche
the armey so muche desyred his Mat^{ie} to emitt for the satisfaction of all honest men; wiche wes deliuern-ed by the Marques of Argyle to him some few dayes befor. His Maiestie did receaue ther message gra-tiously, about 1 a clocke in the afternoone, and delayed giuing them anssuer wntill his returninge from hunting in the eiuning this night, wiche he de-syred them to expecte; bot they receauid no contentment: the King dennyng absolutly to declare aney thing [that] might rube vpone his father, so they deceipt, vpone Saterday, vnsatisfied.

Cromwell, with his armey, raisse one Tuesday the 13 day, from Mussilbrughe, and vent vest with to-wardes Colintoun; and our armey drew fourth of ther trinches, and marched after them towards Corstorphine.

This Tuesday his Maiestie called a counsell at Dumfermling, the first he held since his coming to Scotland; it [was] held in his Mat^{ie} bed chamber;
ther wer present of counsellers ther, Argyle, Lothean, Eglinton, Tuedale, Lorne, Thesaurer Deput, &c. The results of ther consultatione wer, that his Maiestie should presently wreatt to the Commissione of the Kirke, and shew them that he wold follow ther ad-wisse, not only in the declaracione, bot in all thinges
ells that concernid the peace of the kirke and religion, and covenant; only he intreated them to be als sparing of his fathers name and memorie as necessarily could be.

2. The wther resulte of this counsall wes, that his Maiestie and his quholl familie should to morrow, being Wedinsday, remoue to St. Jhonstoun, and ther duell wntill he saw how matters went betwen the armey and ther enimey Cromwell.

The King went from Dumfermling to Perth, one Friday the 16 day of Aguste, being Fryday; and it was 10 a clocke at night befor he cam ther.

One Wedinsday, in the afternoone, the Earle of Weeymes and Mr George Winrham of Liberton, came to Dumfermling to his Maiestie, with a shorte declaratione of the Comission of the Kirkes, ratified by the Com: of Estaits, shewing, that since, by ther frequent messages and petitions sent to his Maiesy anent his assent to a declaration to be emitted, he had altogider refussed the same; thesse, therfor, wer to shew to the world, that wntill he condescendit to passe the forsaid declaratione, they wold nather auen him nor his causse. The ministeres Maiesy had wrettin for 2 dayes befor, for soluing some scruples he had in the declaratione they demandit, cam to him one Thursday to Dumfermling, viz.

Mr David Dicksone, Mr Patrick Gilespie,

And after much disputatione, some alterations in wordes wer accordit one; it being wrettin ouer in mundo, his Maiestie signed the same, at Dumfermling, one Friday the 16 day of Agust, about 8 in the afternoone, and immediatly therafter tooke horsse for Perthe.

They all, both churche and stait, passed from that declaracione sent by the Earle of Weymes and Liberton; and gane his Maiestie humble thankes for granting the desyres of the church, staite, and armey.

'The Heads of the Declaration subscribed at Dumfermling, 16 Agust, 1650.

Thoughe his Matie, as a deutifull sone, be obliged to honor the memorie of his royll father, and to haue in estimation the persone of his mother, yet doeth he desyre to be deeply humbled and afflicted in spirit befor God, becausse of his fathers opposition to the worke of God, and to the soleme leauge and couenant, by wich so muche of the blood of the Lordes people hath beine shed in thesse kingdomes; and for the idolatry of his mother, the toleratione quherof in the kings housse, as it was matter of grate humbling to all the protestant churches, so could it not be bot a heighe pronocation aganist him, quho is a jelous God, visiting the sinns of the fathers vpon the children, &c.

2. That he hath not subscribed the couenant vpon

aney sinister intentione and crooked deseinge, bot sincerly; and that he will haue no frinds or enimies, bot thesse of the couenant; requyring all to lay downe ther enmity against the causse and people of God.

3. That the trettey with the Irishe be void.
4. That by hes commissions at sea, no merchants following ther trade be interrupted; and though his Mat^e desyre to constructe weill of the intentions of thosse (in reference to him) that opposed the couenant, yet he will not giue comissione to aney such, wntill they take the coauenant, and giue euidence of ther integritie, &c.
5. That he will satisfie the desyres of Englishe and Irishe good subiects; and giue parliament of England, sitting in fredome, shall prewin him with the propositions presented be bothe kingdomes, he will not only accord them with alterations, bot doe quhat is farther necessarey for prosecutting the ends of [the] covenant, especially in reformation of the churche of England, and as the diwynnes at Westminster accorded; and that the churche of England may enjoy full liberty and freedome of all assemblies, and pouer of kirke censures and ordinances, and members, in matters ecclesiasticke, &c.
6. To passe ane acte of oblivion to all, except the cheiffe obstructers of the worke of reformatiōne, and the authors of the change of gouernment and the murthers of his royall father ; the number and persons to be lefte to the housses of parliament ; and prowyding they lay doun arms.

7. That since the sectaries haue inwadit Scotland, &c. he desyres and expectes, that the weill affected in England will lay hold one the opportunity to promoue the couenant, and establishe the ancient government, &c.

The armeyes remonstrance to the Committee of Estaits, sent by the Lord Burlie, Maior Generall Holburne, Sr Johne Brune and Colonell Gilbert Ker, desyring the purging of the armey furder, if they think fitt ; as also the purging of his Maiesties courte and familey ; and that they wold putt the lawes made for that effecte to dew executione, &c.

15 Aguste, 1650.

The Committee of Estaits returned them harty thankes for ther remonstrance and suplicatione, and assured them that they wold not fail to endeuer ther wtermost to see thesse lawes made effectuall, whch they tooke so to harte, as a matter of grate consequence and heighe concernment for the good, honore, weilfaire and saftie of religion, King and kingdomes.

Memorandum : That one Fryday the 30 of the mounthe of Aguste 1650, betuix 10 and 11 at night, ther was seine in the firmament a fyrrie forked suord, coming from the northe, and it did euanishe, and passee away out of sight south east. Andrew Balfour and Henrey Hope, merchants of Edinburghe, being one the watche, with maney hundereths more, did see it, and testifies the same to be of treuthe.

The Comissione of the Kirkes and Committee of Estaits declaratione, quhen the Kinges Maiesty delayed to seinge the declaration of the 16 of Aguste; by them repelled, quhen the King seigned it.

Westkirke, the 18 of Aguste, 1650. The Comissione of the Generall Assemblie, considirng ther may be just ground of stumbling, from the Kings Maiestie refussing to subscriue and emitt the declaration offred to him by the Committee of Estaits and the Commissioners of the Generall Ass: concerning his former carriage, and resollutions for the future, in reference to the causse of God, and the enimies and frinds therof, doeth therfor declaire, that this kirke and kingdome doe not owen nor espouesse anie malignant parties quarrell ore interest; bot that they fight meirlie vpon ther former groundes and principals, and in defence of the causse of God and of the kingdome, as they haue done thesse 12 zeires bygaine; and therfor, as they disclaime all the sin and the gilte of the King and of his housse, so they will not auen him or his intrest, no wayes then with a subordinatione to God, and sua fare as he aines and prosecutes the causse of God, and disclaimes his and his fathers oppositions to the causse of God and to the couenant, and lykwayes all the enimies therof; and that they will, with conuenient speed, take in consideracione the papers laitly sent wnto them from Oliver Cromwell, and vindicat themselues from all the falsehoods conteined therin; especially in thesse thinges quherin the quarrell betuix ws and that partie is misstaited, as if wee auned the lait Kings procedinges; and we resolued to prosecute and manteine his present Maiesties intrest befor and without acknowledgment of the sine of his housee, and former wayes, and satisfaction to Gods people in bothe kingdomes.

W. A. KER.

13 of Agust, 1650. The Comittee of Estaites hauing seine and considerit a declaracione of the Com-missione of the Generall Assemblie, anent the staiting of the quarrell quheron the armey is to fight, doe approue the same, and hartlie concur therin.

MR THO : HENDERSONE.

29 of Aguste, 1650. The Comittee of Estaites, conforme to the commissione given to them by the Estaits of Parliament, in Julay last, for calling or adiorning the parliament, and seing it was continued by acte of parl: to this day; the said Comittee of Estaits does adiorne the said dyet of parliament (in respecte that Oliuer Cromwell and his armey of sectaries and blasphemers haue invadit this kingdome, and are now laying within the bosome therof,) wntill the 10 day of September following, in this instant zeire of God, 1650.

2 Sept: being Tuesday, by the brecke of day, our armey being in grate security, hauing left the hill, a grate pairt of them (wich was ther strenth and forte) wer surprised and routted by Cromwell and the sectarian armey; maney takin of the footte, maney woundit, and about 8 or 900 killed: the horsse and cauallry receaued litle or no hurte at all, more then they wer disperssed. This wes neire Broxmouth, a myle and a halffe aboue the toun of Dumbar, quither Cromwell was fled to shipe his footte and ordinance; hauing resolued to force his retrait home-ward, with his horsses, had he not seene, the euning befor, our footte and horsse, imprudently descend from the hill to the plaine, in grate security, to his seine aduantage, hauing had continuall intelligence of our most secrett deliberations and counsells. By this routing our armey, he gained bothe Leith and Edinbrughe tounes, for they did cast ther ports op-pin to him.

Men of note killed at this dismall routte of Dumbar, were—

L. Wederburne Home, elder, a Colonell;

L. Wederburne, younger, L. Colonell;

Sr Will: Douglas of Kirknes, a Colonell;

Mr Geo: Winrham of Libertone, a Lord of the Session, one of the Comittee of Estates, deyed 8 dayes therafter, of his wounds, at Dumbar; Sr Jo: Haldan of Gleneggies, Knight, a Colonell;

Robert Melweill, Leiuetenant Colonell to him;

Jo: Cockburne, Maior to that regiment;

Colonell James Ker;

Colonell Gray;

Colonel Maxwell, Calderwoods brother;

L. Col: Montgomerey, of Craigbaey;

L. Colonell David Wymes;

Colonell Scott;

Sr Robert Scott;

Rutmaster Collesse;

Rutmaster Lidingtoune of Saltcottes;

Maior Cockburne;

Col: Alexander Stewarte.

10 Septembrie. The parliament from this day was againe adiorned, to be holdin at Stirlinge, on Tuesday the first day of October, 1650.

At Stirlinge, the 12 of Septem: 1650.

A shorte declaracione and varninge to all the congregations of the Kirke of Scotland, from the Commissioners of the General Assembly.

Albeit the Lord, quhosse judgments are vnsearchable, and quhosse wayes past findinge out, hes brought the land werey low wnder the hand of ane prewailinge enimēy. Zet must wee not forbear to declaire the mynd of God, nor vthers refusse to harken thereto. It wer superfluous to gie answier to the maney calumnies and reproches that are blazed abroad; for albeit in eurey thing wee cannot justifie the conducte of the armey, zet wee hold it our deutie to desyre eurey one not to beleive groundles reports, bot rather to eye the Lord, and looke vpe to the hand that smytts them. And therfor, in the first place, wee exhorte and varne all the inhabitants of the land, to searche out ther iniquities, and to be deeplie humbled befor the Lord, that he may turne away his wraith from us. The Lord hath wounded ws, and chasteissed ws sore; wiche sayes, that our iniquities are muche, and that our sins are increased. It concerneth the King to mourne for all the grivous prouocations of his fathers housse, and for all his auen guiltines; and to consider if he hes come to the conenant, and joyned himselfe to the Lord, vpone politike intrests, for gaining a croune to himselfe, rather then to aduance religione and righteousnes; that it is iniquitie quhilk God will not forgett, excepte it be speedilie repented offe. It concerns our Nobles and Judges to consider whither ther carriadge in publicke matters be straight and equall, or rather sauoring of seeking themselves and the thinges of this worlde; and how they walke in ther families, and in ther priuat conuersations.

Ther is in maney a grate deall of peruersnes, and incorrigiblenes in regard of forsaking some and performing some deuties, notwithstanding publicke confessions and ingagements; and this cannot bot heighlie prwock the Lord. And it concerneth the officers of the armey, especially thesse quho are cheiffe among them, to weight weell quhat the Lord hes aganist them, and to repent of ther diffidence and carnall way of acting and underwaluing of Gods people. And ministers haue also neid to searche themselues concerning ther faithfullnes to be sound, for wiche God is angrie; doutles euen amongst thesse is muche negligence. Albeit the Lord hes suffred that armey of perfideous and blasphemous sectaries to prewaill, zet God forbid that the land should complay with him, quhateuer may be the plausible and faire carriage of some of that enimy, zet doubtles, ther is ane lewin of error and hypocrassy amongst them, wiche all the lowers of treuth wold deceern and awoyd. As the Lord hes trayed the stabilitie and integrtie of his people in the land heirtosfore, by the prewailling of malignants, so doeth he now tray them, by the prewailling of sectaries; and wee trust they will thinke it ther deutie and commendatione to proue staidfast against them, als weill as the other.

3. Nather wold men be lesse cairfull and actiue to opposse the enimy, then they haue beine in opposing malignants heirtofor; our religione, liues, liberties and estaits, are als muche in hazard now as euer; all the ordinances of Jesus Christ in the land are in danger, and the foundatione lyke to be ouerturnid by thesse men quho are oblidged, by the band of the couenant, to manteine all thesse; and it wer a grate guiltines to ly doun and complay and erutche vnder the burden of the strange impositions that they will lay wpon ws, and as men without head, to suffer our land to be brought in bondage, and ourselves to be robbed of all thesse thinges quhilk are most presious and deire to ws. If wee should doe so, the Lord wold be angrie with ws, and our posterity could not bot cursse ws.

4. Wee wold not think that all danger from the malignants is now gone, seing that ther is a grate maney suche in the land, quho still retein ther former principalls; therfor we wolde, with als muche watchfullnes and tendernes now as euer, awyde ther snars, and beware of complayance and coniunctione with them; and take head, that wnder a pretence of doing for the King and kingdome, they gett not power and strenth wnto ther handes, for adwanceing and promoueing ther old malignant desseinges. Doubtles our saftie is in holding fast our former principalls, and keeping a straighte faithe, without declyning to the right hand ore to the lefte.

5. It concernes all the inhabitants of the land to bewarre of murmuringe and complaninge aganist Gods dispesasances, and questioning the treuthe and goodnes of our causse, or quarreling with God, or blaming or casting of the couenant, becausse of aney thing that hath befallin them, that wer a grate iniquitie not to be pardoned. Lett ws beare the indignatione of the Lord patientlie, becausse wee haue sinned against him, wntill he plead our causse and execut judgment for ws ; he will bring ws fourthe
to the light, and we shall behold his righteousnes.

Causes of a soleme publicke humiliatione vpon
the defait of the armey, to be keepit throughout all the congregations of the Kirk of Scotland.

Albeit soleme publicke humiliations hes beine muche slighted, and gone about in a formall way by maney in this land, so that it is not one of the least of our prouocations, that wee haue drawin neire to God with our mouthes, and keepit our hertes fare
from him ; for wch the Lord hath turned the wisdome of the wysse unto foollishnes, and the strenthe of the strong men unto weaknes ; zet seing it is a deutie that hath oftin prouin confortable to wswards, God doeth nou call ws in a speciall way by a singular peice of dispensatione ; and knowing that all quho are acquanted with God in the land will make conscience of it, wee conceause it expedient that the quhole land be hambled for the causes following :

First, The continued ignorance and profanitie of the bodie of the land, and the obstinacey and incorrigiblenes of maney, notwithstanding of all the caires that God hath takin vpon ws by his word, and by his workes of mercey and judgement, to teache ws in the knowledge of his name, and to refraine ws from the evill of our wayes.

2. The manifest prouocations of the Kinges houesse, wiche wee feare are not throughlie repented off, nor forsaken by him to this day; togidder with the crooked and precipitant wayes that wer takin by sandrie of our statesmen for caring one the trettey with the King.

3. The bringing home with the King a grate maney malignants, and indeworing to keepe some of them about him, and maney of them in the kingdome, notwithstanding of publicke resolutions to the contrarey.

4. The not purging of the Kinges familie from malignant and profane men, and the constituting of the saamen of weill affected and godlie persons; albeit it hathe beine oftein pressed vpone the parliament and Committee of Estaits, wadertaking and promised to be performed by them.

5. The leueing of a most malignant and profaine gaurd of horsse to be abouthe the King, quho ha-
uing beine sent for to be purgit abouthe 2 dayes befor the defaite, wer suffred to be, and feight in our armey.

6. The exceeding grate slaknes of maney, and auersnes and vntowardnes of some, in the cheiffe judicatories of the kingdome, and in the armey, in guid motione and publick deuties, especially in thesse thinges that concerne the purging of judicatories and the armey from malignant and scandalous persons, and filling all places of powre and trust with men of knownen integritie and trust, and of a blamles and Christiane conversatione; togider
with grate inclinations to keepe and bring in malignancis to the judicatories and to the armey, as if the land could not be gydit and defendit without thesse;
and grate repyning and craying out against all that is done to the contrarie, and studding to make the same ineffectuall.

7. The exceeding grate diffidence of some of the cheiffe leaders of our armey, and wthers amongst ws, quho thought wee could not be saued bot by ane
numerous armey; who, quhen wee haue gottin
maney thousands togider, wold not hazard to acte
aney thing, notwithstanding that God offred faire opportunities and aduantages, and fitted the spiritts of the souldiers for ther deutie; for carnall confidence that was in maney of the armey, to the dispysing of the enimy, and promising victorie to themselves, without eying of God.

8. The lousnes, insolencie and oppiessione, of maney in the armey, and the litle or no caire that was takin by maney to preserue the corne, by wiche it hath come to passe that werey much of the food of the poore people of the land haue beine neidlesly destroyed ; and quhill wee euen remember this, wee wishe that the prophanitie and oppressione of sundrie of oure officers and souldiers in Ingland, quhen we were fighting for the assistance of the parliament of that kingdome, may not be forgottin, becausse it was matter of stumbling in that land, so it is lyke it is ane of the causses of the sore indignatione now manifested aganist ws by the handes of thesse men.

9. Our grate wnthankefullnes for former mercies and deliuernances, and euen for maney tokins of the Lords fauor and goodnes towards our present armey quhill they wer togider, and the grate impatience of spirit that was to be seine in maney thesse weekes past, quhilk made them limitt the Lord, and to compleine and weerie of his delaying of ane deliuerance.

10. The enuing and eyeing of the Kings intrest, and quarrell by maney, without subordinatione to religione, and the liberties and saueties of this kingdomes.

11. The carnall selue seiking and crooked way of esadrie in our judicatories and armies, quho make ther imployments and places rather sone matter of intrest and gaine, and preferment to themselues, then of aduancing religione and righteousness in the land.

12. The not putting difference betwix thesse that feare God, and thesse that feare him not, for our services, our companie, our imployments, bot accompt-ing all men alyke, maney times preferring thesse
quho haue nothing of God in them.

13. The exceeding grate negligence that is in grate ones, and maney others, in performing the deut-ties in ther families, notwithstanding of our former soleme acknowledgement of the samen; as also, our neglecte of the deuties of mutuall edificatione, and grate fruitfullness and barrennes that is to be seine amongest all sorts of persons; togider with the following of deuties with a grate deall of mixture of car-nall affections and fleschly wisdome, whch grines
the Spirit of God, and takes away muche of the beutie of the Lords image from our judicatories.

As we wold be humbled for thesse thinges, so wold wee also intreat the Lord that he wold sanctifie this affliction to his people, that they nather dispyasse his chastisings, nor faint quhen they are rebukit of him; bot that they may beare his indigna-tione patiently, and cleue steadfastly to the treatise

and the covenants, and the causse of God, without zeilding to the pouer of the enimey, or receauing ther errors, or complaying ather with them one the one hand, ore malignants one the other; and that the Lord wold poure out of his Spirit wpon the people, that ther spiritts may be raissed wnto ther den-tie, and that they may be filled and furnished of God with wisdome and resolutione to acte aganist ther enimies for the honor of God, ther auen pre-seruatione; and that the Lord wold not suffer them to be tempted aboue that wiche they are able to beare, bot that he wold breake the yoke of ther oppressors from off ther neckes, and giue them salua-tione and deliuernace; earnestly to intreat the Lord
in priuat and in publicke, that he wold preserue with ws the ordinances of Jesus Christe, the kingdome, the Kings Mat^{es} persone, the ministrie, from the pouer of ther enimies, quho seekes the destruction of all.

Maney of the ministers of the prouince of Fyffe,
at the first, refusssed to reid thesse reasons, especially,

Mr James Wood,

Mr Ja : Bruce,

Mr David Forret,

Mr Frederick Carmichell,

Mr Jo: Mackgill, zounger, Mr Henrey Rymere,

Mr Jo : Mackgill, elder,

with maney more; wch wes lyke to grow to werey
grate schismine; some did not sticks to say, that 5

ore 16 men wer too bolde to giue out ressons to a quhole churche, without a more frequent meitting of the Comissione of the Generall Assemblay.

Mr James Wood mainly stumbled at some wordes ill placed and worsse expressed, in the 2 artickle of the causses of the fast; he said he wold with his pene (if they did not mend it) make all the world know the wntreuthe therof. The wordes wer thesse: Togider with the crooked and precipitant wayes that wer takin by our commissioners for carriing one the trettey with the King. Bot the xing leaders at Stirling, (to quhome Mr James, and some of the deligatts of the prouinciall of Fyffe, posted in grate haist, both ministers and elders) gaue contentment, by expressing the former so:—Togider with the crooked wayes and precipitant, that wer takin by sundrie of our staitsmen, for cariing one the trettey with the King.

The synod of Fyffe for the most pairt, lykwayes, at this tyme, wold haue suche as wer classed for the lait ingagement, 1648, and now wer on ther satisfactione and penance, receauid to the participatione of the sacraments, and giue satisfactione to the kirke, admitted to publicke imployments in the comon defence of ther natvie countrey. Bot this was altogider denayed both by the Comissione of the Generall Assemblay and Comittee of Estaits, convenyid at Stirling, the 25 of Sept: 1650.

1 Octobris, 1650. The parliament that wes adiorned to this day, to be haldin at Stirling, by ther coram mett, and adiorned the same to hold the 22 day of this same mounthe of October, 1650, at Stirling, Perth, or St. Andrewes, as therafter should be condescendit one; and the King then withoute furder delay to be crouned.

Stirling, 27 Sept: 1650. The Committee of Es-taits, considering the necessarey deutie lying vpone them, in prosecutione of the acte of parliament, and according to the frequent and serious remonstrances of the Commissione of the Churche, for purging of the Kings familey of al profaine, scandalous, malignant and disaffected persons; and that it be constituted of such as are pious, and weill affected to the causse and couenant, quho haue not opposed the same by ther counsells and actions. And lykwayes considring the grate offence hes beine takin that the persons after nominattet haue not remoued from courte, nor depaerted out of the kingdome respec-tively; and hauing takin also into consideracion the report of the sub-comittie, appoynted to think on the purging of the Kings familey, doth heirby ther-for ordaine and command

C. W. HENDERSONE.

With this sete for purging the Kings housse, the Committee of Estates wrett me this letter follownng, bearing dait at Stirling, the 26 day of September, 1650.

Much honoured—Wheras wee have thought it necessarey that the persons mentioned in the acte
her inclosed be remoued from courte, and ordaind
to depairt out of the kingdome, wee doe herby au-thorisse and requesyre you to intimat the same to the persons concernid, and to see the acte put in executions by the officers of the armey therby ordaind
to doe it ; to quhome you are lykwayes to intimat
the ordinance of the committee, that if need be, they may doe quhat is enioyned them by the acte. The prosecutione quherof wee committ to your care and faithfullnesse, as you will be anssuerable, not doubting but you will approue yourselue to

Your affectionat frinds,

E. LOUDOUN, Cancellarius.

I. P. D. Com:

Stirling, 26 Octob: 1650.

I receaud this afforsaid letter at my auen housse
of Kynaird, aboute 9 a clocke in the morning, one.
Thursday the 3d. of October, and was at Perth about 12 a clocke the same day; and after I had kissed his Maiesties hand, I shew him my message.
He desyred me to forbeare making intimatione to 9 of them, wch he marked with a long score in the roll, wntill he spoke with the Lord Chaneeler, to quhome and the comittee, he had wretti to spare thesse wntill the sitting doun of the parl: bot de-syred me to goe one with the rest of them. That same night, at 9 at night, the L. came to Perth, and spoke with the King one Fridayes morning, and brought him a letter from the Comittee of Estaits, containing ane absolute refussal to suffer aney of thesse persons sent to me in list, to stay aboute his person or courte; so I went one, and made intima-tione to all, ather by word or wreath, conforme to the acte and missiue of the Committee of Estaits directed to me.

Friday, 4 Octob: 1650. The Kings Maiestie, as, if going one hauking, went auay from St. Jhonstoune one horsse backe, about halffe ane hour past one in the afternoone, accompanied only with thesse fol-loung seruants :

Henrey Symeour, a Groome of his Bed Chamber ; Mr Rodes, Mr Andrew Cole, and Mr Tho: Wind-am, 3 Gentlemen of his Stable ; with Mr Cartewright, a Groom of his Priuey Chamber ; without aney chance of clothes or linnings, more then wes one his bodey, in [a] thin ryding sutt of stufte. From Perth he red softlie throughe South Inche, and then at a full carreire, to the backe of Inche Shyra, quher he passed, and in ane hour and a halffe from Perth, red to Didope, by Dundie ; from thence, the Viscount of Didope conwayed him to Aughter Housse that same night, and not staying ther, the Earle of Buchan and Vis: Didope conwayed him to Cortu-quhay, the duelling place of the Earle of Airlie, ane excommunicat papist, quher, after a litle refreshment, that same night he read with a gaurd of some 60 or 80 Heighlandmen wpe the glen to ane poure cottage belonging to the Laird of Cloua ; in al, from Perthe, the way he went, some 42 myles befor he rested.

One Fridayes night, 4 Octob: a litle befor day, hauing layed him to rest his weiried bodey, he was found by L. Collonell Narne, of Sanfurd, and Colonell Bynton, ane Englishman, sent by Colonell Robert Montgomerie, (quhom Scottscraigie, by the way of Fyffe, hed adwertised at Forfar of his Maiesties suddaine deporture to the malignants from his auen people and court) laying in a nastie roume, one ane old bolster aboue a matte of segges and rushes, ouerweiried and werey fearfull.

In a prettey spaee after Narne, came Robert Montgomerie and Scottscraigie, with Sr Alex: Hope and one of his Maiesties haukes; they did persuad the King to horsse, it being nou almost 7 a clocke, and they wold wait one him, and liue and dye with him. The King told Rob: Montgomerey that Doctor Frasser had betrayed him, in assuring him that he should haue beine that day he cam away one deliuered vpe to the English, and all hes seruants hanged. They assurid his Maiestie that all was most falls, and he bot a traitor; thus discoursing, Didope, and his few Cloua men that wer then his Maiesties gaurd, wold haue had the King vpe to the hills, assuring him, that ther, within some 5 or 6 myles, he wold find 2000 horsse and 5000 footte to atteind his commandiments; bot erre he was awarre, Rob: Montgomeries 2 regiments of horsse appeirs, some 600 horsse, quherat Buchan, Didope and ther begerly gaurd, begane to shecke ther eares, and speake more calmley, and in a lower strain; so they conducted his Maiestie to Huntley Castle in the Carsse of Gourey, quher he stayed all Saterdayes night, and from thence, one Sunday in the afternoohe, he came to Perth, the 6 of Octob: and hard sermon in his auen chamber of presence, the afternoons sermon in the toune being endit befor he entred the toune.

The Northerne Band & Othe of Engagement, sent by Mideltone to L. Generall Dauid Lesley, 26 of October, 1650.

We wndersubscriuers, being tuoched with a deepe sence of the sade condition this our natvie kingdome of Scotland is in, by a prewailling armey of sectaries, quho hauing murthered our lait King, and ouerturned religione and gouerniment in our nighboure kingdomes of England and Irland, hath invaded this kingdome, and are in a way (hauing so considerable a pairt of it wnder footte alredy,) to reduce the quoll to a prouince, except the Lord by his mercey prewent it, by ioyning his Maiesties subiects in the band of vnitie, whch is the onlie meine (in our judgement) to preserue religione, King and kingdomes. Bot to the greiffe off our hartes, wee find, in place of vnione, the breache growing wyder,
and that not onlie in churche and staite, bot lykwayes in the remnant of our armey; our resolutions

we firmlie and faithfully to ioyne ourselves togither, and nather for feare, thretning, alurment, nor aduantage, to relinquishe so good a cause, or lay doun armes, without a generall consent; and quhat shall be done to the least of ws all, in prosecuting the said vaine, shall be takin as done to ws all. And seeing the best wndertakings are wnder the mercey of censure and malice, wee cannot bot apprehend to be subiect to the lawless inquisitione. Therfor, and for satisfactione to all quho are satisfiable, wee doe promisse and sweare, that wee shall manteine the trew religione, as it is established in Scotland; the couenant, leauge and couenant; the Kings Maiesties persone, prerogatiue, gratnes and authoritie; the pruylidges of parliament and freedome of the subiects. So helpe ws God.

Midiltons Letter to L. General Lesley, from Forfar, 24 of Octob: 1659.

R^t Honorable,

Being still sensible of maney ciuilites conferrid upon me by you, and being most desyrous to conti-

new myselue in your fauor, and shune aney thing that may tend a breache, I haue sent you inclosed the ground of our ingagment, quherby you may perceave we onlie ayme at vnione. Wee are to goe vpon the samen grounds you professe. Nather in reasone can it be expected that men at this tyme should looke vpone bussines vnccontended; we are Scotishmen, we desyre to fight for our countrie; religion, king and kingdome are in hazard; we desyre to ioyne with others vnder your commande, without changing the stait of the questione. Others vnder your command are ane other way; we are hopefull that you will not shed the blood of your brethreen, nor put ws to that wnhappay necessity as to shed yours in our auen defence. It may be obiected, that wee did fall on S^r Johne Broune, his regiment, in ane hostill way, wee thanke God that non in that regiment, nor aney belonging to ws did fall, nather think that ther was one drope of blood shed; bot it was S^r Johne Brouns briske expressions that did occasion it. I beseiche you, by all the expressions of frindschipe, and by that woue ze owe religione, king and kingdome, to indevore vnitie, and not to enter in bloode with thesse that are red ey to perishe for that samen pretious treuth you fight for; not doubting bot in this you will approue yourselue ane countreyman and kynd frind to him quho has put one a resolutione to be your faithfull frind and humble seruant.

CHARLES R^X.

Acte of Pardon and Indemnitie, granted by the King and Comittee of Estaites to the Northerne Rebels, 26 October, 1650, and proclaimed at the mercat crosse of Perth, the 29 ditto, by Rosse Heraulde, A. L.

Whereas diuersse persons did, by uniust informations and falle suggestions, seduce and moue his Maiestie to withdraw himselfe laitle from the Committee of Estaites and this place, and indeword to haue his Maiestie aggrie with them, quherby the kingdome might haue beine involved in new intestine troubles, to the disturbance of the peace therof; and his Maiestie perceauing that he was deceaued by ther wicked counsailles, and considering the eiuell consequences that might haue ensewed thervpone, hauing returnid and gratiouly condescended to the adwysse and counsailles of the Committee of Estaits. And now, lykwayes, wnderstanding that some persons haue convocatted themselues, and rissin in armes, and his Maiestie being desyrous, out of his royll wisdome and clemencie, to reclaine and reduce all suche persons vnto obedience, and with all tender caire of the publick good and peace of the kingdome, to settle the present commotions and distempers, whch vtherwayes might vnhapily grow by the vicked practissee of thosse that are apte to foment the same; and least the forces of this kingdome should by intestine insurrections be diuerted and hindred from opposing and persewring the comon enimy, quho hath invadid this kingdome, therfor his Maiestie, with adwysse and consent of the Committee of Estaits, doeth heirby assure and declare, that non of the saids persons quho haue laitly takin armes, ore haue beine aneywayes accessorey to his Maiesties withdrawing himselue, or to the present commotions or insurrections in the northerne shires, nor ther cationers quho are oblidged for them, for keiping the publicke peace, shall be questioned or challenged therfor: And heirby grants wnto them, and eurey ane of them, ane free acte of pardon and indemniti from aney censure or punishment for the same, or for aney thing done by them, or aney of them, in relatione therwnto. As, lykwayes, for aney thing formerly done by them in aney former plotts or rysing in armes to the disturbance of the publick peace, or for accessione to the lait wnlawfull ingagement aganist Ingland, with reseruatione of aney acte of parliament made concerning the saime. And prowyding the saids persons quho are in armes fourthwithe disband, lay doune armes, and behaue them-

selues as faithfull and loyall subiects in tyme coming ; and that they and all thosse quho haue beine accessorie as afforsaid, doe make ther humble addresses to the Kings Maiestie and Committee of Estaits, ore ensewing parliament, and suplicat them for the benifift of this present acte and pardone, within the respective dayes following, after the publicatione and intimatione heiroff, in maner wnderwrettin, viz. thesse that duell and haue ther residence within the shires of Stirling, Clackmanan, Fyffe, Perth, Forfar and Kincardine, within ten dayes ; and thesse that duell and reseid in aney wther shires of the kingdome, within 15 dayes ; reserwinge and accepting heirfra, aney persone or persons quho shall be found actors in killing Vnquhill Mackeartyne and Capitane Sherrow, Inglishman, and declaring, that the said persone or persons quho haue killed them, or ather of them, as said is, are to be layable to the comon way of justice and trayell for the same, conforme to the lawes of this kingdome, notwithstanding this present acte of indemnitie and pardon. And also declaring, that the saids persons, and eurey of them, and ther saids cationers, quho haue giuen bands befor the dait heirof for keiping the publick peace, are to remaine and be layable for the futurs, for performance of thesse bands and obligations, conforme to the tenor therof in all poynts. And ordaines publicatione heirof to be made at the mercat crosse of Perth, wich the committee declaris to be alls valide and sufficient, as if the samen wer published at the mercat crosses of the head brughes of the seuerall shires of the kingdome. Ginen at Perth, 26 Octob: and of his Maiesties rainge the 2d zeire, 1650.

Loudon, Cancallarius, I. P. D. Com.

When Cromwell had sent a letter to the Committee of Estates, of the 9 of October, 1650, he sent the duplicat of the same to the westerne armey and ther comanders, Ker and Straquhaine, quho, after they and ther committee had perused it, they resolved to returne no publicke anssuer therto, since, as they thought, the Committee of Estates wold anssuer it; only they resolved to returne him thesse 6 following querees for anssuer, as Sr George Maxswoll quho presented ther remonstrance to the Committee of Estates at Stirling, _____ of October instant.

After the remonstrance of the westerne armey was presented to the Committee of Estates at Stirling, and accepted be them, and marked by ther clerke, produced by Sr Geo: Maxswoll in name of the commanders, gentrey, ministers and armey, (calling themselves the westerne forces,) therafter within 3 or 4 dayes was [the] thre following papers sent by them to Courte and Comittee of Estaits at Perth, Tuesday, 30 of October.

30 Octob: 1650. It being manifest that the Kings not prosecutting the causse of God, nor walking in ane subordinatione to God, bot rather in oppositione to the work of God and the couenant, and cleiuing to all the enimies, we doe therfor, according to the declarations of the churche and stait of the 13 of Aguste 1650, disclaime all the sin and guilt of the King and his housse, both olde and lait; and de-claire, that wee doe not allow him nor his intrest in the stait of the quarrell betwix ws and the enimie, aganist quhom, if the Lord will, wee are to hazard our liues.

2. That within Scotland he ought not to be intrusted with the exercisse of his power, till such tyme as ther be conwincing and cleir euidence of ane reall change in him; and that ane effectuall coursse ought to be takin for prewenting, in tymes coming, his coniunctione with the malignant partey, and for traying the causse of his lait deserting of the publicke counsailles, and of all quho had accession thereto; and for disabling malignants, vntill they be out of capacity to hurte the worke and people of God.

3. That the publick judicatories be free, that ther is iust causse in Gods sight to charge some eminent persons in our commells and forces with ingagments and deseinges to inwade Ingland, for inforcing the King one that natione ; and that it was a grate pronocation in aney persone to haue intendent ane inwasion to Ingland, for the inforcing of the King one ane other natione, not subordinat to ws ; with con-sideratione of the necessities and vnlawfullnesse ther-of for cleiring of our calling to it, or remoueing the Lords contrawersie aganist the King, quhom justly the Lord had remowed from the gouerniment of the kingdome, quhatsomewer in justice was one mans pairte.

His Maiesties Letter to the shyre of Fyffe, 12
Sept: 1650.

CHARLES R.

R^t trustie and weill beloued cousins, and trusty and weill beloued, we greit you well. Hauing re-ceaued a letter from the Committee of Estaites, with a duplicat of ther orders and desyres to the seuerall shyres, we haue thought fitt to accompaney ther letters with our auen desyres and commandes, hoping that all the land, togider with ourselves one one syde, will be sensable of those sinns whch may haue provoked him to giue ws so sharpe a stroke, that we may not dispysse the chastning of the Lord;

and will so encourage themselves one the other syde, from the justices of the caus, and from Gods promises and mereey, that they will speidily appay themselves to raise suche forces as may give a stope and checke to the progresse of the insolent enimy. We doe therfor particularly desyre and command you, as you tender the honor of God, the preseruatione of religione, your deutey to ws, and the manti-nence of your auen liues and liberties, that [you] employ all diligence and chearefullnes in fulfilling the orders of the committee, persuading ourselves that your forwardnes in it, will be the most euident testimonye of your piety to God, loyalty to ws, and loue to your countrey; and so, consequently, the lykliest meanes to wnitte the quholl land in a brotherly affection one to ane other, wiche wee doubt not bot God will croune with his blessing. And notwithstanding the sade and bitter thinges he doeth for the present exercisse ws with, he will in his auen dew tyme fill our mouthes with songes of deliueraunce; and wee for our auen pairt shall count ourselves bound, quhen God shall gratiouly make ws able, to requyte all your loue to ws, with all possible and reall demonstrations of our caire and kyndnes for your good. Thus, not doubting bot all thesse considerations will speake aloude and abouudantly for themselves; wee bid you hartily fairweell, from our courte at Perthe, 12 Septem: 1650, and in the second zeire of our rainge.

After his Maiesties returne to Perth, from wiche the malignants had made him one fallse jelosies lime, the 4 of October, the 10 of that same monthe he wrott this subsequent letter to Fyffeshyre, and to the committee ther :—

CHARLES R.

R^t trustie and weell beloued, wee greette you weell. Althoughte the orders directed wnto you by the Committee of Estaites might (and wee are assured will) be sufficient to procure your redey obedience to quhat is by them ordained; yett wee haue thought it fitt also, wnder our auen hand, to accompany ther directions; and therfor wee requyre and command, that with all possible haist and diligence you put out the lewies and recruits of horsse, footte and dragonners, layed vpone you, and also the quantities of meall and other prouisions lykwayes inioynd. And least aney should be deceaued concerning our lait leauing this place, and therwpon may haue takin, or may take occasione not to doe ther dewties, according to the orders of the committee, and may forshow and impead thesse lewies, wee declare wnto you that we are greiuued that wee should haue listned to the suggestions of some wicked persons that wer aboute ws, and that wee gane aney crydit or beleiffe to the calumnies they forged for ther auen sinistrous ends. Wee haue seine and found the ciuell of the way they wer leading ws wnto, and nou discerne the folly and madnes of it, and are more assurid and confirmed of the fidelitie and integrity of them that thesse malitious men wold hane giuen ill impressions off ; and are resolued absolutly to adheare and relay wpone ther counsaills, for wee see they tend to the publicke good, and our seruice; and the others seekes bot ws for ther auen ends. And as wee haue wrettin and giuen assurance of this to the Commissioners of the Generall Assembly, so haue wee declared the same also by word to the committee, and wee signifie it to you lykwayes, that our purposes and resolutions may be known to all our subiectes; and in this firm resolution wee will liue and die, and will prosecutt to the extremity quhosoeuer shall continew in armes, ore not submitt themselves to, and obey thesse our commands, and the directions of the Committee of Estaits; and if aney in your shyre will zet stand out, and make aney interruptione to quhat is ordained, wee command you to represse them; and if it be necessary, troupes shall be appoynted to come to your assistance, and ourselues in persone will also, if it shall be thought convenient. And so wee bid you hartily fairweell. Giuen at our courte, at Perth, the 10 of

October, 1650, and in the second zeare of our rainge.

To the R^t Honorable the Committee of Estaites,
the humble Remonstrance of the Gentlemen, Commanders and Ministers, attending the forces in the west.

17 October, 1650.

Althoughe wee do not judge of the wndertakings of the Lords people by the successe, and be not shaken by the dissipating of our armey, nor brought in question our causse, zet wee thinke ourselves, and all the people of this land, called by thesse late dispensations to searche and tray our wayes ; wee doe therfor esteeme it our deutie (quhill wee are about to adwenture our liues againes the enimie, as prowidence shall giue opportunitie) frelie and faithfullie to make our thoughts knownen to your Lops:
concerning the causses and remedies of the Lords indignation wch hath gone out aganist his people, quherin wee supposse wee neid not insist vpone the
lait sinns conteined in the lait causses of the fast, published by the Commissioners of the Kirke, re-latting to the conducte and carriage of our armie,
and other thinges ; bot wee shall speike to that wch
most directlie concerns your Lops :

1. That wiche is obuious, in the first place, amonge the sinns of the land, is our late proceid-

ings with the King ; quherin, that wee be not mistakin, wee shall distinguish betuix our deufy and our sinna.

Wee owe and acknowledgement for our deutie, to wsse all lawfull wayes and means for reclaiming the King, and to owne his intrest according to oure vocatione, so fare as he owns and prosecuttes the causse. Bot wee are conwinced that it is our sinne, and the sin of the kingdome, that quhen the King had walked in the wayes of his fathers oppositione to the worke of reformation, and the soleme leauge and couenant, wntill he had gone the lenthe of confirming a peace with the Irishe rebels, for pardon of the blood shed of so maney thousand protestants, and allowing them the exercisse of the popesche religion ; and quhen he had giuen commissions to the appostat rebell James Grhame to inwade this kingdome : that after all this, commissioners should haue beine varrandit to assure him of his present admissione to the exercisse of his royall power, vpone his profession to ioyne in the causse and couenant, not onlie without aney furder euidence of his repentance, wnto the renewing of the Lords contrawersie with his fathers housse, and without conuincing evidences of the realitie of his profession, and his forsaking his former principalls and wayes ; but quhen ther was pergnant presumptions, if not cleir evidences of the contrarey.

2. That ther was to grate haist and præcipitatione in a second addresse to the King, after the first had beine reected, as appeiret in the publick motion of it, without aney consultation about it; in the sud-daine electione of commissionars for the soleme addresse, and in refusing to delay the matter wntill the meitting of the parliament, then werey neire; and all this haist made quhen ther was informatione giuen that his Maiestie at the same tyme had ginen commissions to inwade this kingdome, and without seeking the Lords directione in a matter of so heighe consequence to the worke and people of God.

3. That the trettey was continewed after the Lord had cleirlie discouered the Kings wnstraight dealing, in the invasione actuall of this kingdome, by his warrant and commissione dñring the trettey.

4. That ther was too grate forwardnes in some of the commissioners to closse the trettey, without satisfaction requyred by the parliament, and ther im-ploying instruments to persuade the King, who wer
ather oppin enimies to the causse and couenant, or had delte deceitfully therin; from qubom nothing could be expected, bot to teache his Matie dissimu-latione and outwarde complyance, rather than aney cordiall coniunctione with the causse and couenant.

5. Quhen the parliament of this kingdome was acquainted with the transactions of our commissione-

ers with the King at Breda, and had declared ther disaffectione with sundrey things therin, and had made the same knownen to our commissioners; zet plainnesse and freedome was not wssed with the King, to declare wnto him befor he cam from Holland, the sence of this kingdome vpone the trettey. Bot his Maiestie was brought to sea with a wicked companie of Scottishe and Englishe malignants, expesly contrarey to the directions of parliament.

Quhen the Lord had in a wounderfull prouidence brought to the weiu of the parliament his Maties bloodie commissions to James Grhame, and seuerall letters discouering his firme adherence to his former principalls, euen quhen he was proposing a trettey with this kingdome, and of resolutione to make wase of his forces lewied by James Grhame for the inwading of this kingdome during the tyme of the trettey. Notwithstanding of all this, they proceided to closse a trettey with the King, and admitt him to the present exercisse of his power, and that befor aney trayell had, or euidentes giuen of aney reall change in him.

Thesse thinges wee looke vpone as heighe prouocations befor the Lord, thretting no lesse the destructione of ws and of our King.

Notwithstanding this sinfull way of aggrement with the King, for wich wee and maney of the Lords people in the land haue mournid, finding nothing in all the progresse of the bussines that might giue ws

aney sure ground of hope that the Lords contrawer-sey was remoued from the royll familey, yet haue wee bein willing to wait wntill the Lord should make some discouerey, wither the King had really ioyned in the causse and couenant, or had onlie come in for worldlie ends and deseinges, and had reteind his olde enmitie at the worke of God, and frindschipe
with the enimies therof. Bot now ther being cleir evidences that the Lord hath bein deceaued and ensnared by his dissembling in the Lords worke as may appeire,

1. By his countenancing and entertaning the malignant partey in this kingdome, his cleiuing to ther companey and following ther counsells, quho haue abused him, taught him to continew in his former opposition to the worke, and in his lait compliance,
that he might wind himselue in power to prosecute
his former desainges.

2. By his keiping correspondence withe the notrious enimies of the worke of reformatiōne and couenant abroade, suche as the Marques of Ormond, the Earle of Newcastle, and others.

3. By his refussing to seinge the declaracione offered to him by the Committee of Estaits and Commissioners of the Generall Assembly, wntill he was necessitated by declarations concerning him, and wn-till it was in a kynd extorted from him.

4. By his perseuing the same desinge since the trettey as besor, indeworringe to haue the malignants of his kingdome in pouer and trust, as appeirs by his frequent conwersing and correspondencies with them, notwithstanding they are discharged the courte
by acts of parliament.

5. By his wretting to the Comissione of the Kirke to that purpose, and quhen it was denayed by them, by his instructions to the Lord Chanceler, communicated to the Committee of Estaits the 26 of September last, pleading for a coniunction with the malignant partie; and at last, quhen nather kirke nor staite did give ther concurrence therin, he deserted the counsailes of the kingdome, and priuatly conwayed himselfe away with the malignants, quo had euer since his coming to the kingdome waitit for that opportunitie, and with quhom he had corresponded in carrying one a deseinge to raise them againe in armes.

By thesse thinges, it being now manifest that the King is not prosecutting the causse of God, and valking in subordination to God, bot rather in opposition to the worke of God and the covenant; and claiuing to the enimies therof, according to the declaration of kirke and stait of the 18 of Aguste 1650, wee disclaime all the guilte and sin of the King and of his housse, both olde and lat; and declaire, that wee cannot owen him and his intrest in the stait

of the quarrell betuix ws and the enimey, aganist quhom (if the Lord will) we are to hazard our lynes.

And further, for the remedey of quhat is past, and prewenting of more sin and danger to the worke of God in this land, wee humble offer to your Lops: that besydes the repenting off and humbling yourselues for thesse thinges, your Lops: wold be pleased, according to the acte of the 7th of Februarij last, judgeing it necessarie securitie for the causse, that the King forsake the counsells and counsellors that haue been opposit therwnto; and according to the acte of parliament explaining the invitatione whch approues therof onlie in this sensse: he performing satisfactione to the desyres conteind in the 4 demands, and according to the acte ratifieng the tretteyn, and putting him in the exercisse of his power, with the lyke restriction and conditione, he reuling according to the counsells of this kingdome and kirke. To consider that the King not hauing forsaken the counsells and companey of malignants, bot still cleiueng to the same, notwithstanding of all the endeuors wsed by kirke and staite in the contrarie, and not hauing performed the satisfaction promised by him in the tretteyn; and not reuling according to the counsells of the kingdome; bot forsaking the same to ioyne with malignant counsells and forces whch he was bound to abandon: Withere this be not such a breache of his conditione to performe the satisfactione promissted, and such a dis-couerey that he hath not ioyned cordially in the causse and couenant, as giues good ground not to intrust him with the exercisse of his power, till suche

tyme as ther shall be conuincing and cleire euidence of a reall change in him ; and that your Lops: should take ane effectuall coursse for preuenting the Kinges coniunctione with the malignant partie for the tyme to come ; and for the tryall of the last malignant de-seinge of the Kinges deserting the publicke counsailles, and of all thesse quho haue had accessione
to it, and for disableing the malignants, quho haue
by ther lait acteinges discouered deepe hypocrisie
and mocking of God, by a profession of repentance, till they be out of capacity to hurte the worke and people of God ?

II. Albeit the publicke judicatories of the kirke and stait haue, by ther declarations, suffiently cleired themselues of that wch is wniustly charged vpon them by the adwersarey, to witt, ane ingagement to the King, and a deseinge laide to inwade England, and force the King vpone that nation by armes. And althoughe wee cannot purge ourselues befor the Lord, that we neuer had aney suche deseinge, wch
wee can professe with the more cleirnes, becausse nather the lawfullnes nor necessity therof, nor our calling therwnto, was euer so muche as debaitted in the publicke judicatories ; all wiche was declared to be necessarey to aney suche resolutione, and to wiche wee purposse still to adhere. Zet wee beseiche your Lops: to consider wither in Gods sight, quho will not be mocket with declarations contrarie to intentions, ther be no iust causse to charge some eminent persons in our counsails and forces with suche engaggements, and deseinges to inwade England for the enforcing of the King vpone that nation, and for enriching themselues with ther spoyles. And that the Lord is righteous in doing to this nation, as maney in our armies did to England quhen wee wer called to ther assistance, and as was intendit by maney to be done againe by a new inwasione.

Lett it therfor be zet examined how grate a prouocatione it is in aney persone to haue intendit ane inwasione, and forcing of the King vpone ane other natione not subordinat to ws, without a preuious debait and determinatione of the lawfullnes and necessity therof, by the parliament, or Generall Assembly, or ther commissioners ; and without a preuious cleiring of our calling to it, and without the preuious remoueing of the Lords contrawersie aganist the King, (quhom iustlie the Lord hes remoued from the gouerniment of that kingdome, quhatsoeuer justice was in mans pairt,) and with ane intendit coniunctione with the malignant partie, so fare contrarye to the publicke declarations and professions of the kingdome, and attestation of God that wee had no suche deseinge.

If it be sin in ws to haue put in the Kings handes the exercisse of power in this nation, befor evidences had of a reall change in him ; how much more sinfull must it be to haue deseinged, or to haue endeavored, the putting more power in his hands in England ; wee cannot judge otherwayes of suche a deseinge, then to be preferring of mans intrest to Gods, and a betraying of his causse and people wnto the handes of one quho had not layed doun his enmitie aganist bothe.

In the niext place, the grate and mother sin of this nation wee conceaue to be the backslydinge breache of couenant, and engagements wnto the Lord. It hath beine our maner in our troubles to call one wowes and resolutions aganist thesse sins, wiche haue beine looked vpone as causses of our affliction ; wee haue [so] often leied wnto the Lord with our tounges, and flattered him with our lippes, that wee deserue to be no more trusted by him ; and as wee purpos not to forgett our auen breaches of couenant and sins of this sorte, so wee humble desyre your Lops : to lay it to heart :—

1. How vnansuerable ze haue walked to your soleme ingagement to purge the judicatories and armies, and to fill the places of truse and power with men of knowin good affection to the causse of God, and of a blamis and Christian conuersation. Haue not some amengest you beine the cheiffe obstructors of the werke, by retarding conclusions, by studing to make them ineffectuall, quhen they haue beine takin; by your partiall dealling, differencing men according to ther intrests, countenancing, fauoring, keiping in and helping to places of power and trust, suche malignant and profane persons as might be subseruient to your deseinges; by your reckoning it qualificatione good aneuchie, if a man be free of accession to the ingagement, thought he wer otherwayes malignant or prophaine; by your sparing of thosse in eminent places and trusste in the judicatories and armies, and taking no trayell of the qualifications, according to your vowis, quhill ytt wer doing some deutie vpone them of lower degree, quherby it hath come to passe, that ther remaine zet spots in your judicatories wch diminishes your crydit and authority, and occasione is giuen to the enimies to blasphem the causse of God!

For remedeeing quherof, may it pleis your Lops to take zet ane vnpartiall way of removving from the King, the judicatories and armies, all suché persons as haue not the qualifications conteind in the 7th desyre of the kirke to the parliament, 1648; and to the 10th and 12th pages [of] our solemne acknowledgement and ingagement, and in the acte of parliament for keeping the judicatories and places of trust free of corruptione. That your Lops: be not found walking still in [the] same way, sining zet more quhen wrathe is gone in the gude land ; lett it be farre from your Lops: to hold fast deceit, and to refusse to returne from that werey sin which hath beine publickly acknowledged by you and all this kingdome.

2. Albeit nothing can be addit to that which is spokin of the madnes and sinfullnes of complayning with malignants in the 5 and 6 page of the soleme acknowledgement and ingagement; zet maney of your Lops: haue滑iden backe and returnid to the way wiche not longe since ze called sinfull befor God, by receauing malignants into intimat fellowshipe with yourselues, admitting them to your counsailles, and bringing in some of them to the parliament and committees, and to be aboue the King; so that ther are maney pregnant presumptiones of a desinge in some of your Lops: to sett vpe and employ the malignant partie againe, at least ther are demonstratiue euidences of a strong inclinatione to entrust them againe in the managinge of the worke of God.

When wee compare togider the assurances that wer giuen to the malignants that wer with the King in Holland; the bringing of thesse home; the studious indeuors that haue beine vsed to keepe some of them in the kingdome and aboue the courte; the admissione of all the malignant partie to resorte to the courte without aney effectuall restraint; the forshewing and grudging at the purgeing of the armey from malignant persons; the obstructing of the purging of the Kinges familey and the lyffe gaurd of horsse; the pleading of some in the judicatories for persons that are secludit from trust by the publicke resolutions; the profession of others in the Committee of Estaits of ther desyre and resolutione to put power in the hands of knownen and eminent malignants in Scotland, and of raissing the malignants in England in armes, vnder the name of the kirkes partie. The conniwence of some amongst you, as the Kings correspondencies with the enemies of the causse abrod; the leawinge out vpone debait, in the orders for the new lewies, the qualifications of the acte of parliament for the lewies and posture; the endeuors that haue beine wssed to hastin the Kinges coronatione, and for putting him in the full exercisse of his power, notwithstanding that he hes not forsakin his eiuell counsellers and companey of malignants, according to the trettey.

And lastlie, quhen wee ioyne with thesse the assistancis and endeuors of maney in the Committee of Estaits for carring one the Kings lait oppositione of a coniunction with the malignant partie, and with the Clans and Heighlanders quho haue beine in rebellion; wee wounder that your Lops: are not ashamed so quickly to haue turned asyde, and forgottin your lait wowes, and the maney bands that are vpone you to abstaine from suche wyses. And wee humblie thinke that your Lops: gine too grata occasion to the enimie that hes inwadit our land to charge you with a malignant deseinge, and setting vpe the old malignant interest.

For remedie quherof, wee humblie proposse, not enlie that all suche backslydinges may be repented of, and all thosse coniunctions with the malignant partie forsakin and abhorred; bot that a speedie and a current way may be takin by your Lops: for discourey and remeweall of all suche persons as shall be found to haue contrived and actiuely promotted the forsaide desainge, from the Committee of Estaites, the armey, the courte, and all wther places of trust, that the worke of the Lord and the kingdome may not be in hazard throughe ther influence wpon the publicke judicatories or vpone the armey.

3. Wheras the sians of couetousnes, oppression and selue-seiking haue beine oftein reprovouned in your Lops: and are enumerated with the sins of this land, and confessed, and wowes takin one for awyding thesse sins the tyme to come, the soleme acknowledgement and ingagement; zet wee conceaue, amongst other sins, for the iniquitie of your couetousnes the Lord hath beine wrothe, and hath smitten the land, and for your selue-seeking and studieng your auen intrest and endis; becausse that notwithstanding you and wee haue said to the Lord; and suorne, that denaying ourselues, and our auen thinges, and laying ayde all selue interest and endis, wee shall aboue all thinges seeike the honor of God and wealthe of his people, zet quho knoweth not that some of your Lops: hath made your pouer, places and imployments, rather a matter of gaine and interist to yourselves, then of seeking the good of the causse, and the wealthe of the people. Wher is the denayell of yourselves, and of your auen thinges, wiche was promissed to the Lord? Hath not your litle finger beine heauier then the loynes of the worthey reweler, quho wold not eat the bread of the governour, that he might easse the peoples burden? How few are ther amongst your Lops: quho will emptie themselves for the good of the causse?

For remedie quherof, wee beseiche als maney of you as hath greidily gained, and made aduantage of the publicke and of the poore of the land; and by the lewies, Kinges rewenewes, fynnes, borrowed monneyes, and wtherwayes of fingring soumes, haue drawin unto yourselves and frinds that wiche did belongeto the publicke wsse, that you wold cleane your hands of your dishonest gaine, at wiche the Lord will smytte his hands, and wiche will be mouthe to consume your housses. Let the extortioner and oppressor, oppress no more; and lett it be leaked vpon one as your Lops: deutey, impartially to bring all men to the accompte for the wast soumes that haue beine misapplied, and knownen oppressors brought to condigne punishment.

4. Notwithstanding wee haue acknouledged our sin, in follouing, for the most pairt, the counsells of fleche and blood, and walking more by the rewells
of policey then pietie, hearkening more unto men than vnto God; and albeit that wee haue solemlie engaged ourselues, that forsaiking the counsells of fleche and blood, wee should depend vpone the Lord, walke by the will of his worde, and hearkin to the voyce of his seruants; yet it is too manifest that the Lord is exceedinglie provoked by the pollitick way quherin maney of you walk still, not only imping your priuat intrests and endis with thosse thinges that concerne the publicke good, bot maney tymes preferring them, and opposing or retardinge Gods worke, till you may carry alonges with you your auen interests and deseinges. Wee beseiche your Lops: to lay to heart your publicke way of walking, and as befor the Lord to examine yourselues, wether your waye hath not beine full of carnall wisdom and policie, in the matters of bringing home the King, disposing of places of trust aboute him, and ordering the cheiffe conducte and cheiffe officers in your for-
cis. Let your auen hearts speake, wether the reuell by wich you haue walked in all thesse, hathe not beine to establishe yourselues, rather than the worke of God, or King and kingdome; and how some of you may haue ane grate and predominant iastreest in all thesse, it is evident some of your Lops: haue not car- ed how few frindes the Lords worke had in thesse pla- ces of trust, if so be ze might haue maney frindes to es- pouesse your intrests, and politicke wayes and endis.

5. Wee cannot forgett how some amongst your Lops: quho haue wowed to the Lord, in the day quhen the frinds of the causse wer low, and quhen some of your Lops: also wer brought werey low; that ze should trust and employ, and cleane to suche persons in the land as feared God, and wer treulie religious, and should neuer dewyde from thosse; zet for all that, some amongst you haue lookit vpone all ore most of thesse on quhome the pouer of god- lines hath appeired, with ane eiuell and jelous eye, and haue not onlie neglected to countenance and en- courage suche, bot rather haue randered them and ther actions odious and suspected. For wiche thinges the wrath of God is gone oute, and is lyke to conti- new till your Lops: and wee shall learne to putt a difference betuix the pretious and vile, and to haue the power of godliness in grater estimatione.

Wee wold not haue your Lops: to thinke that wee looke vpone thesse thinges wiche wee haue remon- strated to you, as the onlie causes of the sade thinges that are vpone the kingdome, or that wee thinke ourselues not guilty or accessorey to the drawing eue and procuring thesse bitter thinges that are wponne ws. The Lord knowes that wee are so far frome such thoughts, that althouge your Lops: wer innocent of all thesse transgressions, wee ar conuinced that in ws ther is als muche guiltines as makes ws feare it is the worse with the Lords people, that wee are amongst them, and with His worke, that our handes are aboue it; in the sense quherof, as wee haue desyred to humble ourselues, so wee purposse to take new occasions for a free acknouledgement of our sins, and to be humbled for them, and to renew our ingagements to the Lord to be more reall and sincere in persewing all the endes of the couenant, and dewties therin conteind, accordinng to our vocation.

Nather wold wee hate your Lops: to thinke that in our free dealling with you, wee haue beine led with the spirit of bitternes, or desyre to discouer your nakednes to the world, or to strengthen the hands of the adwersaries. He quho knoweth our hertes, knoweth that wee desyre to carrey ourselues respectiuelly and deutifully to the publicke judicatories, and to tender ther authoritie and crydit as our liues; nor is it in our heartes to prowoke your Lops: to wnlawfull courses, bot earnistly to desyre you to awyde them; nor haue wee the least deseinge to follow the foottstpes of the sectarian partie, and change the fundamentall gouerniment of this kingdome, by king and parliament, or aney lewelling way, as wee heir some wold calumniat falsly our honest intentions. The Lord, befor quhom all thinges are naked, manifestly knowes wee detest and abhorre suche coursses; onlie we hold ourselues bound humblie to hold suche the corruptions of persons in the gouerniment, and desyre to be more tender of the guide of the causse and kindome, than of aney persone quhatsoeuer; and to chusse rather to displease men, then to incurre Gods wrathe, throughe our conniuence at ther corrupte wayes in ther places of power. Zet wee shall frealie tell your Lops: quhence this hath proceeded, wee being persuaded, in our consciences, of the vrigitous dealling of thosse quho haue invaded and wasted our land, and troden doun the pretious ordinances of Jesus Chariste, and shed the blood of his saintes; and the necessity of the lamenting people of God, calleth ws to the wtermost adwenturing aganist the enimey; being also sensible of our auen conditione and disproportionable thoughtes for attempting of aney thing, except wee be mightilie helped, assistit and countenanced by the Lord. Bot aboue all thinges, being affrayed of sin and wrathe, least that should meitt with ws, now quhen wee are resolued, according ta our capacitey, and as God shall giue ws opportunity, in his strenth to wenture our liues aganist the enimey; and not knowing wither some of ws, ore aney of ws, shall see your Lops: in the face, or heireafter haue aney occasione to speike for the discharge of our consciencies, wee haue therfor, and for our auen exoneratiōne, thought it necessarey to leaue this testimoney [of] our sincere detestation of thesse sinns, and of our desyre to be found free of them, if the Lord shall suffer aney of ws to perishe in our deutie, and to lay thesse thinges at your dore, as in the presence of the Lord, quho can onlie make you and ws· repente and reforme our wayes.

Declaring to your Lops: that wee shall desyre you wnfanidly to mourne for thesse sinns, and that ther are ingagements one your heartes befor God, if he shall lenthen our dayes, and take pleasure in ws, to make ws aney wayes instruments of His worke, and for His peoples good and saftie, that wee shall, to the wttermost of our power, endewor to gett thesse thinges remedied according to our places and callinges.

4 Nov: 1650. The 4 of Nowember the northerne rebelles layed doune armes, and accepted of the acte of indemnitie, by a tretteyn with L. Generall Dauid Lesley at Strathbolgie.

The L. Generall being at Aberdeine, in his returne southe, after the northerne armeyses laying doun armes; he wes wisited by Mr Androw Cants, elder and zounger, ministers of Aberdein, quho, amongst maney other discoursses, told the L. Generall that wee could not in conscience assist the King to recover his croune of England; bot he thoughte one kingdome might serue him werey weill; and one croune was aneuche for aney one man; one kingdome being sufficient for one to reuell ~~and~~ and governe. A number of suche discoursses wer wented to him, bothe by the father and the sone, to the same purpois. The L. Generall told this to the minister of Newbrughe, Mr Laurence Oliphant, and to the L. of Ferney and Londors, one Monday the 11 of this instant of Nouember.

Cromwells Letter to the Committee of Estaites, 9 Octobris, 1650.

My Lordis,

The grounds and endis of the armeyses entringe Scotland, haue beine heirtofor oftin and cleirlie made knownen wnto you, and hou muche wee haue desyred the same might be accomplished without blood; bot according to quhat returns wee haue receauid, it is euident your hartes had not that loue to ws, as wee can trewly say wee had towards you: and wee are persuaded thosse difficulties in wiche you haue involued yourselves by espousinge your Kinges intrest.

and taking into your bosome that persone, in whom (notwithstanding quhat hath or may be said to the contraire) that wiche is really malignancy and all malignants doe center, aganiste quhosse familey the Lord hath so eminently withstood for blood guiltines, nor to be done away with suche superficiall and formall shewes of repentance as are expressed in his laite declaratione; and your strange preiudice aganist ws, as men of hereticall opinions, (wiche, throughe the grate goodnes of God to ws, haue beine wniustlie charged vpone ws,) haue occasioned your reiecting of thosse ouertours, wiche, with a Christian affection, wer offred to you befor aney blood was spilt, or your people had suffred damage by ws. The daylie sence wee haue of the calamitie of warre laying vpone the poore people of this nation, and the sade consequences of bloode and famine lykly to come vpone them; the aduantages giuen to malignants, profaine and popeische partey by this warre; and that reality of affection wiche wee haue so often professed to you, and concerning the treuthe of wiche wee haue so solemnly appealed, doeth againe constraine ws to send wnto you, to lett you know, that if the contending for that persone be not by you preferred to the peace and weillfair of your countrey, the blood of your people, the loue of men of the same faith with you, and wiche is aboue all, the honor of that God wee serue; then giue the staite of Ing-land that satisfaction and securitie for the peaceable and quyet liuing by you, that may in justice be demandid from a nation giuing so iust a ground to aske the same from thosse quho haue, as you, takin ther enimey wnto ther bosome, whilst he was in hostility aganist them; and it will be made good to you, that you may haue a lasting and durable peace with them, and the wishe of a blissing vpone you in all religious and ciuill thinges. If this be refussed by you, wee are persuaded that God, quho hath borne his testimoney, will doe it againe one the behalffe of ws his poore seruants, quho doe appeale to him wi ther thesse desyres flow from sincerity of heart or not. I rest,

Your Lops: humble Seruant,

O. CROMWELL.

Vis: Arbuthnot,

The parliament being by the Comittee of Estaits adiorned from Vedinsday the 20, wntill Fryday the 22 day of Nov: 1650, is againe this day by the Comittee of Estaits adiorned wntill Tuesday, 26 day, by wottes, and that without aney farder delay.

Zesterday, the 20 day, the Comittee of Estaits past ane acte, ordaining none in the brughes of Perth, Dundie, Couper, St. Andrews, Bruntlyland, &c., to take aney more then 4sh. Scotts for a gentlemans bed a night, and 2sh. for a seruants; and the ludger to pay for candell and fyre, by and at tour; and the transgresing landlord of this acte to pay, toties quoties, 100 lib. Scotts. Publicatione of this acte to be made at the mercat crosses of the foresaid broughes.

The Committee of Estaits ordaines a comittee to meitt afternoone in the Generalls chamber, at 2 in the afternoone, for entering the quarters of these be northe Starling, to goe be southe and west the Tweed; as also to sett doun the dew allowance and pay of commanders and souldiers.

The Comittee of Estaits ordaines the former Committee for the Kings Coronatione to meitt to morrow at my Lord Secretaries chamber, viz:—

Earle of Louthean,	Thesaurer Depute,
Lord Balcarras,	Kinges Aduocat,
Lord Angus,
Lyone K. of Armes,
Sr Johne Smithe.

The Comittee of Estaits ordaines letters of marche to be giuen to all demanders of the same, as it is drawen vpe by the Secretarey, viz. that adiudicatione of presses aganist suche as acknouledges the comonwealth of England. Pryces to be judgit in Scotland one a just inventarey to be sent heire from suche places as the goods shall be dispone offe in; and that the King and Admiralls dewes be payed.

22 Nov: 1650. Rege presente.

My Lord Chanceler makes a narratione to the Committee of Estaits of the progresse of the Committee of Conference anent the vesterne remonstrance; of the bolde debaittes and small resolution, more then to haue a publicke fast.

The Com: of Estaits ordaines the L. Chanceler to signifie to the Com: of Conference, that they will make a report to morrow, bot furder delay.

Acte for rectifining of quarterings, comanders and souldiers payes, also discharging the staffe, past.

The Committee of Estaites ordaines Mr Jo: Dickson, Colonell Lightone, and the Kings Aduocat, to examine Mosse, the Englishe spay, that he may be hanged.

Whitsteds regiment ordaind to goe out off Fyffe, and quarter be southe Stirling, wotted and past.

The Com: of Estaits remitts to the Com: of Quarterings the exchange of prisoners, anent Alex: Jeffray and Mr John Carster, minister, with some Englishe prisoners in the castle of Dumbartan.

A letter from the Committee of Warr of the shiff dome of Innernessee, to the King and Estaits, shewing that thesse officers that went to Orknay take ype the lewies, ar imprisioned, and ther party forced home to Cathnes. This letter comitted to a selecte committee to meitt with the Kings Aduocat.

Sr Gee: Monros petitione to the Kings Maiestie and Estaits, for a convenient tyme to transport himselue out of the countrey. The committee giues him the first of Jarij: as also they appoynt Thomas Dalzeill to be in hazard wntill the parliament determine of ther deporture, to wiche they remitt his petitione and suplicatione.

23 Nov: Saterday, 1650. My L. Argyle, Balcarras, Louthean, aud the Kings Aduocat, spoke at large aganist the remonstrance of the west, as the opiner vpe of a breache for tolleratione and subuersione of the gouerniment, bothe ecclesiasticke and ciuill. Varrestone and Hombie spoke muche to leassie the bussines. Hombie for the maner, Warrestone for bothe maner and matter.

The Committee of Estaites ordaines all the members of the comittee presently to giue ther declaratione, one ther honor and treuthe, that they wer na-ther contriuer, carriers one, ore votters to the westerne remonstrance, wich was done; all disclaiming it. Varreston did grant that he did see it, was at the voting of it, bot refussed to giue hes wotte ther-in. He denayed that he wes accessorey to the contriuing of it at first.

2 sent from the Comittee of Estaits to desyre the Comissione of the Kirke not to depairt the toun

this day, bot to meitt afternoone, in respects of the grate bussines in hand.

It was muche debaitit wither the remonstrance of the west should be anssuered in generall or in particular ; it went to wott, and wes carried to be anssuered in generall ; only Warestone, Robert Locart, and Johne Jeffra, with Sr Rob: Adare, wotted to haue it altogether layed assyde.

The result of all this afternoones dispute aganist
the remonstrance endit in this, that some wer sett apairt to draw vpe the heades of the acte condem-natorie of the said diuisiue, scandalous and treason-able remonstrance.

The sex that wer ordained presently to draw vpe
the heads of the acte, wer :—

E. of Louthean,	Lord Hombie.

Sr Johne Smithe,

Ja: Suorde.

A paquett of letters intercepted by the scoute
master, of the enimies, directed to London, quherof 3 letters wer only read, concerning Straquhan and the presbyterians, &c.

A diurnall, quherin about the end it shew that the Prince of Orange was dead.

The Committee of Estates ordaines the saids letters to be communicat to the Commissione of the Kirke, especially shewing the grate plot aganist all the presbyterians in England, and how the same was hatchin in Scotland also.

Acte ordaining the parliament to meitt to morrow the 26 of this instant, at ten houres; and a herald ordaind to make publication heirof.

Commissione to Gen: Maior Holburne, to hange some runawayes, and the actes of parliament and Com: of Estaits to be put in executione aganist the resetters of runawayes, by the Committees of Varre in the seuerall shires.

The Committee of Estaits declaration aganist the vesterne remonstrance, presented by the sub-comittee, read, and after much debait, votted and past.

In the debait of the committees declaratione, muche debait wes anent the words, scandalous, scandalous paper and scandalous lybell.

Eglinton wold had called tressonable and scandalous paper and lybell, and brunt publickly by the hand of the hangman.

Carried, scandalous, with the word, conceaued, to goe befor.

Ther was that wold haue reffered all to the Com: of the Curdie, Register, Sr Ja: Hope, Sr Rob: Adare, Harden, Thesaurer depute, Busbie, Rob: Locart, Jo: Denholme, Gen. Comissarey.

Preiudiciale and destractiue to his Maiesties government, carried only, preiudiciale, destractiue delait.

It is werey diuisiue and holds out the seeds of diuisione, putt to wotte; carried, it holds out the seeds of diuisione of a dangerous consequence.

Exception votted, ther should be, of penners and contriuers of the said remonstrance, and of all suche that did adhere to it after it wes publicly declared aganist.

Marques of Argyle said, (after he had hard Sr James Hope say, that all the Comittee of Estaits wes doeing wes destructive to King and kingdome,) that Sr James, in all the carriage of this bussines, from the begining, both in parliament and comittee, wes not only a maine enimey to King and kingdome, bot a maine plotter and contriuer, assister and abaiter of all the mischeiffe that hes befallen the kingdome ever since.

It was muche vrged by the dissasenters from the Comittee of Estaits declaracione, to haue all the acte wotted in cumulo, after eurey branch had beine particularly wotted; wich was altogider refussed.

The Com: of Estaites sent the Marques of Argyle, Kings Aduocat and James Suord, to the Commis-sione of the Kirke, with ther declaracione aganist the said remonstrance; and a paper quherin they accused Mr James Guthrie and Mr Patricke Gillespie as contriuers and abbtors of all this diuisione in churche, armey and stait.

The Committee of Estaits sent the Lyone to the Commission of the Kirke, to impart to them the letters that wer intercepted going to England from Owens, Cromwells Secretary.

The Com: of Estaits sent the Kings Aduocat and James Suord to the Comissione of the Kirke, to desyre them to returne ther sence of the vesterne remonstrance to the parliament, in respecte that the committee was to rysse this night, and the parl: to sitt doune to morrow, to quhom lykwayes the said committee was to communicat that same paper of ther sence of the said vesterne remonstrance; and desyred them that they wold be pleased to ioyne with them to that effecte.

Perth, 28 Nouember, 1650. Antemeridem.

The Commissione of the Generall Assembly hauing receauid from the honorable Committee of Estaits, a paper declaring ther (Lo:) sence upon a paper giuen in to them, intitulated, (the Humble Remonstrance of the gentlemen, officers and ministers attending the forces in the west,) and desyring withall that the Commissioners of the Generall Assembly wold giue ther sence vpon the said remonstrance; therfor the commission hauing takin vnto ther consideratione the said remonstrance, doeth find and acknowledge therin to be conteined maney sade trenthes, in relation to the sinns charged vpone the King, his family, and the publick judicatories, wich also wee are resolued to hold out and presse vpone them, in a right and orderly way, togider with such other sinns as wee find by impartiall searche, and the helpe of the Lordes spirit wpon our indewors therin, that they may take with them, and be humbled befor the Lord, in the sence therof; wee doe find it our deutie to show, that in respecte ther seimes to be therin intrinsching vpone some conclusions and determinations of the Generall Assembly; and in respecte of inferences and aplications made therin, in relation to the King, his interest, and the exercisises of his power and gouerniment; and in regarrd of the ingagements wich, in the closse therof, they declare to be vpon ther harteres befor God, in relation to euidences for remedying the thinges conteind in it, wee are dissatisfied therwith, and that wee thinke it apte to breid diuision in kirke and kingdome, as wee doe finde alredy in paire by experience, and that the enimey hathe takin aduantage therat; and becausse of the tender respects and loue we owe, and most cordially carrey to the gentrey, officers and our brethreinge of the ministrie, quho haue concurred in the said remonstrance, as being religious and godlie men, and suche as haue alwayes giuen prouffe of ther integritie, faithfullnes and constancie in the causse of God, and for interteinment of loue, vnity and coniunction amongst the people of God, in acting according to ther calling and statione, aganist the publicke enimey; the breache of all wiche Sathan at this tyme is eagerly driuing at, and the enimey is greidily desyring and expecting. Wee doe resolute to forbear a more particular examination of the said remonstrance, expecting that at the nixt dyet of this commissione, thesse worthey gentlemen, officers and brethren will giue suche a declaration and explanation of ther intentions and meining, as may satisfie both kirke and state without aney furder inquirye or debait thervpone.

Declaratione by the Kinges Maiestie and Committee of Estaites concerninge the Westerne Remonstrance, 25 Nouember, 1650.

The Kings Maiestie and the Committee of Estaites, hauing takin into consideracion a paper presented to the said comittee at Stirling, vpone the 22 of October last, in name of the gentlemen, commanders, and ministers attending the westerne forces; and lykwayes ane petitione presented to the said committee at Perth, vpone the 19 of Nouember instant, desyring ane satisfactorie anssuer therwnto: Doe heirby declare, that they haue alwayes beine, and are still willing, that all faults and mis-carriages of aney, als weill in ther personall carriage, as in discharge of ther publicke trust, may be discouered, redressed and punished, according to the lawes of the kingdome; and that they find it ther dewtie to shew ther dislyke of maney thinges remonstrattd and held fourthe in the said paper: Zet being desyrous to follow the wayes of gentlenes and lenitie, rather then to looke vpone the said paper with that stricke inquyrie, wch otherwayes might haue beine done, they have resolued only, in generall, to declair as followes; that they find the said paper, as it relates to the parliament and ciuill judicatories, to be scandalous and iniurious to his Maiesties persone, and preiudiciall to his authoritie; and as it relates to religione and churche judicatories, they are to desyre the Commissione of the Churche to giue ther sence therone; and that in regaird of the effecte that it hath alredey produced, and thosse that are lyke to follow thervpone, if not preuented, it holdes fourthe the seed of diuisions of ane dangerous consequence; and that it is dishonorable to the kingdome, in so far as it tends to ane breache of the treattie with his Maiestie at Breda, approuin in parliament and Generall Assembley; that it also strengthens the handes of the enimy, giuing him occasione to iustifie his vniust invasione, and the bloodshed and oppression committed by him in this kingdome, and weaknes the hands of maney honest men; and lykwayes that the said paper holds furthe in the clesse of it, ane bonde of ane heighe and dangerous consequence; and albeit the said paper has been wickedly and subtilly contriued by some, yet becausse diuersse honest, faithfull and religious gentlemen, officers, ministers and others of approuin fidelity and integrity in the causse, of quhom they doe not harbor the leaste thoughte to ther preiudice, haue beine insnared. Therfor the Kinges Maiestie, and committee forsaid, doe heirby declare the said persones free frome aney imputatione vpone ther names, ore censure vpone ther persons or estaits; excepting heirfra all suche quho shall adhere to the said remonstrance, be ther persisting in prosecutting of quhat is therin contraire to the lawes of the kingdome. Perth, 25 of Nouember, 1650.

A letter wrettin by his Matie, shewing the proportion that should putt out a horsse, viz. 1000 liba. of walwed rent; as also, that they wold haist out the leweis, with certificatione to all commanders that takes money for horsse or men, to be cassired from ther places, and reputted as infamous persons, to be degradit wnder the gallous.

Sr Alexander Hopes deposition takin by the sub-committee, redd; quherin he declared, wnder his hand, that all he spoke wasse his brother, my Lord Craighalls, adwisse and counsell to his Maiestie, to treatt with Cromwell for the one halff of his cloacke befor he lost the quhole; and that by his said brothers letters of desyre to him, he had againe reiterat the same desyre to his Maiesty, after he had done the same formerly some 10 weeks agoe.

After some dispute in the committee anent the weightinesse of the bussiness, it went to wotte, whether ore not the bussines should be thought one, ore Craighall and Hopetoune should be presently sent for, to anssuer for themselues befor his Maiestie and Committee of Estaits?

Ordred by acte, that Craighall and Hopetoune be citted to compeire befor his Maiestie and committee, to anssuer to quhat is to be obiected aganist them; and Sr Alexander to remaine still wnder arrest, wntill the Kings Matie and comittee determine quhat his punishment shall be.

A letter sent to the Kings Aduocat, presently to draw vpe & sumonds aganist suche as hes compliance and dealling, ather by trafeque or intelligence, with the enimy. The Lord Chanceler, by his friuolous discourses, did all he could to obstructe the procedure aganist the Cromwellists.

Memorand: 12 Jarij: Sunday. This day Leutenant Generall Midiltone was relaxed from his excommunicatione, and did his penance in sackclothe in Dundie churche; and Collonell Archbald Straghan was excommunicat and deliuered to the deiuell, in the churche of Perth, by Mr Alexander Rollocke, the same day.

Saterday, the 11 day of Jarij: 1651. The Capitane of the Basse tooke ane Englishe shipe of Cromwells going for Leith, and sent some of her men prissoners to the Basse, and some to the castle of Tantallon. Shoe had in her 10,000 paire of shoes, 16,000 paire of buttes, 5,000 sadells with ther furnitures, 10 tuns of London beeire, and als muche bisquett as should haue serued Cromwell a month. The shipe was 265 tunes of burden, and in her wer 18 men and 2 boyes. The Leuietenant of the Basse brought her in to Anstruther, and imediatly the Laird of Waghton adwertised the King and Committee of Estaites therof, one Sundey, the 12 of this instant; quhervpone the Comittee of Estaites met one Monday, and sent doune S^r Johnie Smythe, the Comissarey Generall, to Anstruther, to take order anent the forsaid shipe and goodes, and to sie that they wer not imbecelled, bot all of them to be disponed off for the publicke wsse.

Neuer came suche prouisions in a better or more opportune tyme; heirin the grate prouidence of God for our armey, in prowydinng suche necessars for them after in maner miracoulously, was euidently seine and manifested to all the world, that thosse that feare him might be confirmed to trust in his mighty pouer and goodnesse, and his enimes might be astonished and confounded.

Tuesday, the 14 day of Januarij, 1651.

Rege presente.

The shiffdomme of Perthe puttis out by ther actes, foote, 2,400, to be diuydit betweene the 3 Colonells, E. of Atholl, Colonell William Drumond, and the Master of Gray; as also that eurey 1,090 lib. rent putt out a trouper, forby the heritors wponer ther best horses themselves. For this the Committee of the Shyre petitioned the Committee of Estates, that they might be allowed for the forsaid proportion of horse and foote, to haue doone ther deuty. The presenters of this petione and acte wer the Lairds of Layes, Bachilton, Balmodey, Moncreiffe, Easter-Balgoney.

The Committee of Estates did returne them this answer, that they could not dispence with the acte of parliament amant the foote; and as for the horsse, they could gee no lower then eurey 1000 merkes of rent to putt out a trouper.

The Committee of Estates thought, that if the shyre did ther deuty in aney resonable maner in ther lewies of horsse and foote, that then it wer better to giue them a pardon, then to dispence with the acte of parliament in aney sorte, in respecte it wold east all losse.

Owdred that the Committee for Provisions and Armes meitt to morrow at — a clooke in the morning, in the Marques of Argyles chamber.

Ordred that suche gentlemen, officers and others, quho wants imployment, and cannot be modeled in the present lewey, that they draw togider and put themselves in troupes and regiments, and submitt themselves lykwayes to the haill orders, lawes and constitutions of the kingdome; and that they shall be alloued to joyne with the armey, and doe ther indeuor for the King, kingdome, couenant, leauge and covenant. This order was brought in to be past in act, bot the Committee of Estaits did sub-committ the bussines, and to report the nixt day; and till then ordanid them to list themselves, and that they be suche persons as are not excludit by the actes of the Comissione of the Generall Assembly and parliament.

The anssuer of all thesse bills and petitions was, some easse granted in ther quarterings to sueetin ther insupportable burdens and oppressions.

Februarij, 1651. The first 15 dayes of Februarij, this zeire, his Maiesty red to the heid and foordes of the riuер Forth, and caussete fortifie them. He visited the garisone of Stirlinge, Inche Garney, Brunt-Iyland ; from thence he was one night in the Wymees, one in Anstruther ; from thence he reed to Craill and St. Andrewes ; and one Saterday, the 15 day of Februarij, hes Mat^e came at night to the Strugther, quher he was entertained by the Earle of Craufurd till Monday the 17 day. From thence his Maiesaty past to Perthe, quher he stayed till Fryday the 21 of Februarij, one wiche day, he from thence tooke his iorney north, and one Fryday cam all night to Dundie ; one Setterday he went to Ky-naird, quher he stayed till Monday, and from thence went to Dunnottyre one Monday, and one Tuesday to Aberdeine.

Ther went with him of noblemen, Duck Hamilton, Marq: of Argyle, E. of Louthean, Principall Secretarey, E. of Eglintone, E. of Dumfermling, E. of Lauderdaill, Vis: Neubrughe, &c.

Ducke Hamilton wold haue had his Maiestie returning from Monrosse, bot Argyle carried it that he should goe forward.

My Lord Balcarras gaue his Maiestie a banquett at his housse, quher he stayed some tuo houres, and vistited his ladey that then lay in one Setterday, 22 day, befor he went from Dundie.

One Tursday, the 20 of Febjrij, 1651, his Maiestie and Comittee of Estaits, by ther acte, ordaind Mr James Guthrie, minister at Stirling, and his co-leauge, Bennett, quho had excussed ther not com-pirance the day befor, being wrettin for to come to Perthe, and ther to remaine confynned from returning to Stirling, wntill his Maiesties returne thither from the northe; his Maiestie being no souner gone vpone Fryday, bot they come to Perth and dealls with the committee ther, that they may returne back againe to Stirling. To gratifie them, the Chanceler calls a committee of his auen stampe one Saterday, thinking to carrey by woyces, since, as he thought, maney of the barrons and burrowes, committe men, wer gone offe the toune. Bot they being adwertised of the bussines, and considering the importance of the same, most of them stayed. After muche debait, wither or no thesse tuo ministers should stay in Perthe, conforme to the former acte, wntill his Maiesties returne backe, ore goe back to Stirling? The Earle of Cassiles said, quhat if his Mat^e did neuer returne, was it resson that they should stay from ther charge? Maney honest men of the committee wer offendit with this expressione of Cassiles, and the Chancelors too forwardnes; bot at last it went to a wotte, and was carried, that conforme to the former ordinance, Mr Guthrie and Bennett should stay confynned in Perth, and not goe backe to Stirling wntill his Maiesties returne from the northe.

Guthrie, a pryme enimy to monarchie, a cheiffe plotter of all the westerne remonstrance, diuisione and mischeiffe, and a maine preacher for the sectaries, 21 Februarij, 1651. Whill his Maiestie was at Dundie, William, Earle of Roxbrughe, one Fryday, some houres after his Maiesties arriuell, did pro- posse to his Mat^e ia his bed chamber, a tretteyn with Cromwell. To him he returned no ansuer at all; bot after he was gone out, he said to a confidant, since Roxbrughe was so, he did not weill know quhom to trust. This wes dounre heir a purposse to tray his Maiestie hou he wold relishe suche a bus- sines at first, befor they entered more seriously with him; wich was resolued to be done at Aberdeine.

Fryday, 21 Febrij, 1651. About 4 in the euining Tantallon castle, in Louthean, was randred to Crom- well, after he had battred at the for wall 12 dayes continually with grate canon. Capitane Alexander Setton defendit the same gallantly; bot after that the enimeyes canon had oppind a werey large breache, and filled the dray ditche with the wall, he entred it by storme. The Capitane and thesse few men [which] wer with him, betooke themselues to [the] tower, and resolued to sell ther liues at als good a rait as they could, if that quarter should [be] denayed them; bot the enimey seinng them stand gallantly to it, preferrid them quarters, wich they excepted.

In the begining of Februarij, this zeire, Sr Arch- bald Jhonston, the Register, being a longe tyme at Edinbrughe one pretext of bringing the registers from Edinbrughe castle, after that traitorous willane Dundas had besley and couardly randred the same to the enimey, had diuersse meittings ther with Cromuell; and abonte the midle of the same mounthe he cam to Perthe, and had priuey conference with his Maiestey, ane houer and a halffe, in his bed chamber; and therafter, within 2 dayes, returned to Culross, quher be abode. Not that he refusseth to subscribe the actes of parliament past in December and Januarij this zaire, at Perthe, and wold not stay and attend his Maiestie and the estaitis, bot remoued from Perth to Stirling, Culrosse and Brunt-Iyland, quher it was thought that by his meines the magistratts of the toun wer corrupted, and some in Stirling also.

Holburne, Capitane of Stirling castle, beinng suspected to haue wnderhande dealing with Cromwells agents, and being werey intaire with Mr Guthrie, was, in the end of December, 1650, sent for by the King and park to Perthe, to quhom he cleir-ed himself; yet wer maney honest men still jelous of him.

About the midle of Febrnarij, this zaire, 1651, some Scottsmen that loued ther countrey, brought from Craigesergus, in Irland, ane English shipe, go-ing from Londondarey to the Ile of Butte; quher, after ther arriuell, they adwertised his Maiestie and estaitis therof at Perth, 19 of this same mounthe. Ther wes in her 1100 ells of broad clothe, 700 suites of made clothes, and als maney read cottes, 250 carbines, 500 musketts, with powder and matches, and other small thinges.

In this same mounthe of Febrerij: 1651, the Committee of Estaits, amongst other maney and grieuous burdens, layed one vpone the shires be northe Forthe, 160 horsse for his Maiesties meniall seruants, and for carring of his baggage, ore 200 merkes Scotts, for the pice of them; of wch proportion Fyffe was to furnishe 17, at 300 for eache horsse.

In this same mounthe, ther wer quartered in Fyffe, 12 regiments of horsse and 5 of foote, at 18 sh. a day the trouper, and 8 sh. the footeman,

Mr James Guthrie and Mr Dauid Bennett, ministers at Stirling, ther protestatione, giuen in to the Committee of Estaits, at Perth, 22 Februarij, 1651.

Quheras the Kinges Maiestie and your Lordships haue beine pleased, wpon a narrative relating to our doctrine and ministeriall dewties, to desyre and requyre ws to repaire to this place, against the 19 day of this instant; that after heiring of ourselves, suche coursse may be takin as shall be found most necessarey for the safety of that place quherin wee serue in the ministrie: Therfor conceauing the judi-eatories of the churche to be the onlie proper judges of our doctrine and our carriages in thosse thinges that concerns our ministeriall calling; and wee doe for the respecte wee [haue] to his Maiestie and your (Lo:) authority, compeir at this tyme, being desyrous to heir quhat is to be said wnto ws, and redey to anssuer therwnto; so wee humblie protest, that our compirance is with preseruatione of the liberties and præuillidges of the Churche of Scotland, and of the ministers and seruants of Jesus Christ, in thesse thinges that doe relait to ther doctrine and the dewties of their ministeriall function. And that tho wee be most willing to rander ane ressone of our wretting to the Commissione of the Generall Assemblie, a letter, containing the groundes of our stumbling at the present resolutions of this kirke and stait, in order to a leuie, and of our preaching aganist thesse resolutions, as involuing ane coniunctione with the malignant partie in the land, wiche wee hold to be contrair to the word of God, to the leauge and couenant, to our soleme ingagements, and to the constant tenor of the declarations, remonstrances, warninges, causses of humiliation, and vther resolutions of the kirke thosse zeires past; and to be destructiue to the couenant and caus of God, and scandalous and offensiu to the godlie, and a heighe prowoking the eyses of [the] Lords glorie. And of our protestinng aganist ane appeallinge from the desyre and chaire of the Commissione of the Generall Assembly in this particular, and in our persisting in preaching the same doctrine. Zet that our compeiring befor the Kinges Maietie and your (Lo:) doeth not import ane acknowledgment in ws, that his Maiestie and your (Lo:) are the proper iudges of thosse thinges; and this protestatione wee make, not for aney disrespects to the Kinges Maiestie and your (Lo:) authoritie, not to declyne or disobey the same in aney thing ciuil, bot from the tender regard whic we haue to the libertie and præuillidges of the church of Jesus Christ, wiche his Maiestie and your (Lo:) and wee are in a soleme way bound to manteine inwirable. Wee acknowledge that the Kings Maiestie and your (Lo:) are the laufull authoritey of the land, to quhome wee shall be most willinge and red ey to giue obedience in all whic wee shall be commandit, according to the will of God; or if in aney thinges your commands shall fall out to be contraire to that reule, wee shall patiently, in the Lords strenthe, submitt ourselue to aney ciuill censure that ze shall thinke fitt to inflicte vpone ws.

The anssuer of the Commission of the Generall Assembly to the paper sent to them for the King and parliament, concerning Mr James Guthrie and Mr Dauid Bennett.

Perth, 18 Martij, 1651.

The Commissione of the Generall Assembly hauing receaved first from Mr James Guthrie and Mr Dauid Bennett, ministers at Stirling, and afterward from the Kings Maiestie and parliament, tuo protestations made by thesse brethren aganist the proceedinges of his Maiestie and the Committee of Estates with them, in relatione to the securing of Stirling from aney danger wiche might ensue therinto, by the doctrine and carriage of the said brethren, contrair to the present publicke resolutions, in relation to acting for defence of the kingdome and causse against the publicke enimey; and being desyred by his Maiestie and parliament to giue ther adwisse and oppinione, wther the Committee of Estates, in ther proceeding with ther brethren, hes done aney thing preiudicall to the preuiledges and liberties of the kirke; to vindicat the publick resolutions of kirke and stait, in order to acting aganist the enemie, from the imputatione layed ther-

one in the forsaid protestations; to giue ther oppinione, wither the Committee of Estaits hes wronged ther brethren, contrair to the law of nature, the law of God, and the lawes of the land, by ordring them to remaine at Perth or Dundie, wntill his Maiesties returne from Aberdeine; that in a more full meitting of the committee it might be determined quhat should be done further with them, in relatione to the saftie of Stirling; and finally, to giue ther adwice quhat now shall be done further to the presenters of the forsaid protestations, for the securing of the garrisons of Stirlinge. Therfor the commission, hauing takin to ther consideracione the forsaid protestations, and being informed of the proceidinges of the committee with the presenters therof, haue thought fitt, in obedience to the desyre of the King and parliament, and for the discharge of the trust comitted to them, to giue this declaracione and anssuers followeth:—

1. That they find it a thing lawfull for ministers, citted and compeiring befor the ciuile magistrate, vpone matters relatinge to ther doctrine and carriage in ther ministeriall dewties, to protest, that ther compirance be with preseruation, and without all preuidice of the liberties and preuelidges of the kirke and of the ministers of Christ, in thesse thinges that relate to the doctrine and deuties of ther ministeriall function; and that the forsaid brethren com-piring, vpone matters of that kynd, befor the committee, had no wayes faylled in doing so, had they contented themselues with a simple protestation to this purposse.

2. That they doe not find that the Kinges Mat^es and Committee of Estaits, in requyrring the for-said brethren to compeir befor them, or the Committee of Estaits, in ordaining them to stay at Perth or Dundie, w^tatill a fuller meitting of the committee, haue not trenched or incroched vpone the liberties or preuilidges of the kirke, or wronged the same in aney wayes; for, first, quheras, in the first protestatione, made vpone the King and committees requyrring the brethren to compeir, and ther compirance, the ground of the protestation is layed doun to be, that they wer citted vpone a naratiue relating to ther doctrine and ministeriall dewties, and that the judicatories of the kirke are the only and competent judges of thesse thinges. These is so far from evidencing aney incrochment made by the King and committee vpone the preuilidges of the kirke, that one the contrarey, as thus layed doun, without aney qualificatione, it importeth a grate wronging of the iust right of the ciuill magistrat, as if it wer not proper to him in aney caisse to judge of thesse matters, which is contrair to the doctrine of the quhole Reformed Kirke in generall, and particularlie of this Kirke of Scotland; to witt, that the ciuell magistrat hes power and authoritie, and is oblidged, in his ciuell and coerciuе way, to censure and punishe idolatrie, schisme, vnsound doctrine, ministers neglecte or perwersnes in doing ther ministeriall deuties and functions; and if he may and ought to censure and punishe thesse thinges, may he not citte ministers to compeir befor him, vpone ane naratiue relating to thinges of that kynd, without encrotching or wronging the liberties and preuelidg-es of the kirke?

The Generall Assembley of this Kirke, in A^o 1647, in ther approbatione of the 8 heades of the 3 propositions, (wich wer recommended to be examined by the theologicke faculties for a more particular approbatione of the assembly) holdeth furthe, that notwithstanding the ecclesiasticke gouerniment is intrusted and committed by Chryste to the Assemblies of the Kirke, &c. &c. zet the ciuell magistrat ought to suppresse, by corporall or ciuile punishment, suche, as by spreding errors or heresies, or by fomenting schisime, gratly dishoners God, dangerously hurte religion, and disturbe the peace of the kirke; and the same propositions proposed, holdethe furthe, that the orthodox kirkes beleiue, and doe willinglie acknouledge, that eurey lawfull magistrate, being appoynted the keper of bothe the tables of the law, may, and ought, cheifflie to take caire of Gods glorie, &c.; as lykwayes, to punnishe als weill atheists, blasphemers, heretickes and schismaticks, as troublers of justice and ciuile peace; and propo: 63, the same sin, in the same man, may be punished one way by the ciuile magistrat, and ane vther way by the ecclesiasticke power; by the ciuile power, wnder the formalitie of a cryme, with corporall or pecuniall punishment: by the ecclesiasticke pouer, wnder the notion and nature of a scandall, with spiritual censure, euen as the same ciuill questione is one way handled by the magistrat in the senat, and ane other way by the ministrie in the presbeterie. See also the lait Confessione of Faith, in the head of the ciuile magistrat, and Dido-clauius, in his Altare de primatu regio; and Mr Rutherfurd, in his dew right of presbeteries, is werey full and cleir; as page 287, A pouer external obiectiue aboute kirke matters, as to causse kirkmen doe ther dewtie, is proper to the magistrat; page 393, in his 3d conclusione, especially 394, The King is not only to punishe quhat is contrair to externall quietnesse, bot also quhat is contraire to supernaturall happinesse of the kirke; for he is to take vengeance vpone blasphemers, idolators, profest vnbelieuers, neglecte of religious administratione of sealls, and the eatting and drinking damnation at the Lords table; and page 397, The King, as a nursinge father, aught to see that the chyldes milke be good and quholosome, though he it come not out of his auen breist, so that it seimeth werey strange that the magistratts requyring thesse brethren to compeir vpone a narratiue relatinge to ther doctrine, &c.; and the alledgeance that the magistrat is no proper iudge in suche matters, should be made the ground of the protestation, as if the magistrat could in no wisse lawfully, as a judge, interposse himselfe in matters of that kynd. If to all this the brethreen should say, that quhat they seike of being citted vpone a narratiue relatting to ther doctrine and ministeriall dewties, &c. and the King and committee as not being proper judges in thesse thinges, as the ground of ther protestatione, they meane it in a way antecedent to the kirkes judgeing. To this it is ansuered, that it is trew indeid that the magistrat ought not to judge ministers in the matters of ther doctrine and ministeriall dewties, by ane antecedent judgement; bot first, ther is not one sylable of this qualification wssed in all the first protestatione made vpone the citatione and compirance befor the committee. Secundo, the committee hes not proceeded with them in a way antecedent to the kirke judicatorey, quich is the cheiffe thing to be obserued for cleering bothe the requisition and the committees ordinance for ther abyding in this toune or at Dundie from the imputacione of incrotching vpone the liberties and præuillidges of the Kirke; for quheras the Commission of the Generall Assembly hes not only giuen ther judgment in poynt of conscience concerning the coursee to be takin for acting aganist the publicke enimy oppressing the land by wniust violence, bot also finding that thesse brethreen wer preaching aganist that publicke resolutione, to the hindring and obstructinge therof, and making a dangerous diuision in the kirke and kingdome ; and being desyred by the last sessions of the parliament to take some coursse for preventing the danger, by vssing diligence to satisfie the brethreen, and inducing them to concurre, at least not to hinder the publicke resolution. The commission had accordingly, at St. Andrewes, takin paines for satisfying them ; and not hauing obtained that, had judicially desyred the brethreen not to speike or doe aney thing to the hindering or obstructing acting according to the publick resolution ; and quheres the brethreen had protested aganist that desyre of the commission, and appealed to the Generall Assemabley ; and the comission, according to the command of the parliament, had made knouen to the Committee of Estates the quhote proceeding at St. Andrewes : how can it be said that the committee hes takin aney antecedent judgement vpone them in this matter ? or how can it be sayed that ther hes not preceidit ane antecedent judgement of the kirke, so far as is sufficient for the magistrat, in ane orderly way, to interposse his authority, that the brethreen may not, by ther preaching and doing contrair to the publicke resolution, make aney diuisione in the kirke and kingdome, or endanger the same, to the violence of the enimy? Tertio, lett it be considered, that the Kinges Maiestie being bound to follow, not only the judgement of the Generall Assembly in maters that concern religione, bot also of the commissione in the interwalls of the Assemblies; and now, quhill in prosecution of the aduice of the commissione, he and the estaits are following ane necessarie dewtie for preseruation of the kirke, kingdome, liberties, liues and all that is deire wnto ws; and they find the commissions desyre to thosse brethren aganist ther preaching, to the obstruction of the publicke bussines and resolutions, protested and appealed from, and a publicke profession made by the brethren of ther purpos to continew still preaching, contrair to ther resolutions, to the slakinng of the hands of the people of God in the land, and strenthining of the handes of the enimy: shall it be judged wnlawfull for the King and the estaits, or counted ane encrotching vpone the liberties and prenilidges of the kirke, to doe so much as requyre thosse brethren to compeire befor them, or to ordaine them to abyde some tyme at distance from ther chaire, for restraining this euill, and preuenting so grate a danger as might ensew vpone it? Nay, certainlie wee cannot bot conceaue it rather ane adding of the magistrats auxiliatorie and cumulatiue power, for strenthning the kirke judicatorey. As to that, the brethreen sayes they haue not bein befor conveined befor aney ecclesiastick judicatorey, nor convicted for breache of aney ecclesiastick acte ; for the first, wee say, tho they wer not conveined by a summons, a more tender respecte being hade towardes them, yet wer they delt with by a kirke judicatorey vpone the matter in hand.

And for the second, lett it be considered, if ther publicke acknouledgement of preaching against the publicke resolution of the commission, and protestation aganist the commissions desyre to absteine therfra, and professed resolutione to continew therin, to the dewyding of the people of God in this land, and obstructing the seruice for defence of the kingdome and causse, be not equiwalent.

Tertio, The commission does find that the brethreen, in ther first protestation, renewed and owned againe, in the quhilke they make a profession of ther willingnes to render a resson for ther wretting to the commission, &c. a foul and most wniust aspersione to charge the commissione in going in a contrarietie to the word of God, to the soleme leauge and couenant, our wowes, engagements, declarations, fastinges, in a coursse destructiue to the couenant and causse of God, and prouoking of the eyes of the Lordes glorie.

2. The chaire is most wniust, for how shall it be made out that the resolutione of the commission involved a coniunctione with a malignant partiey, wiche alledgeance is the fundatione of all the rest? Does not the resolutione of the commissione expressly except suche as continew obstinat enimies to the couenant and causse? that is, suche as continew in malignancy, or are aney quho haue beine one malignant coursses, admited to our knowledge, or with our approbatione, bot suche as giue satisfaction for ther offence; and how can or aught men, renuncing ther malignancy, satisfying for ther offence, giuing therby, according to the ordinances and reuells of the Generall Assembley, be still reput malignants? and how can a coniunction with them, after suche satisfactione, be counted a coniunction with malignants, or the malignant partie? Quhay should the Gen: Ass: prescriued reuells for receauing suche as haue beine vpone malignant courses, if the purposse of the kirke was not to admitt them to repentance, and if to repentance, certainly to all the ordinances; and if to ordinances, quhat shadow of resson can ther be not to admitt them to fight for ther liues, religion, King and countrie? especially one of the particulares prescriued in receauing of them, be the renewing of the leauge and couenant, wiche layeth vpon them to defend religion, &c. all persons that hes beine in a way of malignancy, will ather satisfie not. If they satisfie according to the acte of the Assembly, they must renew the leauge and covenant, and be admitted to the ordinances; and so, by far grater resson, to fight in defence of the kingdom, &c. If they satisfie not, (as they will neuer be accounted to satisfie by the commissione, wlesse they doe it according to the reuels of the assembly,) they are to be excommunicat, and so are excludid by the resolutions of the commission.

Tertio. This aspersione heire is cast vpon the commission without aney necessity; ther protestatione wold haue beine full and compleit aneuche, tho nothing of this had beine insert; for quheras the letter of the King and committee sent to the brethren, requyring them to compeire at Perth, makes relatione to ther wretting a letter to the commission contrair to the publicke resolution, and ther protesting against, and appealling from the commission at St. Andrewes, (in order to wiche relatione, the brethren takes occasion to insert all this protestation,) that was not intendit as a matter they wer to be challenged vpon by the Committee of Estates, bot only sett doun as a ground quhervpon the committee perceaneid they wer resoluued to continew in ther preaching aganist the publicke resolution; and that therfor the committee behoued to see to the securing of Stirling, from the danger wiche might ensue vpon ther protestation; bot to cast ane aspersion vpon the commissione, in all papers that should flow from them, vpon the procedinges of the kirke and estaits with them.

Quarto. That wee not being judges in ciuile matters, cannot determine wither the Committee of Estaits, in ther order of proceeding with the brethren, and ordaining them to abyde at Perth or Dundie, wntill a fuller meitting of the committee, hes wronged them in aney preuiledge dew to the subiects, by the law of nature ore the lawes of the land; and wee doublet not bot the Committee of Estaits will endeouore to cleire ther anen proceedinges.

Quinto. That nather is it competent to ws to give ane adwysse quhat should be furder done by the King and committees in relation to ther forsayd brethren, for securing of Stirling from the danger that may ensue vpon ther opposing the publicke resolutions; onlie wee expecte, and are confident, that his Maiestie and estaits, as they have begune, so they will continew to deall with thesse brethren with all tendernes, in sna far as may consist with the security of that place wherin they shall be, and preseruation of the causse and kingdome.

Sic subscribitur,

A. Ker.

Memorandum, 25 Apprili, 1651. That one Fryday the 25 of Appryle, Archbald Hamiltone, brother to Robert Hamiltone of Milburne, for giuing dayly intelligence to Oliuer Cromwell and the sectarian enimey, wes arranid of heighe tresson, and condemned to be hanged on a gallous in chaines, so longe as one bone could hange at ane other of him ; wiche sentence was put to execusion this day at Stirlinge.

1 Maij. One Causton, that had a letter of marcke, tooke a floyte, laddin with 1200 bolls of whytte, 100 bolls of whyte peasse, some barells of stronge watter, and some barells of butter, one the cost of England, and sent her to Pittinweime, this mounthe.

The parliament that wes adiorned wntill the 17 of Apryle this zeire, wes adiorned againe wntill Wedinsday, the 21 of Maij.

In Apryle, this zeire, the Commiss; of the Generall Assembly mett at Falkland ; they wrett letters to the Committees of Estait and for the Armeys, that they wold now leaue the particulare intrests, and joyne cordially aganist the publicke enimey, and emitted a declaration for that purpos ; and appoynted a meitting at Stirling, one Tuesday the 13 of Maij, to giue ther oppinion anent the lawfulness of the acte of classis, and if without sin it might be reschindit or not.

The 6 of Maij, ther was a grate meitting of the Committee of Estaits at Stirling, quherin the electing of the Earle of Calender to be Felte Marishall of the Armeys, that had now ioyned himselue to the Campbells, wes waued and putt offe ; and 2 Generall Maiors of Foote chosen, viz. Collonell Pitscottey, and Dalzell of Binns. At this meitting, lykwayes, it was ordained that the Committee of Estaits shoulde not medle with the adiorning of the parliament, wntill the 20 of Maij instant, at wch tyme ther was a frequent meitting of the said committee appoynted ; and then the Commission of the Generall Assembly wold present ther oppinion anent the acte of classis.

At this meitting, Meine, sone to Johne Meine, merchant of Edinbrughe, being apprehendit for a spay, and a giuer of intelligence to Cromwell, wch he confessed, wnder his hand, was remitted to be judged and sentenced by a Councell of Yarre, and committed to closse prisson.

Oliver Cromwell, with his armey, being at this tyme in Glasgow, had a conference with 8 ministers, anent the lawfullnes of his engagement aganist this countrey and kingdome ; he gaue them some papers, whch they answuered ex tempore, and proued to his face his periurey and breache of couenant and leauge, and his sinfull rebellion and murther, contrair to [the] expresse word of God, and leauge and couenant suorne by himselfe and most of his complices. He toke the morrow at 8 in the afternoone to his furder conference with them ; and maney of his cheiffest officers did openly acknowledg, they were conuincid in reson, and never till now did see the weaknes of ther auen grounds. In place of keiping the appoynted meitting, (seing a fyre to begin to kindle amongst his auen) aboute midnight that same day, he commands all his armey presently to marche, wnder the paine of death, backe towardes Edinbrughe ; and empties all his garisons be west Linlithgow ; sends his horses towrdes the border, and with grate haist, with his footte, returns to Edinbrugh and Leith ; and is now bussie in repairing the breaches of Edinbrughe castle.

Housounauer he returnid from the west, he sent the Earle of Eglinton, and his sone James, whch wer trayterously takin at Dumbartan in ther bedes, and till now kepte prisoners in Edinbrughe castle, with a gaurd of horsse, to Hull, ther to remaine prisoners.

Friday, 16 Maij, 1651. A Scottis frigat tooke ane Englishe shipe, of a 12 tynes, laded with bisquett, beire, butter, cheisse, and wther proueant, and brought her in to the Elie; his name that tooke her was Murray. The bisquett they willinglie gaue to the armey, and the shipe and other commodities they had to themselves.

The 13 day of this same Maij, thesse of Kingorne tooke a litle Englishe prysse, also loden with malte, beire, and some other small commodities.

At this tyme, younge Meine being condemnid at Stirling by a Counsaill of Warre, and going to be hanged, was pardoned of lyffe by his Maiestie, in respecte his father, olde Johne Meine, in Edinbrughe, putt him oute to the L. Sessio 2d. trienalis parl:

The parliament satte doun at Stirling the 21 of this mounthe of Maij, 1651.

Acte rescinding the Acte of Classes.

At Stirling, the penult day of Maij, 1651 zeires, our Soueraine Lord and Estaits of Parliament hauing, in the last sessione of parl: at Perth, the 19 day of Marche, 1651, proponid to the Commissione of the Generall Assembly the followung quere, viz. Wither or not it be sinfull and vnlawfull, for the more effectuall prosecutione of the publick resolutions for the defence of the causse of the King and kingdome, to admitt sick persons to be members of the Committee of Estaits, quho are now debarred from the publick truste; they being such as haue satisfied the kirk for the offence for wich they wer excludit, and are since admitted to enter in couenant with ws? Lykeas, vpon the last of Marche, 1651, hauing sent ane letter to the Commission of the Generall Assembley, expressing a desyre of a more ample resolution in relation to the persons debarred from the publicke truste; viz. that his Maiestie and Estaits of Parliament, being desyrous that al grounds of miswnderstanding amone the subiects of this kingdome be remoued, and ther may be ane harty and vnanimous concurrence in the defence therof aganist the comon enimey; and for that end, that the actes of classes, (wich are conceaued to be a grate obstructione in the way of that vnanimitey wher so necessary at this tyme of so grate and comon danger to all,) may be takin away and rescindit; doe intreat most earnistly a meitting of the comission may be called at Perth, the 17 of Apryle, that after a dew consideration of the actes and declarations emitted by the churche, and the other groundes contained in the narratiue of thesse mentioned actes of classes, in so farr as conscience can be concerned therin; his Maiestie and parliament may haue a positiue anssuer, not onlie to the last quere, in the tearmes quherin it was proponid, but haue lykwayes ther cleire and deliberat judgement and resolution, if it be sinfull and vnlawfull to repeal and rescind the actes of classes, whic apparently will tend to wnitey. And it being now in this parliament humbley desyred by the said commissione, befor they giue in aney judgement concerning the forsayd questions, that the particulars after following, offred be them, be enacted in parliament, as necessar for the security of religion, the worke of reformation, and persons quho haue beine stedfast in the couenant and causse, and as aggrieable to the former grounds and principalls, wiche ought to be inviolably obserued.

And our Souerainge Lord and Estaits of Parliament hauing takin the same vnto consideracione, they doe ratifie and approue all lawes, actes of parliament, whch are for establishing and promoting of religion and the worke of reformation, especially suche as hes beine since the zeire 1648 for that effects; and declares this generall ratification therof, without the particalar enumeratione of the same, to be als walide and sufficient, as if they wer particularly sett donne heirin; and ordaines the same, as being necessarey for the good and security of religion, the worke of reformation, and persons quho haue beine stedfast in the couenant and causse, vpone ther former groundes, to stand vnrepealable in all tyme coming. Lykas our Soueraigne Lord and Estaits of Parliament ratifies and approwes the acte of parl: of the date the 17 of Februarij, 1649, (entituled, acte for keeping the judicatories and places of truste free of corruption,) in all the heads and artickells therof, ordaining the same to be inviolably kept and obserued as a perpetuall law, in all tyme coming. As also, our Soueraing Lord and Estaits of Parl: ratifies and approwes all places of power and trust in the judicatories, armies, and offices of estait; and ordaines all quho haue beine putt in the saides places and offees since the zeire 1648, ore quho are therin at this present tyme, shall continew therin, and inioy the same, according to the seuerall rights therto, and conforme to the lawes of the kingdome alredy made for that effecte; provyding allwayes that they be assuerable for aney faults committed be them in ther seids offices and places, or wiche they shall happen to commit, against the lawes and actes of parliament, made, or to be made in aney tyme heirafter. Lyk-wayes it is statute and ordained, that aney of the present members of parliament now presently sitting therin, or aney quho shall be admitted in aney time heirafter to sitt therin, shall neuer directly nor indirectly seike ore endeuor a repale of aney lawes and actes of parliament forsaides. As also, it is statute and ordained, that all persons quhatsomeuer, and euery one of them, quho are excludit from offices and places of trust, in parl: or elsquhere, and quho has beine, or shall be admitted heirafter, ather to sitt in parliament, or to the exercisse and inioymant of aney office or place of trust ore power, shall giue band to the estaits of parliament, they being sitting, or to suche as shall be authorised by the estaits of parliament, in the interwall betuix parliaments, for that effecte; that they shall neuer, directly or indirectly, seeke or endewor to repealle aney of the for-

saides lawes and actes of parliament; and that they shall neuer, directly nor indirectly, seeke to reuenge themselues aney way vpone aney man, for opposing them in the matter of the sinfull and vnlawfull engagement, or for opposing them in, or censuring them for, aney malignant coursse whatsomeuer; and that they shall not at aney tyme quarrell, nor indeuore to alter aney of the saids offices, or places of truste ore power, as they are presently possesed, according to the seuerall persons ther rights therof, contraire to this present acte of parliament; with certificatione, that if aney of the afforsaid persons formerly excluded, as said is, and quho are alredy admitted, or quho shall hapin to be admitted heirafter, ather to sitt in parliament, or to the exercisse or inioyment of aney office or place of trust or power, shall faill therin, and doe in the contrarey heirof; and that the samen being found and declared be the parliament or Committee of Estaits, at least ane 3d pairt of the number of the members of the said committee being present, and the partiey complainid vpone being citted to compeire befor the said committee, vpon 20 and one dayes, if he be within the kingdome, and threscore dayes, if he be without; or be the Priuey Counsaill, the maior pairt therof being present, and ther being no commission standing for a Committee of Estaits, the partiey lykwayes complained vpone being citted, vpone the same free

dayes, as befor the Committee of Estaites, that they be declared aganist in so doing, as malignants, and as returners wnto ther former sinfull wayes ; and shall amitt and losse ther capacitey of sitting in parl: or of injoying of aney other office or place of trust or power, quherin they are for the tyme, and shall be theirafter remowded therfra, and the place to be declared voyde, and to be filled conforme to the lawes of the kingdome.

The Band wch the excludit persons are to subscribe at ther entrey to parliament.

Quheras by acte of parliament, daitit at Stirling, the penult day of Maij, 1651, we, wndersubscruers, are ordained to giue band to the Estaites of Parliament, they being sitting, ore to suche as shall be authorized by them, in the interwall of parliament, that wee shall neuer, directly or indirectly, seeke ore indewor to repeale aney of the lawes or aetes of parliament wiehe are for establishing and promoueing of religione, especiaially suche as haue beine since the zeire 1648 for that effecte, and sicklyke ; that wee shall neuer, directly or indirectly, seike to reuenge ourselues aney way vpone aney man, for opposing ws in the matter of the sinfull ingagement, ore for opposing ws in, or censuring ws for, aney malignant coursse quhatsomeuer ; and that wee shall not quarrell, nor endewore to alter aney offices, or places of truste or power, as they are presentlie possesed, according to the seuerall persons ther rights therof, contraire to the forsaid acte of parliament, daited the penulte of Maij, 1651. Therfor, wee [bind] and oblidege ws to obtemper and obey the said acte in all the premisses, with certificatione, and wnder the paine following, viz. That if - - - or aney of ws, shall faill in the premyss, or aney of them doe in the contraire heirof, then (the samen being found and declared be the parliament, or Committee of Estaits, ore Priuey Counsaill, in maner as is expresse in the said acte of parliament, of the penulte of Maij, 1651) wee shall amitt and loose our capacitey of sitting in parliament, or of inioying of aney other office, or place of truste, ore power, quherin wee are for the tyme; and shall be content therafter to be remowded therfrae, that the place may be declared woyde, and filled conforme to the lawes of the kingdome.

Memorandum. That about the latter end of Maij, during the sitting of the parl: the La: of Preston, Hamilton, Ducke Hamiltons Leuetenant, tooke from the Englishe, neir Carnwathe, 100 horsses, withe sadells and pistolls; and Corasse Ballantyne, neire Linlithgow, killed and tooke 2 troupes of dragoneires; as also Leuetenant Bunteine, the 19 day of Maij, neire Pasley, defait a troupe of 60

horsse, and killed ore tooke prisoners the most of them, and brought them to Stirlinge.

Thesse are some of the pryme remonstrators whch haue not subscribed the band, and found caution.

Mr Robert Blair, his animadversions on the remonstrance emitted by the vesterne forces, Octob: 1651.

Ther is no questione maney sade truthe ar layed doun in the remonstrance, vsse quherof wold be made, and remeid therof wold be sought in a right way ; bot vnder the pretext therof to make a seces-sione from the publicke counsells and forces of the kingdome, and to gratifie the wicked invader of the land, by laing opin the nakednesse of the reulers, exageratting eurey miscarriage or apperiance, as if they had bein hyred by our enimies to agent ther bussines, cannot he bot greiuous to the godlie, quhe are not preoccupied with preipudicis ; and this so much the more greiuous, that the cuning slight of some malcontents, weill acquainted with publicke consultations, hath intangled not a few gentlemen, werey worthey, whosse constancey in the causse of God is weill knownen. The continuers and panners of this peice, perceiving quhat strange and vnber-seiming language they wer wttering, saw it necessa-rey to take away maney obiections that lay in ther way ; and that both in the entrey and closee ther-of, assining that successe had not altered ther mynd. That they iudge not themselues free of the causses of the prowoking calamities. That in vttering thesse thinges, they haue not beine led with the spirit of bitterness ore desyre to discouer the nakednes of wthers ; and that they haue not the least deseinge to follow the foottsteps of the sectarian partie, they may weill say (I mein the continuers of the remonstrance) they had not the least dessinge ; for in that essay they haue outacted the sectaries. Thesse men did much in order to publicke good, befor they spake biglie; bot done nothing since, saue that they haue drawin away considerable forces, raissed at wast charges for the publicke defence. This speaketh nothing lesse then abandoning to carrie one ther deseinge in the last wordes of ther paper; and that ther discoursse may be the more taking, they put one the persons of thesse quho are speaking ther

last wordes, being zet far eneuch from all danger.
It is hard to aney man to judge with quhat heartes and intentions thesse things wer contriued. I speake not of the gentlemen and ministers quhom I durst absolute; bot of the projecters and penners of this remonstrance. Bot lett ther auen spiritts judge, if the most reall and cordiall enimies our causse had,
wold haue acted wtherwayes, to pour contempte one ws, and to heatin wndertakings against ws. Iff ze be all constant in the causse, quhat meinethe the loud bleatting queries sent to our aduersaries, ane odious cryme, audacious to priuat persons to correspond withe ane opin enimey, quho haue shed the blood of Gods people, and receaue anssuers to the same? Iff this concearne not them all, how is it that they quho are constant and faithfull, declare not against suche quho haue falsified ther trust, and quheat ther toungue against King and committee, quhom they should obey in the Lord?

17 Julij, 1651. Cromuell past ouer a grate pairt of his armey from Lothean to Fyffe one Thursday the 17 day of Julij, 1651, at the neucke below the Queinsferrey, and fortified himselue one the hill betuix the Ferrey and Innaerkethen. He landit without aney oppositione at all in effecte.

20 Julij, 1651. One Sunday the 20 day of Julij, 1651, a partey of ours sent from the armey at Stirling, consisting of 2,500 horsse and footte, rancountered 10,000 of the Englishe, commandit by L. Gen: Lambert. Our partey wes commandit in cheiffe [by] L. Gen: Holburne, quho that day by all honest men was thought to haue played the traitor; bot he was formallie cleired at Stirling therafter, and quait his chairge in the armey, for the haill armey exclaimed aganist him. Gen: Maior Sr Johne Brune, quho fought gallantly, was takin prisoner at this conflicte. Ther was killed almost alyke one each syde; and of the Scottes aboute 800, most of them footte, quho fought valiantly, and sold ther lies at a deire rait. The young Laird of Mackleane was heir slaine, with 100 of his frindes and folouers; and young Balconney, Sr James Lermonts eldest sone, receaued such woundes heir, that he deyed of the same some 2 mounthes therafter.

2 Agust, 1651. Cromwell marched from Brunt-Iyland to Perthe, and had the same randred to him
by the Lord Duffus, quho had entred the same

some 12 houres befor with 600 men one good quarter, one Saterday the 2d day of Agust, 1651.

28 Agust, 1651. The Committee of Estates conveined at Ellett, in Angus; wer betrayed to the Englishe, and surpryssed by 500 horsse, commandit by Colonell Aldriche, one Thursday in the morning, the 28 of Agust. They wer takin, stript of all they had, and carried to Brughtie, and ther shipped [off] for England; first carried to Tynemouth castle, and from thence to London. They wer takin ther,

Earle Mariahall, that had come ther the night befor;

James, Lord Ogiluey;

Sr Adam Hepburne of Hombie;

Sr James Fowills of Colingtone;

Archbald Sydeserffe;

The Laird of Ormestone, Cockburne;

The Laird of Pourie, Fothringhame;

Colonell Androw Mill.

At this same tyme ther wer takin of the Committee of the Generall Assembly:

Mr Robert Douglas,

Mr Mungo Law,

Mr Johne Smithe,

Mr James Hamiltone,

Mr Androw Ker, Clercke of the Generall Assembly.

They wer all of them shipped at Brughty, and sent by sea prisoners to England; as also

Mr James Sharpe, Minister of Craill;

Mr Jo: Ratra, Minister of Ellett;

Mr George Pitilloche, zounger, minister at Newton.

1 September, 1651. One Monday the first day of September, this zeire, the toune of Dundie was stormed by L. Generall Mounke, and takin; they hauing refused quarters seuerall tymes. Mouncks commandit all, of quhatsumeuer sex, to be putt to the edge of the suord. The tounesmen did no dewtey in ther auen deffence, but wer most of them all drunken, lyke so maney beasts. Ther wer 800 inhabitants and souldiers killed, and about 200 women and children. The plouder and buttie they gatte in the toune, exceeded 2 millions and a haliffe. Robert Lumsden of Monquhaney, Gouernour of Dundie, was creully killed, after quarters was giuen to him; and Sr Johne Lesley of Newton, quho was ther by chance in the toune at the taking of it, and was ther killed, with a seruant of his, one Robert Rippett, and serued him. Tuo of the 3 ministers of the toune, with Mr Androw Afflecte and Mr Johne Robertsons, wer, by creuell Mounke, sent by sea prisoners to England: thir tuo ministers wer verey auersse from holding out the toune, bot wold had it randard, knowing that such a drunken, debosht people could doe no good aganist so vigilant and actiue ane enimey. Notwithstanding, the collericke and merceylesse commander wold not heire them speake one word, in ther auen deffence, bot in a rage commandit Mr Jo: Robertsons not to speake one word, wich if he presumed to doe, he wold scobe his mouthe.

3d September, 1651. K. Charles the Seconds armey wes routted and defaitt at Worchester, in England, one Wedinsday the 3d of September this zeire.

Marques of Argyles letter to L. Generall Mouncke.

Enuerry, 15 October, 1651.

I know the treuth of Solomons saying, that in the multitude of wordes ther wantes not sine, therfor in that I will not transgresse; bot as I beleive all Christians, in eurey bussines, doe proposse to themselves a good end, (or at least ought to doe it,) so doe they lykwayes resolute vpone iust and righteous wayes to attain it; (I iudge no man,) zet I desyre to know from you, as one hauing cheiffe trust in this kingdome, if it wer not fitt that some men who haue deserted trust in both kingdomes, may not meitt (to good purposs) in some conuenient place, as a meins to stope the shedding of more Christian blood, wich has a loud cray in the Lordes eares aganist the vnjust authors or contriuers of it. I shall say no more till I heir from you, bot that I am,

Your most humble seruant,

ARGYLE.

This letter was sent with a trumpeter to Dundie, quho arriued ther one Sunday the 19 of October; and receued from L. Gen: Mounke only this ansuer, That he could not treat without orders from the parliament of England.

Mercurius Scoticus, his diurnall to the 28 of Octob: hes in it this passage anent the laitt meitting of the remonstrant ministers at Edinbrughe, this same mounthe :—The meitting of the ministers at Edinbrugh is dissolved ; ther was 66 of them in all. After they had made a kynd of auricular confession, eurey man for his auen sinns ; some for idolizing the couenant too muche, others for complyance with the King, &c. ther prude, ambitione and other sins, they haue dissolved ; and haue sent some of ther nomber to Glasgow, quher they intend a prouinciall meitting, in a judiciall way, and will emitt some declaration or warning. They are werey muche troubled they cannot haue that power in ciuill thinges, in ordine ad spiritualia, wiche they wer wount to haue in this natione ; wnder wiche pretence, they gett all ciuell pouer quhatsomeuer in ther handes.

Perth, 20 March, 1651.

A shorte Exhortation and Varning to the Ministers and Professors of this Kirk, from the Commissione of the Generall Assembly.

The eminent danger of religion, Kinge and kingdome, by the vniust invasione of the blasphemous sectariean armey, the sade conditione of our countreymen in the southe pairts of the kingdome, groing wnder the griuous oppression of strangers, detoringe ther substance and enslauing ther persons; the sade silence in maney congregations, quhosse teachers are driuin into corners by the violence of the enimies, contemners of Gods ordinances, and mockers of his messingers; the adwersaries roring and making a strange noisse in the midest of some congregations; the ineuitable hazard of our deir brethreen to be seduced into pernitious heresies and errors, by the decetfull practisses and speaches of sectaries, that ar coming to deceaue and speake lies in hypocrasie; the innocent blood of our brethreen, murthered by the suord of a merceyles enimey; the sighing of the prisoners, inhumanlie and creuelly wssed by thosse quho keepe them prisoners; the caire of preseruing our posteritie from being sunke wnder the darke dungeon of error, and fast bound with the heauy chaines of baskest slauerey, do cray so loud in the eares of all quho haue eares to heire, and a heart to wnderstand, to be awake and quick-

ned wnto the necessarie deutie of the tyme; that it is ane wounder that aney Ionah should be found fast asleep in so grate a storme, wherin this kirk and kingdome are lyke to be ouerquhelmed: zet the constancie of our deutie, accordinge to the trust committed to ws, and the carriage of some, quho, opprest with a lethargie, lye still, or seassed vpone by a benuming coldnes, moue slowlie; or caried aboute with the vind of strange doctrine, as children are tossed to and fro, and moue contrairlie; constraine ws to lift vpe our voyces, and from the watch touer quherone wee are sett, to gliae varning to the professors and ministers of the gospell througheout the land, and to waken them vpe to ther deutey, as they wold awoyd the displeasure of the Almighty, and escape the deserued punishments and censures, wch
may be inflicted by judicatories, ciuile and ecclesias-ticke, respectiue, vpone deficencies in, and delinquents aganist deutie, according to the degree of ther offence. We exhorte all men vnto repentance, to returne from the euell of ther thoughtes and wayes, and to mourne after the Lord; coming to him through the Mediator of the new testament, by quhom wee haue ane attoinment through faith in his blood. It is more then heighe tyme for all to be humbled wnder the mightie hand of God, quho hath cast ws doun, and is able to raisse ws vpe againe, quho hath woundit, and is able to bind vpe our wounds. To this effecte, wee haue appoynted a soleme day of fast and humiliatione, for the causses sent to the seuerall presbeteries.

It is the deutie of the members of this kirke, and subiectes of this kingdome, at this tyme, most cheirfully, wnanimously, and spedily to come out, and concurre in the comon defence of religion, King and kingdome; endangered by the wniust invasion of forraners, according to call and command of authoritie. Let it be seriously layed to harte, how muche blood is spilt; how maney tounes and shyres are spoyled; how miserablie our brethreen are distressed and oppressed; how muche the comon enimy is strenthned, quhill you be only preparing for releiffe; quhatsoeuer is done to the least of them for this causse, is to be takin as done to ws all in generall, and eurey one of ws in particular, according to the expresse word of the nationall couenant; and in pleine tearmes, wee are oblidged by the soleme leauge and couenant, to assist (wich necessarily imports concurrence) and defend all that enter the leauge and couenant, in the manteining therof. Wee obtest and exhorte you, for the intrest wee haue in the comone adwenture of thesse riche goodis, our liues, our liberties, our King, our religion, whic are all embarked in one bottome, that ze abandon not the schipe of the comonwelthe in this tempest; for if the schipe perishe, quhat can be saiffe that is within. If you tender true religion, you see how the sectaries shew themselues plaine enimies thereto, and manteine that impious monster of tolleration, thoughe religion wer not the question. Let loyalty to your King, the onlie King in the world quho is in a religious couenant with God and his people, animat you aganist thesse quho are his enimies, becausse he is a King, and becaus couenanted. Cast not offe the caire you ought to haue of your countrie, wch you see manifestly and violently ruined befor your eyes. If thesse will not moue you, (wee speike the language of our worthey reformers, in the lyke caisse of invasione by forraners) remember your wyffes, children and posteritie, your antient heritages and housses; and be sure thesse strangers will not regard your rights, quheneuer occasione shall serue. And if ye purpois (as wee doutt not bot all thesse quho haue ather witt or manhood will declare, and proue indeid) to brooke your ancient roomes and heritages, defendit valiantly by your courageous progenitors aganist all strangers, invaders of the same, (siche as the sectaries are this day); if you will not be slaues to them, and haue your lyues, your wyffes, your children, your substance, and quhatsomeuer is deare wnto you cast at ther feette, to be wssed and abussed at the pleasure of strange shouldiers; if ze will not haue experience some day in your auen persons, (as wee suppose the least of you wold not gladlie haue, but wold rather chusse with honor to die in defence of his aven native roame, then liue and serue so shamefull a servitude); then, brethrene, toyne with the forces of the kingdome, and both with witt and manhood oppesse the comon enimy, or els our libertie shall be heirafter deirer bought. Lett non be so vnhappie and mischiwous, and so withdraw himselfe heirfrom.

Except men will blot out of ther heartes the loue of religion, cast offe loyalty to soueraine authority, and lay assyde all caire of ther countrey, lawes, liberties and estaits, zeare, all naturall affection to the preseruatione of quhatsooneuer is deirest to them wnder the sune, (all being in a visible danger of ruine and destruction) they must now or never appere actiuely, eache one streaching himselfe to the wttersonst of his power. It is no tyme now to delay nor gee about the bussines by halffes, nor be almost but altogider zealous. The Scripture prononceth him scoured, that deeth the work of the Lord negligently, that cometh not furth to the helpe of the Lord aganist the mightie. If wee haue beine forward to assist our nighbour kingdomes, shall wee neglecte to defend our ewen? or shall the enimy of God be more actiue aganist his causse, then his conuenanted people for it; God forbid! If the worke shall now miscarey and fail in our handes, through our wnfathfullnes, our auen conciences shall condemne ws, and posterity shall curse us. Who knowes, bot if wee stand stoutly and steadfastly to it, the Lord may zet command our deliurance, and shew ws his saluation.

Lett all sortes, both of haighe and low degree, in this kingdome, call to mynde ther soleme couenants ; and namlie, that artickell of our national couenant, wich oblidgethe ws not to stay or hinder aney suche resolution as by comon consent shall be found to conduce for the endes of the couenant, bot by all meins to further and promoue the same ; wich layeth as a bond vpone peoples consciences, reddely to obey suche orders as by the publicke resolutione of the parliament, and Commissione of the Generall Assembly, are found necessarey for the prosecutione of the warr ; and that artickell of the soleme leauge and couenant, wich oblidgethe ws not to suffer ourselues, directly nor indirectly, by quhatsonener combination, persuasione, or terror, to be dewydit and withdrawin from this blissed wnion and coniunction, or to make defectione to the contrarey paire, or to giue ourselues ouer to a detestable neutrality in the causse ; according to wich artickell, mens reality and integrity in the couenant will be manifest and demonstrable, als weill by ther omissons as commissions : by ther not doing good, as by ther doing euill. He that is not with ws, is aganist ws, and he that gathreth not with ws, scattereth. Since euerey mans not adwenturing his persone, not sending out thesse that are wnder his power, according to publicke order and appoyntment, and not paying the contribution imposed for mantinence of the armey, haue beine formely esteimed a ground of judgeing men enimies, malignants, and couenant breakers, wee vishe it may be the caire of all to shune the wayes that may bring them wnder thesse foul charecters, and quherby they may rune themselues wnder the hazard of the displeasure of God, and censures of the kirke, and no doubt of ciuil punishment also to be inflicted by the stait.

Lett ministers, as the messingers of the Lord, sture vpe others, both publickly, by free and faithfull preaching, and priuatly, by admonishing eurey one of his deutey, as ther shall be occasione, considringe, that silence in the publicke causse, especially in publicke fastis not laboring to cure the dissaffectione of people; not vrging them to constancie and patience in bearing of publick burdens, nor to forwardnes in the publicke causse; that speaking ambigouslie, inclyning to justifie the wicked causse, wtring wordes wiche sauor of disaffection, complaining of the tymes in suche a way as may steall the heartis of people from being good instruments in this worke, and consequently from Gods causse; that some reiding publicke orders, and speckes aganist them in priuat conferences, are reckoned vpe amonest the enormities and corruptions of ministers in ther callings. By the Generall Assembly, 1646, sese: 4.

And becausse the Commissione of the Generall Assembly, in ther remonstrance to the Conuention of Estaites, 6 Julij, 1643, teaching all trew patriotts and professors of the reformed religion, that they may learne to know and deserne the enimies of the kirke, amongst other markes of malignancy giue this ther offring to presbeteries, in all the quarters of the kingdome, papers contrarey to the declarations of the Commissioners of the Generall Assembly. The Generall Assembly, 1645, in ther seasonable warning, 12 Februarij, gane thesse characters of secrett malignants and discouenanters, ther slighting or censuring of the publicke resolutions of this kirke and stait; ther laboring to raiſſe jelosies, diuiſions, to retarde or hinder the executione of quhat is ordained by the publicke judicatories; ther censuring and slighting of theſſe quhom God hath wſed as his cheiffe instruments in this worke; ther drawing of parties and factiōns for weakning of the comon vnion; ther endeworing informations and ſollicitations, tending to weakin the hartis and handes off others, and to make them withhold ther assistance from this worke; enioyning ſuch to be weill marked, tymly diſcouered, and cairfully awoyed, leſt they infusse ther counells into the myndes of othera, quherin they requyre ministers to be faithfull, and presbeteries to be vigilant and impartiall, as they will anssuer the contrarey to God, and to the Generall Assembly, or ther Commissioners. The Generall Assembly, 1646, sessio 10, ordaines, that besydes all vther scandels, silence and ambiguous speaking in the publicke, muche more detracting and disaffected speiche, be seasonable censured. The Generall Assembly, 1647, sessio 27, doeth, in the name of God, inhibit the spreding and dispersing of erronious books or papers, pamphletts, lybills and letters, requyring all ministers to warne ther flockes aganist suche bookeis in generall and particuler; and particularly aganist suche as are most plausable, insinuatting and dangerous; and ordaines presbeteries and synodes to tray and processe suche as shall transgresse; recommending to ciuile magistrats, that they may be pleased to be assisting to ministers and presbeteries in the execution of this acte, and to concurre with ther authority for that effecte,

Therfor, for execution of the forsaids actes of Assembly, and pruining the eminent danger of religion, the people of God, and the kingdome, by practises leading to encourage the heartis and strengthen the handes of enimies, in prosecutting ther wicked practises and purposes, to make farr the heartis and enfeeble the handes of Gods people, and to seduce ther myndis with diuisiue and sepe-rating counsells and principalls, according to the power and trust committed to ws, and according to the practises of former Commissions of the Gene-rall Assembly: Wee doe, in the name of God, inhib-ite and discharge all ministers to preache, and all mi-nisters and professors to detracte, speike or wreatt aganist the lait publicke resolutions and papers of the Commissione of the Generall Assembly, in order to the calling furth of the people for the necessarey de-fence of the causse and the kingdome aganist the un-just invasione of thosse enimies to the kingdome of God, and to the gouernment of this kirke and king-dome; ore to spred and disperse letters, informations, or aney other papers aganist the same; or in aney other way to obstrncte that seruice, tending to the preser-uation and defence of religione, King and kingdome; requyring ministers to warne ther flockes of thesse papers in generall, and particularly suche as are most plaussible, insinuating and dangerous; and wee doe seriously recommend to presbeteries, that with all vigilancey, they take special notice and trayell of such persons within ther bounds, wher suche as haue ther station ther, or suche as, in this trouble-some tyme, haue ther present residence, ministers ore others, and impartially proceid aganist them, as they will be answerable; and to report ane accompt of ther diligence herin to this commissione, from tyme to tyme.

Thoughe our difficulties be maney and growing, zet quhen wee looke backe vpone the grate thinges wiche God hath done for ws and for our predecessors, and our manifold deliuерances out of seuerall dangers and difficulties wiche appereid insuperable, experience breides hope. Our fathers trusted in God; they trusted in him, and he did deliuer them; they crayed wnto him, and wer deliuered; they trusted in him, and wer not confounded. Let ws wait vpon him, quho hydeth himselue from the housse of Iacob; let ws cray wnto the Lord of Hostis, quho hathe deliuered ws, and doeth deliuer ws; and in him lett ws trust that he will zet deliuer ws; though for a small moment he hath forsaken ws, zet with grate mercies he will gather ws. He quho hath shewed ws grate and sore troubles, shall quicken ws againe, and shall bring ws upe again from the deipthes of the earthe; he shall encresse our strenthe, and comfort ws on eurey syde, aganist our feares one eaurey syde; onlie be stronge, be of good courage, be of one mynde, and according to the worke of the Lord, and the God of love and peace shall be with you.

Sic subscrabitur,

W. KER.

2 Decembris, 1651. The Englishe, all this tyme, quher they commandit, wold not take the money according to the acte of the parliament at Perth, in Marche, this zeire, bot according to the old standard formerly wssed in beth kingdomes; so that the gentrey and comons, in payment of ther cesse, wer gratumly impouerished, especially in the shyre of Fyffe; for remedey quherof, it was thought fitting, by the gentrey of the said shyre, that seing they could not medle with the money themselues, the heighting of it being ane acte of the parliaments, the King himselfe present, they causseth Col: James Hay priuily deall with Leiutenant Generall Moncke, commander for the Englishe in cheiffe, to command the moneyes to passe, in all tyme coming, as they did before the acte of Perth, by his proclamation, wich wes proclaimed at the crosse of Couper one Tuesday the 2d of December, and at the crosses of the remanent brughes within the shyre.

Since the 1 of Nouember, 1651, ther wer quartered in Fyffe, 600 horsse at 2 sh. 6 d. starling per diem, wich did extend to eurey trouper, being quartered at the forsaid raitt, one 500 lib. rent, wich was weikly als muche as our former monthly mantinence did extend too.

In Nouember this zeire, the ministers of the west, that had made and still manteined a werey grate schisme in the churche, and disawoved the last Generall Assembly, holdin at St. Andrewes and Dun-die, sett out at this tyme a pamphlett called, a Discouery after some search of the sinnes of the ministers; whch is dewydit in 9 sections, and printed in A^o 1651, by the brethren of the presbytery of Kilmarnock. Thir westland renters of the churche held a meitting at Edinbrughe, about the letter end of this same mounthe, by the name of the Commisione of the Kirke; the pryme actors in it wer the two fyrebrands, Mr James Guthrie and Mr Patricke Gillespie, both of them deprived by the lait General Assembly at Dundie; to quhom, amongst maney other of the lyke nature, wes presented by a godly brother, (as they name him,) this famous paper, consisting of 12 heads:—

1. Our soleme ingagements to dewties, ather out of dark zeall or policy; and it is conceaued much of both thesse will, after deepe searche, be found in al our couenant ingagements.
2. The taxing of ourselues, by soleme covenants and othes, to the perpetuall mantinence of some thinges for whch ther is no warrant from the word: as perpetuall adherence to monarchy in such a line, and constant mantinence of the preuileges of parliament; at least the clauses of our taxes to thesse thinges so ambiguously conceaued, that maney sueare them in the formentioned sense.
3. A fleschly zeall and policy in pursewing and carting one the couenant and leauge by creuell oppressions, making actes for constraining all sortes of persons, als weill men of tender consciences as the most prophaine and grosslie ignorant in the land, to take the couenant, wnder the hazard of incurring the heighest censures both of churche and stait.

4. Our preuidices ; and that vpon our passinat and bitter invectiōns, by word and wreatt, publicke and priuat, aganist suche of the people of God in Eng-land, quho had some differences of judgment from vs, not vsing the gospell way allowed by God for gaining others, however carried away with errors ; and therfor in the grate justice of God, his people in the land, quho wer formerlie one, are now so far de-wydit in judgments and affections, that grounds of persecutione are layed doun and begune by the one aganist the other.

5. The espousing of the malignant quarrells, not only by our own coniunction with, and intrusting the malignant party, bot also by intending and concluding a tretteyn with the Kinge, putting him in the actuall exercisse of his power, and owning his intrest, albeit all the tyme of the tretteyn, and after it als weill as befor it, he did palpably euidence his disaffectione to the couenant and endes therof ; wherby it hath come to passe, that the quarrell wich the Lord did formerly plead aganist the King, seimeth to be now tabled at the dore of churche and staite.

6. The pollutting of the Lords housse and ordinances, by continuing the vilest of men to be churche members, and to partake of the holy ordinances of Jesus Christ; so that all the people of the nation are members of the churche; quherby the churche of Scotland is become lyker to a feild of thorns and briars, then the wyneyaird of the Holy One of Israel. Nather could the remoueall of persons scandalous from a sacrament (wich also is much neglected,) be a sufficient remedy of this euill, seing beare negatives are not sufficient to putt a man in a capactie to be a churche member, muche lesse to partake of the sacraments; bot besydes are requyred positive evidences of grace, so far as to ground a judicious judgement of charity: and from this error of the actuall constitutione of this churche flowes the sinfull coniunctions with the malignant party in counsell and armies; for how can thosse, vpon aney groundes of conscience, be debarred from ciuill fel lowschipe, quho may and ought to be admitted to churche fel lowschipe? and therfor, though our disease may be skinned, zet neuer cured, till the present constitutione of the churche be helped.

7. The idolizing of men, and receauing doctrines from them implicitly, not bringing them to the balance of the sanetuary: ministers meddling with ciuill affaires, both in priuat and judicatories, quherby they lord it ouer the estaites, and tyranized ouer

the consciences of men; though it is not denayed bot they may and ought to reprove sin, and that in all sortes of persones, so far as they haue warrant from word of God.

8. Our not cleiring, bot wresting the trew staite of the quarrell, with a vilfull reiecting of all meines for prewenting the shedding of blood; whill treaties and conferences were not only requyred, bot refussed, though desyred and offred by the Englishes; throughe wiche it appeirethe, that the guilte of much blood shed in the lait warre, may be justly layed to the charge bothe of kirke and stait.

9. The smothing of light, and withdrawing from dewties, vpone the apprehensione of sade euent.

10. Pitching vpone our forme of presbyterianall gouerniment, as the vtermost attainable perfectione of reformatione.

11. The grate neglecte and creuell oppression of the comons and poore people of the land, neuerthelesse of our obligations and tayes, in the couenant, of mutuall aid and assistance one of another.

12. Laboring to carrey one a worke of reformation with so corrupte and vnsutable instruments; yea the continuance of persons scandalous, in eminent places of trust, after ther was cleir euidence that they wer suche.

December, 1651. The pryces of wictuall wer heighe, and ordinarily sold this mounthe in Fyffe, White, the boll, 15 lib. Peasse, the boll, 12 lib.

 Beare, the boll, 12 lib. Comon ottemeal, 10 lib.
 Ottes, the boll, 11 lib. Ray, the boll, 14 lib.

Anssuers to 7 problems, wrettin by a sectarey.

1. Morall deuties concerning religion, King and countrey, if they can not be prosecutt without sine, ought to be neglected.

Resp:

Religion, King and Countrey ought respecte,
 And morall dewty shoud wes not neglecte.
 To eache of thesse altho sin goe along,
 Quhat humane action vanceth sin among Perfection as for health? One earth wes dwell,
 Bot shoud not cease from good, tho mixt with gall.

2. Sectaries are shyning lights.

Resp:

The sectaries are not shyning lights at all,
 Bot darkest stars that rolls about the ball.
 Doe they not striue to obscure the light of grace,
 With impious tenetts of that horrid race?
 They are not heires of light, bot hes their being
 With the infernal spirits, euer dying.

3. Thoughe Cromwell be not justifiable in all things, yet in this, that he will not haue Charles to rainge, becausse he rainges not for Christ.

Respon:

Is Cromwell just, becausse he sayes our King,
 Quhom God install'd, will not for Jesus raing?

O lying spirit, how dar thou say so much,
 His royll stem and diademe to tuoche.
 Is he not faiths defender, first of Kinges ;
 That fights againts the beast, and for Christ rainges ;
 The Lords vicegerent heir one earth, and still Bears sword for God, and executts his vill ?
 He swayes the scepter, holding it out to all
 His loyall subiects, wether grate or small.

4. Religion and monarchy cannot stand togider.

Respon:

A wicked probleame, from a sectaries hand,
 (Religion and monarchy cannot stand).
 Bot if he wanted head and hand, so speake,
 These hellishe hereticks wold not so meeke.
 Had it beine trew that Caesar should not raing,
 Our Lord wold not say, tribute to him bring.
 Davuid, quho was one as the heart of God,
 Embrac't the croun ; tho long time he abode
 The wrath of Saull, yet once he was appoyned
 As Iaraella king, for he was Gods anoynted.
 And this is pure religion, as I take,
 To obey our princes still, for conscience saika.

5. Sectarian errors and sauing grace are consist- ant.

Respon:

Can sauing gracie and error stand togider ?
 Or will not still the one oppose the other ?
 Will the arke and Dagon er aggrie in one ?
 The arke will stand, Dagon will fall anone,
 And loose his hands and head, and breed a terror
 To cursed Philistines ; and so will error

Fall to the ground, quhen treuth non can expell,
While cursed sectaries shall be in hell.

6. That this expedition is lyke Aron making the people naked.

Respon:

Dar aney say that our intendit var
Resembles Aron making the people beare ?
O how they differ, by so grate ane odds :
He tooke the earrings, and did make them gods,
And then a golden crafte they did adore,
And so was lyable to judgements sore :
Our warres doe tend all idols to distroy,
And free religion from all anoy ;
For to defend our couenant King,
And his prerogative, that he may raigne ;
To free the subiect from the vicked slaurey
Of Cromwells tyranie ; to discouer knaurey ;
To purge the land of sects, and punish tresson ;
To establish treuth, peace, piety and reason ;
To crube rebellion, oppose quho dare.
How can suche varres make aney people bare ?

7. That Straquhans excommunication was done clauie errante.

Respon:

Was it a vrangous key the dore did locke
One that perfidious man, quho still did mock Religion, King and countrey, quhen he went Vnto the westernne parts, to make a rent,
And then to Cromwell and the Inglyshe nation :
Did he not merit excommunication ?
T'were to be wished that wee should lock the dure
One all such traitors, making such a sture.

Lambert having settled the militia of the Englishe, and other payment by southe Forthe, cam to Dundie the 1 of this mounthe, and with Mounck and the rest of the Englishe commanders, by ther orders, ordainid Fyffe to pay, per mensem, 47 sh. 6 d. Scotts money one the hundredth pound rent, for the mantinence of ther souldiarey; and so, accordingly, the haill shyres be north Forth, according to the proportione of ther rent; quheras Fyffe had payed, since the first of Nouember 1651, to the 18 of Januarij 1652, 46 lib. Scotts per mensem, at least, for eurey 100 lib. of rent.

At this same tyme, also, they discharged at ther meitting in Dundie, all frie quarters and transient quarters also; and ordanid the collectors of the shyres respectiue to pay them in the seuerall shyres.

By Generall Maior Lambert,

Wheras complaints are dayly made of the grate damage sustained by maney, and hinderance of commerce and trading by the differing values of coyne in seuerall pairs of this natione, it being in some places of heigher and grater walew then in others, I doe therfor heirby declare, that after publication heirof, all sortes of moneyes and coyne; both forraine and Scottishe, shall be currant, and passe in all payments between partey and partey, in all pairs of this nation, at the raittes or walewes they passed in Marche 1650; and quhosoeuer shall make payment, or profer to make payment, after proclamation heirof, of aney money or coyne, at a heigher rate or walew, shall forfeitt the soume so payed, or proffered to be payed, to be lewied wpone his goods and geire, the one moity to the informer, and the other to the poore of the place quher the offence shall be committed; and all gouernors of garisons, and commanders in cheiffe of regiments, ar heirby strickly requyred to take caire that this proclamation be fourthwithe proclaimed, by beat of drum or sound of trumpet, in the most publicke places within ther respective quarters. Giuen wnder my hand and seall at Edinbrughe, 29 of December, 1651.

The Artickells of Capitulatione between Alexander, Lord Balcarres, and the Englishe, in December 1651.

Imprimis, The regiment and troupes wnder the Lord Balcarres are to be disbanded, as followeth:

2d. The troopes one this syde of Innernessee are to marche with ther standards, horses, armes and goods, from Forres, one Friday next, being the 5 of December, 1651, to the boats of Teddiche and Skirdistone, and being passed ouer, they fourthwith to be disbanded.

3. The rest of the troopes beyond Innernessee, are to marche one Tuesday the 9 of December, towardes Forres, the selue same way and maner, and to be disbanded in the selue same place; and hauing free quarters one ther marche as they hane had former-lie. In consideration heirof, wee doe agree and engage ourselues to the Lord Balcarres, and all other noblemen, gentlemen, officers and souldiers, adhering to the capitulatione, shall be protected in ther persons, goods and estaits, without being molested by ws for aney actes of hostility formerlie committed; and that eurey such officer hauing a passe seigned by the Lord Balcarres, none of ther housses shall be garisond by aney souldiers, except vpone ane inevitable necessity.

4. That eurey officer and souldier, and eurey nobleman and gentleman belonging to the Lord Bal-carras, hauing his passe, and eurey nobleman and gentleman adhering to him heirin, shall haue liberty to trawell, with ther armes, offensiuе and defensiuе, in order to the sauety and protection of ther persons.

5. That aney souldier wich is disbanded by the Lord Balcarras, hauing his passe, and being disbanded, shall haue liberty to trawell with his horsses, goods and armes, to ther seuerall housses and homes, otherwayes to settle and disposse of them as they shall thinke fitt.

6. That the Lord Balcarras, and eurey nobleman and gentleman and officer, comprehendit in this capitulatione, adhering to it, shall haue all condicions made good to them that haue beine of lait, or shall be granted to aney heirafter.

R. OUERTON,

R. LILBURNE.

Mem: out of the Diurnall, to the 6 of Januarij, 1652.

This day, (viz. Friday) 2do Jarij: did breecke vpe

the meitting of some presbyterians, who did meitt at Edinbrughe, in reference to the satlement of present affaires. It was composed of them quho [are] call- ed ministers and laymen, quherof Mr James Guth- rie was moderator; who, as he was chosen to moderat, so in his olde wounded presbyterian zeall wold proceed in nothinge, till first he knew wether aney wer present who wer accessorey to the sheding of the blood of the saintes. Quasi wero, he had bein free of aney such thing; though he most instru- mentall in drawing one ane ingagement at Dumbar, he may remember his accession to his spilling of blood at Hamilton; bot wee know the pharisis can bewaill the death and suffringes of the prophetts, though apte to persecute Christe and his disciples. It is remardeable, this meitting was not called with- out cuninge, for wpeholding the presbyterian intreste. The matter is this; about 6 weekes agoe and aboue, some godlie and weill affected men in this land, taking a coursse (besyde the preists not heeding them in the bussines) in order to the good of the nation, vith no lesse purpos then to remon- strat and petitione (quhosse proceedinges as zet wee houpe shall take effecte) aganiste coerciuе restrainte, and for incorporatting the tuo nations into one co- mon wealthe. Bot the presbyterian ministers, with ther grandee, Wareston, finding this præjudiciale to ther crafte, Demetrius lyke, called togidder such as wer of ther auen stampe ; cuningly breking of the meittinges of thosse quho intended to bring to naught ther crafte, in making siluer shrynnes for ther presbeterian Diana, did withdraw themselues altogider from suche meittinges : the result of wich is confusione ; for nothing is now to be hard after this conuocatione, bot craying out, "Grate is the Presbetery."

Now they haue drawin vpe a letter, thoughe with grate debait, not knowing weill to quhom to send it, ore how to call thosse to quhom they should directe it, and are aboute to send it to the Generall ; testifing aganist all our proeidinges, and with a full pretence (I should say, purposse) of suffringe, doe earnistly bege religion in Scotland may be preserued, and established according to the couenant, wich in ther accompte is nothing bot presbeterey. Marke ther ingenuity ; they resolute to suffer, and zet wold haue pouer to persecute. Werily, I thinke, they are justly sufferers, quho goe aboute to be persecutters. In the interim, I supposse they shall not receaue a satisfactorey anssuer in petitioning him (viz. Cromwell) aganist quhom they testifie ; this bewrayethe ther policey, thoughe presbeterey be wsullay attendit therwith. Howsoeuer, as they conueined cuningly, with a full purposse to manteine their crafte, that ther idol presbeterey perishe not, so they are dismissed confusedly, craying out,

"Grate is the Presbeterey." We haue only to adde to it, that Warrestone, in face of the meitting, contrarey to experiance, with a full purposse to deceaue the simple, (Ex vngue Leonem) denayed aney trettey to haue beine offred by the Englishe, befor Dumbar, to the Scotts. Bot wee know it is a Matchiuelian policey, fortiter calumniarij.

29 Marche, 1652. One Monday, the 29 of Marche, this zeire, ther was a werey grate ecclipsse of the sunne ; the stargazers of this zeire prat muche anent the effects of it. So Booker :—

Bright Sol eclipse'd the nyne and tuentie day,
For tyme to come blacke Monday call wee may ;
To king and prince, to peer and potentate,
Within few zeires it shewes a dismall fate.
For quho in blood a violent pleasure haue,
Seldome descend bot bleeding to ther graue.

23 Junij, 1652. Col: Lilburne marched from Inernessee one Saterday, towardes Lochaber, with Coll: Ashefeild and hes regiment of footte, and Coll: Hackers regiment of horsse, and Maior Bramstons troupe of dragouns. The Frassers come in to them, and condiscendit to pay them cesse ; bot Glengarey stood out, and in effecte the heighlandmen foolled them home againe to the lowlandes ; some with faire wordes, others stooode to ther defence, and the Inglishe finding nothing amongst them saue hunger and strokes, wer glad (ther bisquet and cheesse being all spent, and ther clothes worne, with ther horsses out tyred) to returne, cursing the heighlandes, to ther winter quarters.

8 Julij, 1652. One Thursday, in the morning, Generall Blache passed in sight of Dumbar, towardes the north, with 60 and oide sayle, to attend the Holland bushes; Van Trumpe, the Hollands Generall, about the same tyme, also passing by to seeke the Englishe, put the Deputey Gouernour of Leith, called Wyilkes, in such ane affright, that he with speed sent men and canon to fortifie Inchekeithe, that the enimy, if he came vpe the fyrthe, should haue none of the freshe watter of that iyland.

About this same tyme, Generall Maior Dean went from Perthe with the Marquesse of Argyles conwayes, to the Heighlands, towardes Locheaber, and lost some few men and horsses in weiuing of the heighlanders.

Colonell Ouertoune with his foott, and Blackmore with his horsse, went from Aire, by sea, to Kyntyre; bot if my Lord Marquesse of Argyle had not protected him, he and all that wes with him had gottin ther throttes cutte. So, weill laughin at by the heighlanders, he wes forced to returne with penurey aneuche, werey glade all of them that ther liues wer sauad.

Sr Johne Hamiltone, Lord Beilheauen, quho had married the basse daughter of James, 2d Marques of Hamiltone, begottin one Steuart, daughter to the Lord Blantyre, and widow of the Lord Salton, miserablie perished in the sinking sands of Solway, going towardes Carleile in England, hauing mistaken the saue way, and trusting too much to himselfe, without a gyde. The man was a werey gallant gentleman, and much regrated by all that knew him.

23 Aprilis, 1651. George, first Lord Corstorphin, or Lord Forrester of Corstorphin, depaireted this lyffe, leuing no issew maile to succeed him. His — daughter he married to James Balzie, eldest sone to Lieutenant Generall William Balzie, quho by his Maiesties gift, of the 18 day of Agust, at Dumfermling, 1650, is now Lord Forrester, and by his wyfes heis the estait of wnquhill George Lord Forrester.

— Gordon, 2d daughter to George, Marques of Huntley, first maried to George, Lord Setton, by quhom shoe had issew; and after his death, maried 2dly to Johne Steuart, Lord Linton, eldest sone to Jo: Earle of Traquaire, depaireted this lyffe at Treffquer, in Junij this zeire, 1651, within some few dayes after shoe had bein brought to bed of a sone.

In September this zeire, 1651, deyed of a feuer, Sr Johne Brune of Fordell, at Leith, being a prisoner ther; he was takin by the Englishe at Dumferline, being Generall Maior of horsse.

He maried Marie Scot, eldest daughter, and one of the coheires of Sr James Scot of Rossie, in Fyffeshyre, and by her had issew, at his deathe, one only daughter, and his ladey with chylde. His corpes wer interrid amongst his ancestors at Arngoscke.

October, 1651. About the 14 of October, this zeire, George Mackenzie, 2d Earle of Seafort, departed this lyffe, at Skiedame, in Holland, after his 3 zeires exyle out of his natvie countrey.

— Scott, Countesse of Eglintone, sister to Walter, first Earle of Bucleuche, and widow of —, Lord Rosse of Halkhead, departed this lyffe at Hull, in England, quher her lord was prisoner, the 5 of October, 1651. Her body was embalmed, and brought home by sea, and interrid at Dalkeith, by her nephew Francis, Earle of Bucleuche. This ladey was married to Alexander Setton, Earle of Eglintone, for his 2d wyfpe, and her 2d husband, after the death of the Lord Rosse; and by him had no issew at all.

22 Nouember, 1651. This 22 of Nouember, being Saterday, Francis Scott, Earle of Bucleuche, Lord Scott of Branxholme, departed this lyffe at his auen housse of Dalkeith. He maried Margarett Lesley, 2d daughter to Johne, Earle of Rothes, and widdow of Alex: Lord Balgoney, eldest sone to Alexander, Earle of Leuin; and by her had issew a sone, that dyed younge, and 3 daughters; and was interrid in his auen buriall, in the ile of Dalkeith churche, in Midle Louthean, one Thursday the 4 of the monthe of December, 1651.

About the 10 of December, 1651, deyed Ladey —— Levingstone, Countesse of Vigton, and widow of Johne, Earle of Vigton, and sister to Alexander, Earle of Linlithgow, and James, Earle of Callender, at Cumbernald.

22 December, 1651, departed this lyffe, Ladey Margeorey Carnegey, Wicountesse of Arbuthnot, 3d daughter to Dauid, first Earle of Southescke. Shoe was first married to William Haliburton, of Pitcur, in Forfarshyre; and after his death shoe was maried to ——, first Viscount of Arbuthnot, and had issew a sone and tuo daughters; by her first husband shoe had one only sone, that deyed at Elgyne in Murray, in the end of October, this same zeire. Sho was interrid at Beruey.

7 of Januarij. 1652, deyed Charles Arnot, eldest sone to Michell Arnot of the same, at Pitlethy, one Wedinsday; and wes interred one Fryday, at night, at Leuchers churche, the 9 of the forsaid monthe. He married Anna Reade, only daughter and heire of Mr James Reade of Pitlethy, and by her had issew.

CROUNED KING OF SCOTLAND,

AT HOLYRUDHOUSSE, THE 18 OF JUNIJ, 1633.

In the abey churche, neir adiacent to the Kinges palace of Holyrudhousse, in the midle of the same wes ther a stage sett vpe, made square, of 24 footes in lenthe, and als much in bredthe, fastned to fourre pillars of the churche, railed aboute, and couered vith carpetts.

The stage wes made aboute 4 footte heighe from the ground, hauing in the midle, towardes the vest, a large gaite, with 3 stepes to ascend ; and towardes the east, als maney to discend to the communione table, wch wes decently deckt.

Vpone the grate stage wes ther ane wther little stage, erected some tuo feete in height, ascendinge from the grate stage by two stepes, couered with curious neidle worke and gold greine, one wiche the throne or chaire of estait wes placed. A chaire of crimpson veluet, embrodred with gold, wiche wes sett one the right hand betuix the scaffold and the communione table, vith foote stole and cuscheons conforme ; befor wiche wes a litle table couered with crimpson veluet, fringed and laced with gold, quher a riche couered bible did lay ; heir did his Mat^e sitt and heire sermon.

One the southe syde of the communion table wes ther a trawersse of crimpson tafty placed werey conveniently, quher hes Mat^e did reposse and disrobe himselfe.

Neir to the communion table, one the north syde, wes ther a pulpit set, couered with crimpson veluet, for sermon : And right befor the communion table wes ther a litle descke, couered with riche embrodrie of gold and greine silke, and befor wer layed cusheons quher his Mat^e did kneill.

One the west syde of the pulpit wes ther tuo large seatts placed, couered with arras, quherone the Primat of St. Andrewes, and Bischopes seruing at the solemnity, did sitt.

Ther wes also a litle table neir the southe end of the communione table, couered with greine veluet, laced and fringed with gold, quhervpone after hes

Maties entrie wes layed the croune, scepter and suord, the grate seall of the kingdome and spurres.

One Monday, the 17 of Junij, his Matie went priuately to the castle of Edinbrughe, by cotche, being the nighte befor his coronatione, quher he did his priuat deuotions, and wes feasted by the olde Earle of Mar, Capitane therof, with a grate maney of the Scotts and Englische nobility, quher he rested that night.

One the morrou, about 8 a clocke, his Matie wes conducted from his chalmbur of presence to the grate hall of the said castle, and ther placed in a chaire wnder a clothe of estait, by James, Duck of Lennox, Grate Chamberlaine of Scotland; and af-ter a litle reposse, ther entred the hall all the Mar-quisses, Earles and Viscounts, in crimpson velwett robes, and the Lordes in scarlett, togider with the Bisches, and sex Commissioners from the Bar-rons, and als maney from the Burrowes.

The King, from his chalmbur of presence to the forsaid hall, wes conducted by the Earle of Erole, Lord Grate Constable, one the right hand, and the Earle Marishall one the lefte, quho all this day did carey ther battons of office in ther handes.

Hes Matie being sett, George Hay, Viscount of Dupleine, Lord Chancelour of Scotland, in name of the Estaits of the kingdome, spake to the King thus :—

Sr.—The Estaits of your natvie and ancient kingdome, calling to mynd the grate happines they enjoyed wnder the gouerniment of your Maties father, of blissid memorey, and accknoledging your heighnes to be the reghfull heire of this croune, by a longe and lawfull discent, doe beseiche your Matie to receaue them vnto your heighnes protectione, to gouerne them by the lawes of the kingdome, and defend them in ther rights and liberties by your roiall power, offring ther seruice in most humble maner to your Matie, with ther woues to bestow lyffe, and quhat els is in ther pouer, for the sauetie of your Maties sacred persone, and mantinance of your croune, wch they intreat your Matie to accept; and pray Almighty God that you may happilie, and for maney zeires enjoy the same.

The King made anssuer :—That he did esteime ther affections more then the croune of maney kingdomes, and wold by Gods assistance bestow his lyffe in ther defence, wishing to liue no longer then he might see this kingdome flourishe in all happines.

Then went they all to ther horsse, and from the said castle read they tuo and tuo in order, one grate horsses, with riche foote clothes and caparisons ; the Earles, Viscounts, and Lyone King of Armes, hau-

Then the King arrysing, marched foruard alonges the churche, the queire receiuing him with this antheime—" Behold, O Lord, our Protector, and looke vpone the face of thyne Anoynted ; becaus one day in thy courte is better then a thousand," (quam dilecta) &c. ; touardes the stage, quher he did a litle repose himselfe.

The croune, scepter and sword, with the spurrs, wer deliuered by the bearirs to the cheiffe Gentleman Vsher, quho layed them one the litle table ap-poynted for them, one the south syde of the communion table.

Then comes the Lyone King of Armes, carring
the golden ampule or viale, with the sacred oyle, wich by the Deane of the Chapell wes deliuered to him at the entrey of the churche dore, and deliuered
it to the Archbischope, quho sett the same one the communione table.

The King hauing a little reposet himselfe, discendit from the stage to his chaire ouer against the pulpit, to heire sermon made by Danid, Bischope of Brechin ; his text wes first of the Kinges, cap. 1, vers 39.

The sermon endit, the King ascendit the stage and satt downe in his chaire of estait.

Then the Archbischope of St. Andrewes, with the Constable and Marishall, and the Lyone King of Armes, quho went befor them, did goe to all the corners of the stage, and spake to the people thesse wordes :—

Sirs,—I doe present wnto you King Charles, the rightfull heire of the croune and dignitie of this realme ; this day is by the peeres of the kingdome ap-poynted for his coronation, and are you not villinng for your King, and become subiecte to him and his commandiments ? (The King in this tyme stoode vpe, and turned himselue as the Archbischope, went from ane pairt of the stage to the vther, that he might be seine of the people.)

The people, to declare ther willingnes, anssuered vith grate acclamations, craying, God sau King Charles.

Then wes sung by the queir the antheme, " Fir-metetur Manus tua—Let thy hand be strenthened, &c."

Psal : 80. " Miserecordias dei—Glorie be to the Father."

Quhill the antheme wes singing, the Archbischope went doune to the communion table and ther rested him.

Then does the King approche the said table, supported by the Bischope of Dumblane, Deane of the Chapell, one the right hand, and the Bischope of Murray one the leste, quher he makes his oblatione, receaued in a cupe of gold by the Archbischope of St. Andrewes; after wiche the King kneiles at his descke, and the Archbischope sayes this prayer — " O God, quho does visit thosse that are humble, and doeth comfort, &c."

The prayer being endit, the King satt doune in his chaire, and the Archbis: going touards him, askit if he wes willing to take the othe appoyntit to be giuen at the coronatione of Kinges. Hes Matie made anssuer that he wes villing.

Then the Archbis: questioneth him one this wayes,
1. Sr, Ze will promisse to serue Almighty God at the wtermost of your pouer, as he hath requyred in his most holy word, and according to the same vord manteine the trew religione of Christe, nou preached and professed within this realme, abolishing and gainestanding all fals religions contrair to the samen; and will you employ yourselue caiffully to roote out all heretickes and enimies to the trew vorschipe of God, that shall be convicted by the trew churche of God of the forsaids crymes?

The King ansuers,

I promisse faithfully so to doe.

2. Sr, Ze will make promisse to reule the people subiecte to you according to the lawes and constitutions receaued within this realme, causing justice and equitie to be ministrat in all your judgements without partiality; and to procure peace to the vtermost of your pouer to the churche of God, and amongst all Christian people.

The King ansuered,

I grant and promisse sua to doe.

3. Sr, You will lykwayes promisse to preserue and keipe inviolated the preuileges, rights and rents of the croune of Scotland, and not to transfer and alienat the same in aney sorte.

The King anssuered,

I promisse so to doe,

4. Sr, Wee also beseiche you to grant and preserue wnto ws of the clergie, and to the churches committed to our charge, all canonicall prewilidges; and that you vill defend and protekte ws, as eurey good King aught in his kingdome to defend his Bischopes, and the churches wnder ther gouerniment.

The King anssuered,

With a villing harte I grant the samen, and promisse to manteine you, and eurey one of you, with all the churches committed to your charges, in your haill rights and preuilidges, according to law and justice.

The King, rysing from his chaire, went to the communion table, quher, in sight of all the people, laying his handes one the bible, he tooke his othe and said, all the thinges which befor I haue promised, I shall obserue and keipe; so helpe me God, and by the contents of this booke.

After the othe, he returned to his chaire of estait; and then wes sung the hym, “Veni Creator, Spiritus, &c.”

The hyme finished, the King kneeled at his foote-stoole, and the Archbischope said this prayer:—

“Wee beseiche thee, O Lord, holie Father, Almighty and euerlasting God, for this thy seruant, King Charles, &c.”

The prayer endit, the Letanie is sung and read by the Bischesopes of Murray and Rosse; and after the close therof, this wes addit: That it may pleis thee, keipe and strenthen in the trew worshipping of thee in righteousnesse and holines of lyffe, this thy seruant Charles, our King and Gouernour.

Then wes said this prayer:—

The Letanie thus endit, the Archbischope begane and said aloud: Lifte vpe your hearts and gine thankes wnto the Lord.

Anssuer,

Wee lift them vpe wnto thee, O, Lord; and to give thankes wnto him it is fitt and meitt.

Then said the Archbischope:

“It is werry meitt and right, and our bounden deutie so to doe, and at all tymes, and in all pairts, to give thankes to thee, O Lord, holie Father, Almighty and euerlasting God, the onlie strentch of thy chosen, and exalter of the humble, &c.”

This prayer endit, the King arrosse, and for a little tyme repossed himselfe in his chaire.

His reposse endit, he arrayses, goes to the communione table, and standing with his backe closse wnto it, is disrobed by James, Ducke of Lennox, Lord Grate Chamberlaine, of his vpper garment, his wnder coate hanging with the loupes opened in the places quher he wes to be anoynted.

Then comes the King to his chaire at the syde of the pulpitt, and sitts doun, wher ther wes a canopy supported ouer his head all the tyme of his anoynting.

The Archbis : of St. Andrewes first anoynted his Matie one the palmes of his handes, saying, In the name of the Father, of the Sone, and of the Holy Ghoste, (wich wordes he did repeat in all the seuerall anoyntinges,) and one the croune of the head, &c. Lett thesse handes be anoynted with oyle, as Kinges and propheitts haue beine anoynted ; and as Samuell did anoynt Dauid to be King, that thou mayest be blissed and established King in this kingdome ouer the people quhom the Lord God hath giuen thee to reule and gouerne, wich he may woscheffe to grant, quho, with the Father and the Holy Ghost, is one, and rainges in glorie euerlasting. Amen.

During this tyme the queire sung the anthem. Zadoc the preist, and Nathan the propheit, anoynt-ed Solomon King, and all the people rejoiced and said, God sau the King for euer.

Then the Archbis: said this prayer:—

The prayer endit, the Archbischope proceedit in the anoynting; first his breist, then betuix his shouderes; 3, bothe the poyntes of his shoulders; and lastlie, the boughes of his armes.

The anoynting finished, the Lord Chamberlaine did againe closse vpe the loupes of his Maties clothes whic wer opened, the Archbischope reiding this benedictione:—

This pronounced, a shallow quaiffe wes put vpon his Maties head by the Bischope of Dumblaine, Deane of the Chapell, becausse of the anoynting.

After whic the King goes to the communion table, and ther by the Grate Chamberlaine is invested with the robes royll of King Ja: 4, at whic the Archbischope said this prayer:—

“ O God, the King of kinges and Lord of lordes, by quhome kings doe rainge and lawgiuers doe

make good lawes, woschaffe, in thy fauor, to blisse this thy seruant Charles, &c."

Then wes the suord, by the Gentleman Vsher, brought to the Lyone, quho taking it, deliuered it to the Archbischope, quho laying it one the table, prayed in this manner :—

" Heir our prayers, wee beseiche thee, O Lord, and woscheffe, by the right hand of thy Maiesty, to blisse and sanctifie this suord quherwith thy seruant Charles desyris to be girt; that by the same he may defend churches, vidowes and orphanes, and all the people of God aganist the sauage cruelty of paganes and infidells; and that it may be a terror and fear to all thesse that lay one vait to doe mischiefe, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

Then did the Archbischope take the suord, and putting it into the Kinges hand, said :—

" Receave this kinglie suord, for the defence of the faith of Christ, and protection of his holy churche; and remember him of quhome the Psalmist did prophecie, saying, Gird thyselfe with thy suord upone thy thighe, O thou most mightie; and with thy suord execut equitie and justice, presew all hereticks and infidells, defend vidowes and orphanes, restore the Kinges that are gone to decay, manteine and defend the Kinges that are restored; and in good order destroy the grouthe of iniuitie, and take punishment of all iniustice; that you may be glorious in the triumphe of wertew, and rainge with him quhosse image you beare, for euer and euer. Amen."

Then did the Earle of Erole, Lord Grate Constable of Scotland, gird the suord about his Mates syde.

The King therafter returning to the chaire, quherin he wes annoynted, had the spurrs put one his heills by the Earle Marishall, and the sandalls by the Deane of the Chapell.

After this the Archbis: taking the croune in his hand, saying this prayer :—

" O God, the Croune of all the faithfull, quho doeth croune ther heades with pretious stones that trust in thee, blisse and sanctifie this croune, &c."

Then did the Archbis: put the croune one the the Kinges head, saying, " God croune thee vith a croune of glorie and righteousness, with the honor and wertew of fortitude, that by a right faith and manifold fruites of good vorkes, you may obteine the croune of ane everlasting kingdome, by the gifte of him quhosse kingdome endurethe for euer. Amen."

Then Lyone King of Armes, assisted by the Lord Grate Constable, causseth a herald call the quhole noblemen, eache according to his ranke, quho cam 3 and 3, and one ther knees, with ther handes tuoched the croune one the kinges head, and holding vpe ther handes, whill thesse vordes wer read by the Bischope of Dumblaine, (in respecte the Lyone could not doe it, being a calling vpe the nobilitie, with the Constable and Marishall,) “ So mot God helpe me, as I shall support thee;” and quhen they had done, they all did hold vpe ther handes, and smore to be loyall and trew subiects.

Then went the Earle Marishall to the foure corners of the stage, haning in his hand the obligatorie othe of the people, and read the samen to the Lyone King of Armes, quho proclaimed it to the people; they holding vpe ther handes, said Amen.

The othe wes thus:—

“ We sueare, and by the holding wpe our hands, doe promisse all subiectione and loyaltie to him, Charles, our dread souerane; and as wee visch God to be mercifull to ws, shall be to his Ma^te treu and faithfull, and be euer redey to bestow our landis, liues and quhat els God hath giuen ws for the defence of his sacred persone and croune.”

Then did the Earles and Viscounts put one ther crounes and coronetts, and the Lyone his croune; bot the Lordes and the eldest sones of Earles and Barrons of parliament did continew beare and vncovered.

This thus performed, then wes the anthem sung by the queire:—

the commandments of the Lord, to walke in his wayes, &c."

After this did the Lord Chamberlaine lousse the Kinges suord quherwith by the Constable he was girt; the Kinge taking it in his hand, offers it; the Archbischope layed it on the communion table; then did the Lord Constable redeeme it vith ane offring, and drauing it fourth, did carey the same naked befor the King.

Lykeweyes the Archbis: did take the scepter, and put it in the Kinges right hand, with thesse wordes:

" Receaue the scepter, the seinge of royall pouer, the rode of the kingdome, the rode of vertew, that thou mayest gouerne thyselfe aright, defend the holy churche, and all Christian people committed be God to thy charge, punishing the vicked and protecting the just."

Then said the Archbis: this prayer:—

" O Lord, the fontaine of all good thinges, and author of all geod proceidinges, wee beseiche thea, &c."

After this the Archbis: did blisse the King, saying—

" The Lord blisse thee, and keepe thee; and as he hath made thee King ouer his people, so he may still prosper thee in this world, and in the world to come make thee partaker of his everlasting felicitie. Amen."

Then did the King kisse the Archbischope and Bischopes assistants.

After wiche [the] King ascendit the stage, attendit by divers of the pryme officers and nobilitie, the queir singing, "Te Deum laudamus;" wiche being endit, the Archbischope did inthronise the King, saying:—

"Stand and hold fast from hencefourth the place quherof thou art the lawfull and righteous heire, by a longe and lineall successione of your fathers, wiche is now delivred to you by authoritie of Almighty God; and as you see the clergie come more neare the altar then vthers, so quhen it is conuenient you will remember to give them that honor and respecte wiche is dew unto ther places; that the Mediator of God and man may establishe you in this thron, and with him you may live and rainge for euer."

Then went the Lord Chancellour to the fourre corners of the stage, the Lyone King of Armes going befor him, and proclaimed his Maties pardon, with offer of the same wnder the grate seall of the kingdome, to all quho shall requyre it; vpon wiche the people made ther acclamations, craying, God save the King.

This done, the Lyone did call the Archbischopes and Bischopes, quho kneeled doun, and did ther homage, ther handes being betuix the Kinges

handes; and by the Earle Marishall thesse wordes
wer read wnto them :—

“ I, I. S. A. S. &c. shall be faithfull and trew, and seuth and treuth beare unto you, our souerane Lord and your heires, Kinges of Scotland; and I shall doe
and troulie acknoledge the seruice of the landis wch
I claime to hold of you in the right of the churche.
So God helpe me.”

Then did they againe kisse the Kinges lefft cheecke.

The King gaue the scepter to Johne, Earle of Rothes, quho caried it, and then went doun to his chaires; bot besor he remoued,

The Lyone King of Armes called the Lordes Temporall, quho, in lyke maner kneeling, and holding ther handes betwix the Kinges, thesse wordes by the Bischope [of] Dumblaine wes read wnto them :— “ I, B. become your leigeman, and treuth and faith shall beare wnto you, liue and dye aganist al maner of folkes quhomsoeuer in your seruice. So God me helpe.”

They did all of them kisse the Kinges lefft cheecke also.

Then did the King arraysse from his throne,
Rothes bearing the scepter besor him, and descendit from the stage to his chaire of stait ouer aganist the pulpit.

And then the Archbischope, going to the table,

did begin the communion, the King receauing it with grate reuerence; wch being endit, and the blissing
giuen,

The King, with the croune one his head, in his robe, and scepter in his hand, returned with his quhole traine in soleme maner (as he entred) to his palace: the trumpetts sounding, wer anssuered by the castell of Edinbrughe with the thundring of grate ordinance.

And immediatly after, his Mat^e begude to marche
from the stage, then wes the pices of gold and siluer coyned for that purpos flunge all the way as he went, by the Bischope of Murray, almoner for the tyme, among the people.

This coyne had the Kinges face one the one syde,
in his coronatione robes, with this circumscriptione:
Carolus Dei Gratia, Scotia, Angl: Fran: et Hyb:
Rex Coronat. 18 Junij, 1633; and one the rewersse,
a thissell, floured full in 3 grate stemes, and maney
small branches issewing from it, vith this dewisse:
Hinc nostræ creuere Rosæ.

[The preceding account of the Coronation of Charles the First, now for the first time printed, independently of being the fullest and most curious of any that has been transmitted to us, is the more entitled to our regard, as the solemnity happened at a period when the Monarch was a free agent, and the aspect of public affairs was calm and unclouded, and not distracted by the dissensions and troubles that attended the subsequent Coronation of Charles the Second, when that Prince was little better than a captive in the hands of a rebellious and overbearing faction. On this account, the former must now, strictly speaking, be regarded as the last regular and legitimate ceremonial of the kind; and combined with the relative deeds already given, must necessarily serve as the last precedent to determine the claims of those who may think themselves entitled to figure at a British Coronation, which, it cannot be disputed, is as much a Scottish as an English Coronation.

It may be only further remarked, that no other account of the most gorgeous and magnificent ceremonials in our history, and which reflects so much credit on the professional exertions of the Lord Lyon, is known any where to exist; and the only copy of it, (at the handwriting of Mylne, the Antiquarian,) is in the charter chest of Lord Douglas.]
